Hennessey guilty on Charge 1 and specification thereunder, and guilty on Specification 1 of Charge 2 and not guilty of Specification 2, Charge 2, and respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman Louis B. General Order No. 243.

Division commanders will make immediate requisition upon the Property Clerk for new form of signal service sheet (Form 70, specimen attached) in sufficient quantity for their respective use, also for the report of wagon drivers (Form 209, specimen attached). One signal sheet shall be used for each platoon. The names of route officers, cruising car officers, tagging officers and all officers who make "on duty" calls,—excepting lieutenants and sergeants, whose reports shall be made on the back of the sheet,—shall be typewritten or written in the appropriate column designated "Name of officer and route number," and duty calls shall be recorded in the appropriate columns.

This form provides for both duty calls and responses to flashing signals. Reports from boxes to flashing signals shall be recorded in the appropriate column.

Pay particular attention to footnote applying to flashing signal.

On the back of the sheet there is place to record the absence of an officer from his route, also the name of the covering officer. This shall be strictly carried out. Also, on the back of the sheet is an appropriate place for the names of lieutenants and sergeants on street duty which shall be written in, and their box and time of pulling shall be entered in the appropriate column.

In stations where the flashing signal system is installed, commanding officers shall make requisition for supply of form No. 210, namely, "Daily report of citizens' alarm and flash light service," and shall forward same in duplicate to the superintendent's office each morning with the morning report, as directed at the bottom of the form. Form 209, namely, "Report of wagon drivers," shall be carefully filled out and filed in the appropriate place.

It is understood that Stations 1, 4, 10, 11 and 12 are now using the new forms. If they are not doing so, they shall forthwith make requisition for a supply. The signal sheet shall be pasted in the regular signal sheet stub file.

When the various stations have received and put into use the new signal sheet, all of the old form of signal sheet shall be forwarded to the Property Clerk for disposition. The Property Clerk shall check carefully and see that each station is supplied with the new form of signal sheet, wagon drivers' report, and the daily report of flash signal service in such stations where the flash system is installed.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

General Order No. 244.

A trial board consisting of Captains McKinnon, Lewis and Kavanagh, having heard by reference a complaint made by William W. Livingston, captain, Division 4, against Roland G. Reid, patrolman, Division 4, for alleged violation of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification 1: In that Patrolman Roland G. Reid did not appear at the Central Municipal Court, at proper time, on Wednesday, June 28, 1933, to prosecute the cases of drunkenness and operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor against Walter C. Gilbert.

Specification 2: In that Patrolman Roland G. Reid, through his carelessness, caused a Judge of the Municipal Court, to dismiss an important case on account of the officer not being present, with evidence, witnesses present, etc., ready for a proper trial, causing reflection to be inferred, by his act, upon the members of the Boston Police Department as a whole,— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence presented finds the said Patrolman Roland G. Reid guilty of the charge and specifications thereunder. A neglect of duty such as that on which Patrolman Reid has been found guilty manifests an indifference and carelessness on the part of the officer comparable to that of allowing a prisoner in custody to escape. Coming as it does immediately following a special order from the superintendent on the subject, and having in mind the possible and deserved criticism from the courts and the Registrar of Motor Vehicles, as well as the humiliating duty which this conduct has imposed upon Patrolman Reid's commanding officer of writing explanations on the matter, the Board was inclined to recommend the maximum punishment duty, but as this is the first complaint against Patrolman Reid and in view of the fact that his commanding officer has recommended him as a good, conscientious police officer, the Board respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman Roland G. Reid be ordered to perform 105 hours of punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Roland G. Reid perform 105 hours of punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

A trial board consisting of Captains Campbell, Lewis and Claffin, reconvened on July 13, 1933, for the purpose of making a disposition in the case of Patrolman Cecil V. Craig of Division 12, formerly of Division 16, in accordance with General Order No. 139, regarding the complaint brought against him by Perley S. Skillings, captain, Division 16, for violation of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Violation of Rules and Regulations of Department.

Specification: In that on December 16, 1931, Patrolman Cecil V. Craig, while on duty, arrested one Thomas B. Knowles for drunkenness. During said arrest, Patrolman Craig was assaulted by Thomas B. Knowles and, further, the said Patrolman Cecil V. Craig accepted compensation for said assault, and released the said Thomas B. Knowles from any civil liability, all in violation of the Rules and Regulations of this department which require that any claim for damages for injuries received by any officer of the department against any person, a notice in writing of the same shall be given to his commanding officer by the officer making the same, and written request must be made to obtain such settlement,—has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"On September 15, 1932, the Trial Board heard all the evidence as presented by witnesses and found the said Patrolman Cecil V. Craig guilty as charged and recommended that he be ordered to reimburse the City of Boston to the extent of $800 which he accepted in violation of the Rules and Regulations of this department, and recommended that the case be continued for disposition.

"The Board respectfully recommends that Patrolman Craig be ordered to continue the payment of twenty-five dollars each month until the $800 is paid in full, and upon his failure to comply with this order respectfully recommends that he be suspended from duty without pay until payments which he has defaulted are paid."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Cecil V. Craig continue to make payments of twenty-five dollars each month until the $800 is paid in full, and that upon the failure of the said Patrolman Cecil V. Craig to comply with this order, that the said Patrolman Cecil V. Craig be suspended from duty, with loss of pay, until payments which have been defaulted are paid.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

LIBRARY PACKED AS DEPRESSION CONTINUES.

As the curve of business goes down, the curve of reading goes up! To those cities tempted to chop off the budgetary appropriation for libraries as the first move in a program of economy, this report from the American Library Association Bulletin may be interesting:

More than a million new readers have found their way into libraries in cities of over 200,000 population in the last two years, and the number of books borrowed from them has reached the unprecedented high of 157,000,000—more than 26,000,000 over figures for 1929.

MAYOR CURLEY RETURNS FROM TRIP ABROAD AND PLUNGES INTO WORK—IN RADIO BROADCAST TELLS OF PLANS FOR BENEFITING BOSTON BASED ON STUDIES AND OBSERVATIONS GAINED DURING EUROPEAN TRIP—PUBLIC CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM, ADVOCATED BEFORE DEPARTURE, TO BE UNDER WAY SOON, HE PROMISES, WITH IDEA THAT BOSTON AND AMERICA SHALL SOON RETURN TO PROSPERITY.

Mayor Curley, upon his return from Europe, speaking over Station WNAC, on July 26, said in part, as follows:

I am just as firmly convinced, after a journey through Italy, Switzerland, Austria and Germany, as I was when I advocated the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt last September that the only solution for unemployment in America is work and wages. Premier Mussolini recognized the necessity for this essential more than three years ago and the gratifying results that were everywhere present in Italy do not obtain at the present time in either Germany or Austria. In Italy, after a journey of more than one thousand miles through the cities and towns, I found in every section construction work of every conceivable character in progress, water mains and sewerage works being installed in various cities and towns, a road construction program, including widening of highways, being carried out pretty much everywhere and regardless of the size of the town or city a considerable amount of building construction. I found the country free of mendicants, and the people at work and contented.

Provided the program adopted in Italy three years ago had been put in operation in America at the same time there would be little if any unemployment today in our country. It is generally accepted that as a consequence of mass production, the needs of America can be supplied in a little more than six months. It must be apparent to every thoughtful citizen interested in the future of America and its people that the policy as advocated by President Roosevelt and as recommended by organized labor, through William Green, for a shorter working week and a shorter working day, must be speedily adopted if the debasing and degrading dole system today in operation in every city and town in America is to be ended. The American people are a pioneering stock, in the main, and seek only equal opportunity, and provided there is a choice between dole without working, and wages in return for labor, every individual worthy of the title "American citizen" would welcome the opportunity to earn wages through working. The dole system has reached such proportions in America that heroic measures such as have been recommended by President Roosevelt can no longer be delayed. Under the circumstances it is clearly the duty of every firm, corporation and employer in America to cooperate to the fullest degree in the program as announced by the President.

Public Construction Program.

Until the purchasing power of the millions now unemployed and of the millions who weekly husband their resources in anticipation that they may suffer the loss of their employment shall be once more restored to circulation, it is futile to talk of a return of prosperity.

A public construction program for Boston was determined upon and submitted to his Excellency the Governor some seven weeks ago, or prior to my departure upon the European trip. I shall devote my time and energy at once to the consummation of this program, and provided proper support is accorded the same, it will not be a difficult matter to provide opportunity for work for many thousands within the next ninety days. Similar programs undoubtedly will be adopted and put in operation in the various cities and towns of the United States, and provided support and cooperation are the watchwords there is no occasion for a fourth winter of depression in America. We could very profitably and wisely adopt here in the United States some of the measures that have been put in operation in Italy, and likewise many of the measures that have been put in operation in Switzerland, Austria and Germany. Italy, Germany and Austria suffered to a larger degree as a consequence of the World War than did the United States of America, and yet through wise planning and courageous execution the comfort, convenience and health of the people has been promoted in a larger measure than in our own country.

In Germany and in Austria great housing projects have been carried on during the past ten years, either upon money borrowed from the allied powers, as in the case of Germany, or by direct taxation as in the case of Austria. In the suburbs of Berlin modern housing has been provided for the people with every facility for the convenience and health of the occupants, and today are occupied by more than sixty thousand persons, and with a waiting list running into the thousands.

These houses have been constructed, in most cases, upon the apartment block plan with a quadrangular arrangement, with grass plots, fountains, and flower gardens in the rear, with a central laundry where the occupant of a flat is furnished up-to-date facilities which permit of a family wash being disposed of and completed in not more than three hours, and with a central kindergarten where the children are cared for by a nurse while the housewife is shopping or attending to social duties.

Single and two family houses of modern construction have been completed by the thousand each with a vegetable garden in the rear, and with a flower garden in the front, and at a rental so low as to make "slum" tenement property no longer advisable.

BOSTON, A PROSPEROUS CITY, IS SUBJECT OF RADIO ADDRESS BY ACTING MAYOR McGRATH, SPEAKING OVER CITY HALL STATION IN REGULAR WEEKLY BROADCAST—POINTS TO GROWTH OF CITY AND STRUGGLES OF PAST TO REACH ITS PRESENT EMINENCE AMONG AMERICAN MUNICIPALITIES.

The following is the radio address of Acting Mayor Joseph McGrath, delivered Monday, July 24:

Good Afternoon, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Radio Audience.

For the past four years we have been chasing the very elusive sprite "prosperity" down the lanes and byways charted for us by economic advisors, only to be told as we breathlessly reached a corner that prosperity was to be found just around the next corner. Now that we have turned a final corner, and can see prosperity waiting for us down the broad highway a few rods ahead, we may well pause for a brief time and study the sign posts on this road on which we find ourselves. "Boston," the sign post might read, "Founded in 1630, chartered as a city in 1822." For one hundred and eleven years, we reflect, this city of ours has flourished and prospered and has met its every financial and humanitarian obligation. Boston has achieved the rank of the leading shoe and leather center of the country, the leading wool market and the second textile center of the United States. We know that these achievements have meant the overcoming of great handicaps. Here in Massachusetts and New England we are far removed from the sources of the raw materials that supply our mills. We have been handicapped in our competition by less stringent labor laws, longer hours of labor, and lower wages in effect in other states. We realize, with a permissible glow of pride, that our leadership in the leather and textile industries is due to the energy, skill and persistence of our people. We have asked for no concessions here in New England, but the National Industrial Recovery Act in the textile codes recognizes and enforces as a rule for every part of the country the standard of a living wage, reasonable hours of labor and abolition of child labor—laws which Massachusetts has long imposed as a leader in humane labor statutes.

We have not gained our leadership in the textile field at the expense of warping the bodies of little children and stunting their growth. The new textile codes will help Massachusetts by removing the handicap of unfair competition against which we have struggled to hard-earned supremacy.

Everyone who has followed the discussion of the last few years concerning the Port of Boston realizes that our export trade has suffered because of unjust discrimination against Boston in through freight rates on railroads. We have here in Boston one of the finest natural harbors of the world—47 square miles of harbor, sheltered and spacious for anchorage, 40 miles of waterfront, with 6 miles fronting on 30 feet depth at low water. The Commonwealth Piers are among the largest and best constructed of ocean piers in the world. The dry dock in South Boston is perhaps the largest dry dock in the world. Thirty-eight foreign steamship lines and two coast-wise lines have established regular sailings to and from Boston. Boston is many miles nearer Europe than any other large American port. We rank second among the ports of the country in the value of our imports. We rank fifth among the ports of the country in the total value of our foreign trade. But in 1928—the last normal trade year—we ranked as low as twenty-second among the cities of the country in the value of our export trade. Can any figures illustrate more strikingly the full measure of injustice meted out to our City of Boston by discrimination against us in through railroad freight rates? We stand second in the value of our imports, proving that importers recognize our unparalleled advantages as a port of entry. We stand twenty-second in the value of our export trade because of unjust freight rates on goods coming to our city by rail. May we not hope that the coordinator of railroads, Mr. Joseph Eastman, our neighbor, who has first-hand knowledge concerning the Port of Boston, will see to it that Boston gets a new deal and a fair deal in railroad freight rates, for the future of Boston is dependent in large measure on its port.

BOSTON'S ACHIEVEMENTS.

As we pause to view with pride Boston's many outstanding achievements, we are more and more impressed by the fact that the city has had many handicaps to overcome in obtaining recognition of our right place in the sun. Within a radius of 15 miles of the State House are fourteen cities and twenty-nine towns comprising in its most inclusive sense the district known as Metropolitan or "Greater" Boston. Many of the citizens of these forty-three municipalities come in daily by rail and by automobile to earn their living in Boston. Boston is the financial and shopping center of this entire metropolitan district. Yet each of these forty-three municipalities has a separate city or town government and Boston's taxes are collected entirely from the twenty-two wards of Boston—and the city is credited with but 811,000 people, which gives far from a true picture of the enormous consuming power of the community. If each of these forty-two adjacent cities and towns were entirely self-supporting, Boston might view with complacency their political separation from their center of economic well-being. But Boston is forced to assume a heavy liability in the form of annual assessments for sinking funds and interest for the maintenance of metropolitan parks, sewers and water supply systems. Truly we are a prosperous Boston to which the surrounding cities and towns look for financial help as the countries of Europe looked to the United States in the years following the World War.

Perhaps nothing speaks more forcefully for the good management and zeal of those entrusted with the conduct of the affairs of our city than the fact that our tax rate in spite of the additional imposed burdens of which we have spoken is lower than that of many of the cities and towns of Metropolitan Boston. The increase in our tax rate has been due entirely to the great increase in the cost of financing public welfare—an expense which should be greatly diminished with the recovery of industry and employment.

TAX-EXEMPT REAL ESTATE.

As government officials everywhere are making a more careful study of ways in which the tax rate may be decreased, their attention is arrested by the vast amounts of valuation of tax-exempt real estate. In 1929 the value of taxable real estate in Boston was roughly $1,806,000,000, while the value of tax-exempt real estate was over $411,000,000. This means that approximately 18 per cent of the city's real estate, property belonging to churches, schools, institutions, the federal, state, county, and city governments, bring no tax return. The time has arrived when we should give careful study towards the formulating of a more equitable system of taxation by levying a tax on some of these tax-exempt properties, owned but not occupied for the purpose intended. It is a striking fact that here in Boston the value of this tax-exempt property now equals the total value of the taxable property in thirteen of our twenty-two wards.

The momentum of the upswing of business so happily inaugurated is already speeding up Boston's many industries. We know now that severe as the depression has seemed to us here in Boston we were not nearly so hard hit as other cities which depended almost wholly upon one major industry. We can be thankful that the ingenuity and resourcefulness of our local business leaders brought to us many advantages of a diversity of industries. We need only to read the list of leading manufactures and industries of our city to be impressed with their great diversity. We had in Boston in 1928, twenty-one different types of industry, the annual value of the product of each amounting to $5,000,000 or more. We have not placed our industrial eggs all in one basket here in Boston. Our industrial leaders have invested capital in a wide range of industries, and our thousands of skilled laborers and mechanics—many of them home owners—have contributed a large share towards Boston prosperity.

The huge volume of Boston's business is shown by the amount of bank clearings—$27,600,000,000 in 1929. The Boston Clearing House ranks fourth among the leading cities of the country in total clearings.

Naturally transportation facilities have kept pace with our great volume of business. Boston is served by three railroads carrying passengers and goods and trans-shipping to and from our ocean steamers. Our East Boston Airport with regular passenger and mail service offers speed of communication with New York and other cities. The Boston Elevated Railway, operated through an area of 94 square miles, furnishes suburban Boston with excellent passenger service. Underground rapid transit is well advanced.

WEATHERED MANY STORMS.

Three years ago Boston celebrated the 300th anniversary of its founding. For more than three hundred years our city has flourished and grown strong. We have met and weathered many storms and adversities—fires, panics and hard times. These have been tests that brought out the admirable character traits of our people—their energies, resourcefulness, patience, courage and shrewd common sense. Boston has produced great citizens. Of the sixty-five illustrious citizens whose names are inscribed in the American Hall of Fame in New York City, twenty-seven were natives or citizens of Boston.

Boston is renowned for its great educational institutions, for its great historical background. But have we sufficiently stressed to the country and to the world Boston's importance and her many advantages as a business center? Few cities in the country have a larger consuming public or a better market for their products. Within a radius of 15 miles from the State House there live nearly two million people whose shopping center is Boston. From these people are recruited a larger number of skilled and efficient executives, office workers and laborers than from any other areas of the country of equal size. The thrift and foresight of our citizens have resulted in a great accumulation of capital. Boston ranks high among large cities in its per capita property value.

Our governments, both state and municipal, have ever been alert to foster trade. Our sound insurance and banking laws in Massachusetts are a model to the country. Millions of dollars have been expended for roads and bridges that are not surpassed anywhere and transportation facilities of all kinds are constantly being improved.

Boston has never resorted to the expediency of refunding its temporary borrowing and all through the years has never failed to pay its notes when they fell due. In the year 1927 Boston's net debt per capita was $126 as compared to the net debt per capita in New York City of $233.

It has been said that the citizens of most of the cities and towns of our country transplant themselves contentedly to other places but the Bostonian always looks forward to some day going home to Boston, to his native city, the city of culture, the Athens of America, the Hub of the Universe, our city, prosperous Boston.

Good afternoon, and thank you.

MONTHLY CHECK-UP ON WELFARE AID SIGNATURES.

Acting Mayor McGrath, on July 21, issued the following statement:

An informal conference was held at the Mayor's office today, at which were present Secretary Walter V. McCarthy and Daniel Murphy of the Welfare Department, City Auditor Carven and the Acting Mayor, for the purpose of determining what week would be advisable for starting a check-up of the entire system of welfare payments.

For the present it was agreed that in one week of each month, which would give twelve complete check-ups in the course of a year, in which a duplicate pay order with the signature and the present day address in each instance would be obtained from the recipient and presented to the paymaster. This duplicate pay voucher will constitute an acknowledged receipt by the recipient of the amount received. This duplicate pay voucher will be forwarded to the Statistics Department at City Hall and will afford them an opportunity to keep up to date the record cards submitted by the Welfare Department in connection with the municipal index system which was initiated a year ago.

In order to print the forms necessary and to give the Welfare Department ample time to properly prepare for this new check-up it was agreed that the week of August 7 to August 12 be the week when this work shall start.

It is hoped that this method may eliminate the necessity of employing additional paymasters and will result in no additional inconvenience to the recipient.

AUTHORITY TO DO WORK.

The Acting Mayor has approved the request of the Public Works Department for authority to resurface with asphalt macadam (penetration) Aspinwall road, Dorchester, from Talbot avenue to Washington street, with department forces, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $3,000.

HEALTH STANDARD HIGH.

Perhaps no section of Europe has suffered in larger measure than Vienna, and yet the health of the people has never reached a higher standard than during the past five years. This in large measure may be traced to the housing program that has been carried out in this city, through the development of swimming pools and parks for children and adults everywhere.

I discussed the situation at great length with the burgomaster of Vienna and with the head of the Health Service. While the adoption of a similar program in America, such as is now in operation in Austria, might appear somewhat revolutionary, if it benefits the general health of the community it would justify accordingly its consideration. The housing program has been carried through with money raised by taxation and the occupants are required to pay a nominal rental which is applied towards the ultimate purchase of the home. Perhaps nowhere in Europe has the advantage of sunshine been stressed to a greater degree than in Germany and in Austria. It is not an uncommon sight to find in every section of Vienna thousands of men, women and children in their bathing suits at one of the wading pools along the banks of one of the rivers, getting all the benefit which is possible to derive from sunshine and fresh air. The increase in the health of the people and the decrease in the mortality rate, in the opinion of the director of public health in Vienna, is due almost wholly to the opportunities that have been provided for recreation and for the housing of the people. Surely, if these nations which have suffered so greatly as a consequence of the World War can carry on a welfare program such as is everywhere in evidence, it should be possible for America to undertake a similar work for the benefit of the American people.

The opportunity for improving the appearances of the approaches to American cities might well be undertaken as a means of providing work for the unemployed and, in addition, promoting general health.

In every section of Germany, Switzerland and Italy which it was our privilege to visit, instead of the unsightly cinder piles adjacent to the railroad lines, we found grass growing and flowering shrubs, and throughout Switzerland and the major portion of Italy, the railroad line, electrically operated, grade crossing largely abandoned or abolished through the installation of bridges, thereby contributing to the protection of the limb and life of the pedestrian or occupant of a vehicle.

President Roosevelt has issued a clarion call for faith, confidence and courage, and provided the support is accorded him which is essential for the well-being of the entire nation, we should speedily emerge from this depression and be permitted to enjoy in a larger measure the opportunities which the adoption of his program will unfold for us.

It is a sincere joy to return to America, benefited by the observations which I have been permitted to make during my short stay abroad, and the adoption of many of which I am quite certain cannot be other than helpful for what, in my opinion, is the best country in the entire world, the United States of America.

ECONOMIC PLANTS USED IN INDUSTRY MADE TO GROW IN PUBLIC GARDEN. THIRTY-FOUR VARIETIES ON DISPLAY ATTRACTING WIDE ATTENTION BECAUSE OF SUCCESS.

Park Commissioner William P. Long and Superintendent of Parks Richard J. Hayden have grown a group of economic plants, in the Public Garden, the display of which is attracting attention from floriculturists and horticulturists all over America. The group includes economic plants used in industry in all parts of the world.

It has taken two years to make the collection and to acclimate the plants for an outdoor exhibition in New England.

Superintendent Hayden began the work of perfecting the garden two years ago. He has had the majority of the specimens at the city greenhouses since the first of the year, training them for their showing.

The plot is on the left of the Washington Monument as one approaches the monument from the Garden bridge. A large keyboard has a complete history of each plant and tiny green iron markers designate where they are located.

The thirty-four plants in the order in which they are marked from 1 to 34 are:

KEY TO ECONOMIC PLANTS.

No. 1.—BLACK PEPPER. (PIPER NIGRA.)

Is a woody climber that produces fruit of yellowish red when ripe. The unripe fruit constitutes the black pepper of commerce, while the white pepper is the ripe berry from which the epicarp is removed.

No. 2.—PEANUTS. (ARACHIS HYPOGAEA.)

Are indigenous to Brazil. They are cultivated extensively in most of the Southern States and in Southern Europe. They belong to the group of plants which have geocarpic fruit.

No. 3.—TI. (DRACAENA TERMINALIS.)

The common name Ti is used by the inhabitants of New Zealand for this member of the lily family. A spirituous liquor is obtained from the roots of this plant by distillation. It has thick, fleshy roots, which contain saccharine matter, from which the natives extract sugar.

No. 4.—PINEAPPLE. (ANANAS SATIVA.)

Is a native of Brazil, and is now cultivated in warm countries of the Eastern and Western Hemispheres. The juicy fruit of this plant is borne in the center of a rosette of spiny, rigid leathery leaves. The fruit is eaten fresh or canned.

No. 5.—GINGER PLANT. (ZINGIBER OFFICINALE.)

Of Oriental origin, the hot pungent aromatic rootstock of this plant is used in medicine and cookery. The unscraped rootstock is known as black ginger; the scraped and peeled rootstock white ginger; the dried rootstock is used in medicine as a stimulant.

No. 6.—COCA. (ERYTHROXYLON COCA.)

The official coca leaves are obtained from this Peruvian shrub. The leaves are gathered by hand three times a year, and it is estimated that forty million pounds are annually produced. The shrubs have been in cultivation in Peru since prehistoric time, its leaves are universally chewed by the natives, both men and women, for its stimulating effect.

No. 7.—SILK OAK. (GREVILLEA ROBUSTA.)

A tree of the Protea family, native of Queensland; it attains a height of from fifty to one hundred and fifty feet, with a diameter of from six to eight feet; its timber is very valuable.

No. 8.—VANILLA PLANT. (VANILLA PLANIFOLIA.)

Is an epiphytic orchid, indigenous to Mexico, and extensively cultivated in tropical countries, especially Mexico and Java.

No. 9.—RAMIE. (BOEHMERIA NIVEA.)

Ramie is the longest and strongest fiber yet known, single fibers are frequently over three feet long. It is sometimes called "Chinese Hemp" and the cloth made from it is variously known as "Chinese linen and linen silk." If the fiber could be extracted cheaply and freed from the gummy substances with which it is surrounded it would profitably replace both cotton and linen. Experiments to this end have been under way for many years, and recently led to much publicity about the plant on the part of the "technocrats." The fiber is in the base of the stem.

No. 10.—NEW ZEALAND FLAX. (PHORMIUM TENAX.)

TWO OF EVERY 1,000 INHABITANTS ARE POLICE EMPLOYEES IN THE AVERAGE LARGE CITY.

Jersey City has the greatest percentage of police defense of any of the cities of over 250,000 population reporting to the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, according to statements published in a recent issue of the monthly publication, "Uniform Crime Reports." In the total population of 316,715, there are 1,154 Police Department employees, or 3.6 per 1,000 inhabitants.

Birmingham, Ala., is at the other end of the scale among the cities of over 250,000, with one police department employee per 1,000 inhabitants, or a total of 260 in a population of 259,678.

Boston, with a population of 781,188, has 2,579 police department employees, or 3.3 per 1,000. Newark, N. J., with 442,337 inhabitants, has 1,383 police employees, or 3.1 per 1,000. Chicago has only two per 1,000, there being a total of 6,742 police employees for the city's 3,276,438 people.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

THE METROPOLITAN DISTRICT. With Its 43 Municipalities.

Consists in the most inclusive sense of forty-three municipalities, including Boston, or fourteen cities and twenty-nine towns, all within fifteen miles of the State House but not yet consolidated in one complete governmental system. The seven cities in the first zone, i. e., adjacent to Boston, are these, viz., Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Newton, Quincy, Revere and Somerville; the six cities in the second zone, not adjacent, are Lynn, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Waltham and Woburn. The six adjacent towns are Brookline, Dedham, Milton, Needham, Watertown and Winthrop; the twenty other towns are Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Canton, Cohasset, Dover, Hingham, Hull, Lexington, Nahant, Norwood, Reading, Saugus, Stoneham, Stoughton, Swampscott, Wakefield, Walpole, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth and Winchester. North and northwest of Boston are situated eleven of the cities and twelve of the towns; south and southwest, two cities and seventeen towns. Norwood, Stoughton and Walpole were admitted into the South System of the Metropolitan Sewerage District in 1928.

UNITED STATES FOREIGN TRADE IN SILVER.

Although the United States is the second largest producer of silver, its exports of the metal exceed total annual production according to the United States Department of Commerce reports. Much silver is received for refining or transshipment. Most of this imported silver comes from Mexico, as evident from the following import figures, in millions of dollars: Mexico, 40.5 in 1929, 24.9 in 1930, and 11 in the first eight months of 1931; Canada, 6.4, 6.1, and 2.5, respectively; Peru, 10.4, 5.9, and 1.6; Chile, 2.3, 1.8, and 0.6; and all countries, 63.9, 42.8, and 18.3.

United States exports of silver go chiefly to China (including Hong Kong), British India, and the United Kingdom (whence they are sold largely to other countries). Shipments to leading countries and the total are summarized in millions of dollars, for 1929, 1930, and the first eight months of 1931, as follows: China and Hong Kong, 64.6, 37.8, and 8.5, respectively, of which China accounted for 61.8, 31.8, and 7.7; British India, 8.9, 9.6, and 4.6; the United Kingdom, 0.1, 2.1, and 3.4; Canada, 2.4, 1.8, and 1.1; Mexico, 5.2, 1.4, and 0.7; Germany, 1.5, 1, and 0.7; and all countries, 83.4, 54.2, and 19.2.

RECREATION, ADEQUATE AS TO KIND AND AVAILABILITY.

Although the ratio of park acreage to population has been used as the simplest measure of the extent to which cities provide areas for the recreation of their people, it is by no means an accurate basis for determining this. If most of the total acreage is in one large park, if the parks are poorly distributed, or if they do not provide various types of recreation facilities, the park system may be inefficient even though the acreage is large. The efficiently planned park and recreation system will involve balanced relationship and well-distributed location of several types of properties, namely, children's playgrounds, neighborhood playfield parks, neighborhood parks, reservations, boulevards, and parkways.

ADVANCE PAYMENT OF TAXES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 29, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am advised by the Corporation Counsel that the order passed by your honorable body on June 26, 1933, for the acceptance of chapter 99 of the Acts of 1933, concerning advance payment of taxes, does not come within the class of matters upon which the Acting Mayor can properly act.

Accordingly I have returned the order to the City Clerk without action on my part. The opinion forwarded at my request by the Corporation Counsel is transmitted herewith.

Respectfully,
JOSEPH McGRATH,
Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, June 29, 1933.
Hon. Joseph McGrath,
Acting Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—You have asked me to advise you as to what authority you have as Acting Mayor to take action on the following order passed by the City Council on June 26, 1933:

"Ordered, That chapter 99 of the Acts of 1933, entitled 'An Act Providing for Advance Payments on Account of Taxes for the Years Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-three and Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-four in Certain Cities and Towns,' be, and hereby is, accepted."

Section 47 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909 (Amended City Charter) provides in referring to the duties of the person who is the Acting Mayor of the city as follows:

"The person upon whom such duties shall devolve shall be called 'acting mayor' and he shall possess the powers of mayor only in matters not admitting of delay, but shall have no power to make permanent appointments except on the decess of the mayor."

You will observe, therefore, that the sole question confronting you as Acting Mayor is whether or not you are required to take some action with reference to this order of the City Council because the subject matter is one that does not admit of delay.

The legislation which is the subject of the City Council's order became effective as of March 28, 1933. The Mayor of Boston was cognizant of the existence of this legislation from its effective date and took no action to present it to the City Council for its consideration. In other words, the Mayor did not deem it expedient that the city government give its approval to this legislation and it must be assumed, therefore, that it was his desire that the city government refrain from adopting and accepting this legislation.

The provision of the City Charter with reference to the duties and powers of the Acting Mayor in my opinion cannot be construed as authorizing the Acting Mayor to commit the city to a financial policy which is contrary to that adopted by the Mayor of the city. It is only in cases of emergency or necessity that the Acting Mayor is called upon to commit the city government to a policy during the absence of the Mayor of the city. The fact that the City Council on June 26 approved the legislation by its order does not, in my opinion, change the situation. Before a matter may be determined as being one that does not admit of delay it must be apparent that it is necessary and vital to the well-being and proper administration of the city government or of such an emergency nature as to require the Acting Mayor to take action immediately. In my opinion the order of the City Council is not such a matter.

I must advise you, therefore, that you have no legal authority to take any action whatsoever in the premises and that since, in my opinion, you are not authorized under the provisions of the chapter to either approve or disapprove the order adopted by the Council, you should return the same to the City Clerk without further action on your part.

Very truly yours,
SAMUEL SILVERMAN,
Corporation Counsel.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, may I ask the status of the action of our body on June 26 relative to the act?

President McGRATH—That the acceptance failed, action not having been completed before July 1.

Coun. KELLY—Well, now, Mr. President, I want to take exception—and I want it to be a matter of public record that I do take exception—to the ruling of the Corporation Counsel, Samuel Silverman. This act had to be accepted by the Council and by the Mayor—through you Mr. President, acting in the capacity of the Mayor in the Mayor's absence—before July 1. It seems to me mighty funny that the Mayor did not send that particular act in to the Council. Due to the fact that I carefully go over matters pertaining to the city government, I discovered that this matter was not brought before the Council for action, and when it was so brought it was accepted. In my opinion, this, being an emergency act, comes within the powers of the Acting Mayor. That is, in acting upon this he is acting upon matters that do not permit of delay. It is certainly a shame that the Corporation Counsel has made such a ruling, invalidating the intent of the Legislature to grant relief to the overburdened taxpayers of Boston, through their being allowed to pay their taxes in advance and get a suitable amount of interest, to be determined by the City Treasurer and the Mayor. But this act is now being thrown down, by action operating the same as a veto by the Mayor, putting the City of Boston of this year at least, and perhaps next year, in the hands of the banks. The banks of Boston can charge on the loans we have to make between now and the time when our taxes come due, October 5, as much as they please. That is, the people of Boston are to be placed in the power of the banks. If the Mayor was sincere he would have sent it in before. The Corporation Counsel, created by the Mayor of Boston and receiving $10,000 per year of the taxpayers' money, is not acting in the best interests of the taxpayers of Boston when he renders an opinion that you have not the power as Acting Mayor in such an emergency to sign such an act.

STANDEES IN MOTOR VEHICLES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 6, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I respectfully submit for your consideration, attached record of action of the Department of Public Utilities of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts of June 30, 1933, relative to the petition of the Boston Elevated Railway Company for the alteration, amendment or revocation of certain rules and regulations governing the operation of motor vehicles under chapter 159A of the General Laws adopted by the licensing authority of the City of Boston, and communication, dated July 5, 1933, directed to me by the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, and relative to the above.

Respectfully,
JOSEPH McGRATH,
Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, July 5, 1933.
Hon. Joseph McGrath,
Acting Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—As requested by you, I appeared before the Department of Public Utilities and objected to the allowance of the petition of the Boston Elevated Railway Company that standees be permitted in buses operated by the company in the City of Boston. The Railway Company sought to nullify the existing ordinance adopted by the city government which forbids standing in buses used by the Railway Company. I am inclosing for your consideration the decision of the Department of Public Utilities and would respectfully suggest that the same be forwarded to the City Council for its consideration.

Very truly yours,
SAMUEL SILVERMAN,
Corporation Counsel.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
Department of Public Utilities,
June 30, 1933.

(D.P.U. 4666.)

Petition of Boston Elevated Railway Company that the department alter, amend or revoke certain rules and regulations governing the operation of motor vehicles under chapter 159A of the General Laws adopted by the licensing authority of the City of Boston.

(D.P.U. 4667.)

Petition of Boston Elevated Railway Company that the department alter, amend or revoke certain rules and regulations governing the operation of motor vehicles under chapter 159A of the General Laws adopted by the licensing authority of the City of Cambridge.

These are petitions of the Boston Elevated Railway Company that the department alter, amend or revoke certain rules and regulations governing the operation of motor vehicles under chapter 159A of the General Laws adopted by the licensing authorities of the City of Boston and the City of Cambridge. The rules and regulations objected to are those which prohibit the standing of passengers in motor vehicles operated by the company. The rules of this department regulating the operation of motor vehicles, operated under a certificate of public convenience and necessity, authorize standees to a limited extent under certain conditions. The company seeks to have the rules adopted by this department apply to their vehicles operated in Cambridge and Boston. The standees are permitted, in accordance with the rules of this department, in all other communities served by the system. Repeated applications have been made to various city councils of both Cambridge and Boston for a modification of the present rules.

The City of Boston was represented at the hearing by its Corporation Counsel and the City of Cambridge by its City Solicitor. Both remonstrated against this department dealing with the question until application had been made to the present city councils of the respective cities, it being pointed out that no application had ever been made to either by the company.

We have some sympathy with the company's petition, but, on the other hand, we think that the objection made by the Corporation Counsel and the City Solicitor is entitled to weight. As a consequence we think these two petitions should be dismissed without prejudice, with the understanding that the company may reapply if the present city councils of Boston and Cambridge refuse its application or unreasonably delay to act thereon.

Accordingly, it is Ordered, That the petitions be and hereby are dismissed.

By order of the department,
ALLAN BROOKS,
Administrative Secretary.

STANDEES IN BUSES.

The following was received:

Boston Elevated Railway,
Public Trustees,
Park Square Building,
Boston, July 6, 1933.

To the Honorable City Council,
Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen,—In behalf of the Board of Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company I am writing to request that the rules and regulations governing the operation of motor buses of the City of Boston be amended so as to permit carrying standing passengers in conformity with the rule of the Department of Public Utilities.

This rule (49) reads as follows:

49. Standees. Passengers in excess of 25 per cent above the seating capacity of a motor bus shall not be habitually carried where the inside length of the bus is less than 23 feet, or the inside height is less than 74 inches, or the width of the aisle is less than 18 inches. Passengers in excess of 40 per cent above the seating capacity of a motor bus shall not be habitually carried where the dimensions are in excess of the foregoing. Where the number of passengers regularly applying for transportation exceeds that above provided for, it shall be the duty of the owner to furnish additional facilities to carry such passenger. In no event shall standing passengers be carried for a distance in excess of 15 miles.

In the practical operation of motor bus lines of this railway there are periods of time where fluctuation in movement of passengers for short distances make it impossible to operate buses in sufficient number to provide seats for all except at a greatly increased expense. We believe that undoubtedly passengers prefer to stand rather than to be left on streets or at terminals waiting for another bus.

The ordinances in the towns of Arlington, Belmont, Brookline and Watertown, and the cities of Medford, Malden and Somerville provide for standing passengers to meet the very conditions to which I am calling attention.

It is a manifest burden upon the taxpayer under present conditions to carry the expense involved of additional operators, buses, etc., to provide seats for all in the rush-hour periods; and it is impossible to forecast fluctuations in riding at any time. The inconvenience now caused passengers of waiting for following buses can be obviated if the ordinance is modified to coincide with the regulations of the Department of Public Utilities now in effect.

It would seem that the action requested would be in the interest of those who ride as well as the taxpayers.

Accordingly the Board of Trustees request that section 101 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 of the City of Boston be amended to read substantially as follows:

Section 101. Passengers in excess of 25 per cent above the seating capacity of any such motor vehicle shall not be habitually carried where the inside length of such vehicle is less than 23 feet, or the inside height is less than 74 inches, or the width of the aisle is less than 18 inches. Passengers in excess of 40 per cent above the seating capacity of any such motor vehicle shall not be habitually carried where the dimensions are in excess of the foregoing. Where the number of passengers regularly applying for transportation exceeds that above provided for, it shall be the duty of the owner to furnish additional facilities to carry such passengers. In no event shall standing passengers be carried for a distance in excess of fifteen miles. No person shall stand or sit upon any running board, steps, fender, dash or hood thereof, or ride on such motor vehicle outside the body thereof; provided, however, that in addition to the number of passengers which such motor vehicle is permitted to carry, children under seven years of age may be carried therein in arms or seated on the laps of adult persons accompanying them.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD DANA,
Executive Vice-President and General Manager.

President McGrath—The matter will be referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, before the matter is referred to its appropriate committee, might I say that I attended the hearing before the Public Utilities Commission when the Boston Elevated tried to get the Public Utilities to so amend its rules that it might take from cities and towns the right to regulate its standees. At that time it was suggested on behalf of this Council by your humble servant, that we felt, in view of the fact that there had been no request of this nature since 1930, that we ought to have the right to pass on it first, to at least consider it. In view of the fact also that in 1930, as well as in 1929 or 1928, when this matter came before this honorable body, we saw fit in our judgment to reject it. I might suggest that when it is referred to the Committee on Ordinances they consider the advisability of holding a public hearing to get the views of those in our respective districts as to whether it meets with their approval or otherwise, and after finding out the wishes of those whom we represent we can act accordingly. I say this bearing in mind the fact that in my district there are very few buses; but I do feel, in view of the discussions we had in the years when this was requested of us, we ought to get the opinions of those interested in our respective districts. We can in that way be guided by their wisdom. I suggest to the Chairman of the Committee on Ordinances, therefore, that when the hearing is held it be in the form of a public hearing.

The matter was referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

TEMPORARY LOAN ORDER.

President McGrath called up, under unfinished business, No. 4 on the calendar, viz.:

4. Ordered, That to provide temporarily money to meet the appropriations for the financial year 1933, the City Treasurer issue and sell, at such time and in such amounts as he may deem best, notes or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston not exceeding five million dollars in the total, in anticipation of the taxes of the current municipal year; that all such notes or certificates of indebtedness be dated the day the money for the same is received, be made payable with the interest thereon within one year of their date from the taxes of the year 1933, and bear interest from their date until the same are made payable at such rate as the City Auditor, the City Treasurer and the Mayor may determine.

On June 26, 1933, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 19, nays 0.

LOAN FOR WEST ROXBURY PARKWAY.

President McGrath called up, under unfinished business, No. 5 on the calendar, viz.:

5. Ordered, That the sum of $24,000 be, and the same hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, for West Roxbury Parkway, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount.

On June 26, 1933, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 19, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 20, nays 0.

CONSTABLES' BOND APPROVED.

The constables' bonds of Kenneth Blennerhassett and William H. Kenney, having been duly approved by the City Treasurer, were received and approved.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. LYNCH, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted a report recommending the passage of an order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of July, 1933.

Report accepted; said order passed.

CONSTRUCTION OF MUNICIPAL POWER PLANT.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of applying some portion of the money made available by Federal Loan to the construction of a municipal power plant, to the end that all streets and highways of the city will be properly illuminated at the lowest possible cost to the citizens and taxpayers of the city.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, according to the best available information, we learn that the Federal Government will probably approve of a loan for a Federal power plant. There has recently been a lot of activity along the line of the advisability of our establishing a municipal electric light plant, sufficiently large to cover the needs of the city in respect to its buildings and the lighting of its streets. In an effort to save $100,000 this year we cut off in our streets one light in every three, in every section where there are lights. In view of the fact that we have in consequence received so many complaints in all sections, and having in mind the amount of money that will probably be available to the city through Federal loans, it seems that we might use such money for the erection of a plant which would light our streets and our municipal buildings.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RESTORING FULL CITY LIGHTING SYSTEM.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Acting Mayor be requested to provide the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, to be applied solely to restoring the lighting system of the City of Boston to full strength as it was before the recent darkening of one third of the street lights.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I have introduced this order feeling that in this matter we are facing a real emergency. There have been so many complaints in my district, as well as in other districts of Boston, that I think there is evidently a demand on the part of the people of this city that the lighting of our streets be put back in its full strength. I believe if there is anything that will relieve the different parts of our community from a serious handicap that exists at the present time, it is this order, and I hope that the Acting Mayor will take cognizance of the fact.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, two or three days ago I forwarded a letter to you calling upon you, as Acting Mayor of Boston, to have an immediate investigation made to determine whether or not the diminution of the lights in our streets through lessening of their number has made it unsafe for the people to go about after dark. At the same time I sent a letter to the Commissioner of Police, Mr. Hultman, asking him to make a survey from the police standpoint and to render an opinion in the matter, in the exercise of his police power. I maintain, Mr. President, that the Mayor or Boston should place the lights back as they were before the economy order went through. I have received hundreds and hundreds of complaints out in Ward 17, where the problem is perhaps more serious than in many of the other wards, due to the fact that my ward is made up almost entirely of residences, there not being many business centers in the ward. I think it is absurd for the Mayor of Boston or any other officials in charge to take away service of this kind, to which the people are absolutely entitled. In the first place, the situation in Dorchester, as in other sections, is more serious than it has been in the past from the crime standpoint. Only recently we have called upon the police authorities to send more officers to the Dorchester district, and the demand for action is continually becoming more and more urgent, as criminals thrive on darkness. I have had letters from constituents of mine, from women who are afraid to leave their homes after dark, who are afraid to send their children to the stores to obtain provisions for the following day; letters pointing out the situation in the neighborhood of Dorchester avenue, a portion of which is now under construction, where conditions are so bad on account of lack of light that it is almost impossible to go back and forth without the risk of breaking your neck, and where the lights are so poor that you take your life in your hands. I have had many letters from mothers telling me of their children being molested by young men in the vicinity of Dorchester Park, where there is a considerable space not lighted at all; that many young men use that section for a hangout and many young ladies going to and from their homes or to and from church, or attending other functions, are insulted by young fellows, who can so easily get away in the darkness that it is impossible for police officers 200 or 300 yards away to see what is going on. I think it is a disgrace for the City of Boston to be known throughout the land as the city of darkness. Chicago is the windy city, Pittsburgh the smoky city, and Boston is fast acquiring the name of the city of darkness. Mr. President, it is up to you as Acting Mayor of the City of Boston to take some action in this matter. I believe, as an emergency, it clearly comes within the scope of your power and that as Mayor of this city it is your duty to restore these lights.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I would like to register my protest in the matter of the lighting situation. I, too, have received numerous complaints about the streets throughout the city being dark. I understand that in the surrounding cities and towns the lights are all turned on, and I see no reason why the City of Boston should have to suffer from the turning off of street lights. So I shall certainly register my vote as in favor of turning on the street lights.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, while I agree with the purpose of the order offered by Councilor Murray, I simply rise to state that I believe under the circumstances the burden of blame for not turning on the lights should not be directly made at the door of the Acting Mayor of Boston. We have just heard the opinion given by the Corporation Counsel. I would state that the Mayor of Boston is very familiar with the situation. While I was not desirous of spoiling his vacation, I did send a radiogram to his vessel shortly after he sailed, telling the Mayor the true circumstances and facts in regard to the lighting situation in Boston. I say that something has to be done. Every organization in Boston is up in arms in this matter. I would also say to you, Mr. President, as Acting Mayor, that while I fully appreciate the position you are in, I myself, if I were Acting Mayor, would order the lights to be turned on and would then let the Supreme Court test and decide my authority for so doing. I would not take the opinion of the Corporation Counsel while the Mayor is away, because he is paid to protect the Mayor of Boston and will not in any way allow to you as Acting Mayor any leeway, if his opinion is asked. I therefore hope and trust that you, in your wisdom and with your knowledge of municipal affairs—while I would not try in any way to lay the matter at your door—will not rely upon the opinion of the Corporation Counsel, but will order the Commissioner of Public Works to replace the lights. Then, when the Mayor comes back let him handle the matter as he wishes. In the meantime, we have enough money to handle the situation until the Mayor comes back—and then let him, and not you, sir, take the blame for any action which the public do not consider in their interest.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I do not like to take the position that the opinion of the Corporation Counsel will necessarily be contrary to what we desire, if we ask for it. I would like an opinion of the Corporation Counsel on this matter, because I believe it is of the utmost importance. Those having the lighting of the streets of this city have in their wisdom seen fit to cut out a number of the lights on our thoroughfares, important thoroughfares in this city over which there is much travel. That is the case on such highways, for example, as Blue Hill avenue and Glenwood street, where there are both non-Jewish and Jewish streets, and where lights are necessary for the security of the men, women and children of the district. I would like to know if, in the opinion of the Corporation Counsel, the Acting Mayor of Boston has not the authority to order the lights we are discussing turned on. The people of every organization and every board of trade in Boston are up in arms. I have received communications—as I assume you have, Mr. President—from our own Board of Trade in Dorchester, raising this issue because of its importance to the community. I would like to have our Corporation Counsel called into executive session this afternoon and asked whether or not the lighting of our city is an emergency such that the Acting Mayor should have the right, in his wisdom, to order the lights restored. I feel personally that the shutting off of the lights in Boston is constituting a menace and a danger to the men, women and children of Boston, and I would like to have the Corporation Counsel this afternoon inform us whether you, as Acting Mayor of Boston, have the right to order the lights turned on because of an emergency that necessitates it being done.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I would like to ask, because of the importance of this matter at the present time, a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

President McGRATH—The Chair, unless objection is made, will refer the matter to the Executive Committee and will request the attendance of the Corporation Counsel.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I don't believe we ought to wait. I have talked with some of our past corporation counsels, men who I think are far superior to this one. I believe this is an emergency, and that action should be taken without waiting any longer. As Councilor Dowd says, the lights can be ordered turned on, and then if the power of the Acting Mayor to do that is questioned the burden of proof will be upon those questioning it.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, this being an emergency order, I agree with Councilor Dowd that something should be done right away.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, in answer to the councilor from Ward 19 (Coun. Murray), the fact that I believe this is an emergency and that I believe action should be taken immediately is the reason for my requesting that the Corporation Counsel be sent for this afternoon rather than passing the order and then possibly adjourning for several weeks, during which time the Corporation Counsel may give an opinion that will tie the hands of the Acting Mayor of Boston. If we can bring the Corporation Counsel here this afternoon, however, we will then know what his opinion is and can be guided accordingly in possibly doing something that will take effect immediately. For that reason I am asking that this matter be referred to the Executive Committee for settlement today, rather than several weeks from today.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, as far as the Corporation Counsel being summoned down here is concerned, while I respect his wisdom and judgment very much, I know as well as other members of the Council know, what his opinion will be. He is going to state that the Acting Mayor has no jurisdiction over the thing whatsoever. My contention, however, is that in the budget this year we have appropriated so much for lighting the streets of Boston—not so much per week or per month, but for the year. But little more than half the year has gone by, and there is sufficient money in that budget at the present time, if the Acting Mayor with the Budget Commissioner takes action looking toward the turning on of the lights immediately, to meet the necessary bills, and after the Mayor of Boston returns the additional money for the rest of the year can be found somewhere. I object very much to the Corporation Counsel being called down to this meeting. I say that the order should be passed and that the Public Works Commissioner should be ordered to turn on the lights immediately, because we have the money available.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I move the previous question.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, with respect to this order, I would simply like to call the attention of the citizens of Boston to the activity of the Council in this situation. Some people may have the impression that the Council only awoke to the importance of the situation after the lights had been turned off. But let me say that on May 8 this body passed a resolution, which I happened to introduce in the Council—before the lights were turned off or before the matter had even been considered in the budget—as follows:

"Resolved, That the Boston City Council is opposed to the discontinuance or shutting off of any street lights in the city, believing that in the interest of public safety such a practice would tend to increase crime and render travel upon our highways extremely hazardous and that the saving effected by such discontinuance is essentially false economy."

Since that time the lights have been shut off, and I now think, especially in some centers of Boston, there is enough emergency to warrant us in acting.

President McGRATH—The Chair will now ask unanimous consent to withdraw the proposed reference to the Executive Committee. The question comes under suspension of the rule.

The rule was suspended and the order was passed.

REQUEST THAT EDISON COMPANY HELP CITY.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Acting Mayor of Boston request the Edison Electric Illuminating Company to contribute to the welfare of the people of the City of Boston in this their time of need to light all the lights that are now in darkness.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, together with other public utilities, are getting away with nothing short of murder in this city. Everything else comes down, but rates for electricity stay up. Here we have in this city 237,000 subscribers paying to the Edison Electric Illuminating Company each year approximately $18,000,000 for use that experts will tell you is worth about $2,000,000. We have this concern, no doubt making profits of $16,000,000, much of it going to residents of outside cities and towns owning stock of the Edison Company, and not only to such people, but to people outside the state. Now, we have appropriated a little over a million dollars on top of this $18,000,000 paid by the consumers in the homes, just for the lighting of our streets and public buildings. They tell me that the amount involved, at the exorbitant figure that the Edison would charge the City of Boston for the rest of the year, would mean a saving of $50,000 or $60,000. But don't let them use the argument that they would thereby be giving up any such amount. As a matter of fact, it would mean a reduction that they would hardly feel. They, as a public utility company, are receiving $18,000,000 from the consumers of Boston and over $1,000,000 from the City Treasurer, which is also from the people of Boston, or $19,000,000; and let them not say that they will not in Boston's time of need make this small sacrifice. My view, if they speak of $60,000 that it costs them, while they may claim that that is an unreasonable amount of money, men in the electrical game from A to Z have informed me that that $60,000 of power will cost the Edison Company less than $3,000. For an expenditure of $3,000 on their part every light in Boston can be lit. Is that the solution? Isn't that the way in which the Council should go on record today, as saying that we are unanimously behind this move to have this corporation, that is making its living at the hands of the people of Boston, donate $3,000, which will take care of the lights in every part of the city? I claim that that is the solution, and that every member of the Council should go on record as in favor of passing this order under suspension of the rule; and that you, Mr. President, as Acting Mayor, should call in the representatives of the Edison Company and see if they will not agree to light these lights in Boston. So I ask, under the conditions existing, that this order be passed under suspension of the rule.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RESTORATION OF STREET LIGHTS.

Coun. FISL offered the following:

Ordered, That the Acting Mayor be requested to immediately order the Commissioner of Public Works to restore the street lights which were darkened by the recent economy order.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LEASE TO LEGION POST 251.

Coun. GLEASON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston School Committee be, and said committee hereby is, authorized, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, with the approval of the Mayor of the City of Boston, and in form satisfactory to the Law Department of the City of Boston, to lease for post headquarters to Boston Police Post No. 251, American Legion, for the term of five years, at an annual rental of one dollar a year, the Cottage Place School, Roxbury, with the right to cancel said lease by giving thirty days' notice in writing of its intention so to do.

Referred to Committee on Public Lands.

LEASE TO LEGION POST 290.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Buildings of the City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, with the approval of the Mayor of the City of Boston, and in form satisfactory to the Law Department of the City of Boston, to lease for post headquarters to Y. D. Post No. 290, the American Legion, for the term of five years, at an annual rental of one dollar a year, fire station at the corner of Longwood avenue and Brookline avenue, when vacated, with the right to cancel said lease by giving thirty days' notice in writing of its intention so to do.

Referred to Committee on Public Lands.

TRANSFER OF LAND TO LEGION POST 194.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioners be requested, through the Acting Mayor, to consider the advisability of transferring certain land for a building for All Dorchester Post No. 194 of the American Legion, on Columbia road, at Ceylon street.

Referred to Committee on Public Lands.

SIDEWALK, BOWDOIN STREET.

Coun. RUBY and Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk in front of Nos. 13-43-45-57-61-65-69-81-85-87-114 to 126 inclusive, on Bowdoin street, Dorchester, Wards 14 and 15, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK, LAUREL STREET.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Laurel street, entire length, both sides, Ward 12, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ASSESSMENT OF EDISON PROPERTY.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested to inform the City Council what the present status of the investigation is that was started to determine the proper assessment of the property of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company which is taxable by the City of Boston.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I remember that some time ago they had an investigation of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company's property, and as a result of the investigation by the Corporation Counsel an agreement was reached as to the proper assessed valuation of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company's property. Following that investigation a similar investigation was started regarding the property of the Edison Company. It has been said many times that the property which the Edison Company admitted belonged to it was a good deal less than was found by investigators, but up to the present time no report of that investigation has been made either to the Mayor or the City Council. For that reason I am asking the Corporation Counsel to advise us as to the present status of the investigation commenced three months ago with regard to the taxable valuation of the property of the Edison Company. It has been said publicly at the State House that the property of the Edison Company in Boston is many million dollars more than is admitted by the company; and if the Edison Company are going to continue to charge the people the amount of money that they have been charging for service, and to charge the City of Boston the great amount that is charged us for our lighting facilities, it is only fair that the City of Boston should compel the Edison Company to pay every penny in taxes that it rightfully should pay to the City of Boston. It is only another case similar to that of the Boston Herald. You will remember that in that particular case there was a sworn statement to the City of Boston admitting so much property, and then they went to the State House and placed on record another sworn statement showing that there was a different amount of property than they had in the City of Boston. Certainly when these statements are in conflict and inconsistent, the Corporation Counsel should take steps to correct the situation, so that we may receive a proper amount in taxes from these corporations. I understand that the Edison Company has a great deal more property in Boston than it is taxed for, and I feel that it should be made to pay its share of taxes.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on order (referred June 26) that there be allowed and paid to Peter F. Coleman the sum of $200 a year, to date from June 26, 1933, as part compensation for extra services rendered at meetings of the City Council and committees thereof; such payments to continue until otherwise ordered by the City Council and to be charged to the appropriation for City Council A-1—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted, said order passed.

2. Report on petition of George L. Fleming (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at Oberts Bungalow on July 10, 1933,—that permit be granted.

Report accepted, permit granted on usual conditions.

REFORESTATION OF ISLANDS.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take such steps as may be necessary to obtain the reforestation of the islands in Boston Harbor under the Federal Reforestation Act.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RAINSFORD ISLAND FOR PARK.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to report on the advisability of the transfer of Rainsford Island to the Park Department for recreation purposes.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BUS SERVICE ON FAIRMOUNT, MORTON AND RIVER STREETS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested, through the Acting Mayor, to provide better bus service on the Fairmount street, Morton street and River street lines.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, during the last month or so I have received many complaints from my constituents regarding the bus service on the Fairmount line and on the Morton and River streets line. I am now calling upon the Acting Mayor to request the trustees of the Elevated road to give us better service on those lines.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ADDITIONAL LAND FOR BURGESS SCHOOL.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the School Committee be requested, through the Acting Mayor, to take land in the rear of the Helen F. Burgess School on Bailey street, Ward 17, for the purpose of providing a proper school playground.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, we have an expensively built school there on Bailey street, Dorchester, which has not sufficient land for a proper playground. I understand that this lot in the rear can be purchased for a small amount and be made available for schoolyard purposes, during recess and after school.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RESUMING CERTAIN LIGHTS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through the Acting Mayor, to place the following electric lights in operation:

Corner of Mercier and Dorchester avenues, Dorchester avenue, opposite St. Gregory's Church, and Dorchester Park, corner of Richmond and Butler streets.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I would like to have that order read again, because it is a request to turn on three particular lights at dangerous points. I believe, therefore, notwithstanding the previous orders that have gone through, that it might be possible for you, as Acting Mayor, to ask the Edison Company to turn on, or give them power to turn on, those street lights. I have received many complaints in regard to this situation, and it is a fact that there is very great danger there to the people of the section.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CHANGING NAME OF COOLIDGE ROAD.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through the Acting Mayor, to change the name of Coolidge road, Ward 17, to some name that will be more suitable to the residents of said ward.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, that street is a dead-end street about one hundred feet long. It is named Coolidge road. Many people think the name should be changed, and that the name "Coolidge," of a great ex-president, might well be applied to something other than a small dead-end street. Therefore, I ask in this order that the Street Commissioners change the name of the street, giving it another more suitable name.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ADEQUACY OF LIGHTING FACILITIES, WARD 17.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through the Acting Mayor, to make an immediate investigation as to whether or not the present lighting facilities in Ward 17 are adequate to provide proper protection of the lives and safety of residents of that ward.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SUSPENSION OF UNDERGROUND WIRE LAW.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Acting Mayor of Boston be requested to petition for emergency legislation to suspend the operation of the state law pertaining to the burying of overhead electric cables.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I think as a matter of courtesy to the councilor who has just offered this order, who wishes to present some orders affecting his district, and who has been delayed in doing so, that he should be given a proper opportunity to address the body, that attention should be paid to him, and that the other councilors should at least be courteous enough to sit down and listen.

Coun. BRACKMAN—This order merely calls for the suspension of the present state law relative to the burying of overhead electric wires and the charge levied therefor from the consumers of the current. At the present time it seems an undue hardship for the owner of a small dwelling house that might set back 50 or 75 feet from the highway to pay $1 a foot, the Edison charge for having that current brought into his house. Many of my constituents have had bills presented to them of $75 to $100, all the way from $50 up in most cases, for this underground installation. That sort of thing comes now at a most inopportune time, and I am asking the Acting Mayor to petition for suspension of that state law at the present time, so that this hardship may not continue.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INSTALLMENTS ON WIRE UNDERGROUNDING.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Acting Mayor be requested to take up with the Edison Electric Illuminating Company the matter of permitting consumers and property owners to pay assessments charged against them for placing wires underground in installments.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, that has reference to the last order, in cases where the work has already been done and the assessments have been levied. I feel that people should be given an opportunity to pay that in installments. The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF ELBERT STREET.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through the Acting Mayor, to accept and lay out Elbert street, Ward 12, as a public highway.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OPPOSITION TO POLICE DIVISION CONSOLIDATION.

Coun. DONOVAN and Coun. LYNCH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through the Acting Mayor, not to put into effect the contemplated consolidation of Police Divisions 6 and 12, South Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridge and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.11 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.

(From a report of the American Road Builders' Association.)

LIFE-GIVING PATRIOTISM IS LOCAL.

By civic patriotism is meant the feeling and the taking of a deep, unselfish, earnest, ever-wakeful, active interest in the affairs of one's own city or local community, regarding it as having an autonomy, a distinct personality, a name and interests of its own, and, if one pleases, endowed with a sense of personal honor and with all laudable ambitions for the promotion of the welfare of its people.

Where such civic virtues exist the local community will neither suffer from the dry-rot of public indifference and neglect nor become tainted with graft or corruption. Its life will be healthful, and, like the ocean, will be kept pure by its own ceaseless flow and movement. All life-giving patriotism is local.

Show a good municipal citizen and one will see a citizen who loves his state, and who loves his nation, and who will discharge all the duties of this triple relation. Good government in local affairs is the best assurance of good government in state and national affairs.

A SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred, who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

KANSAS CITY WINS POLICE HOME RULE.

The Supreme Court of Missouri has given Kansas City control of its police department.

For years those who wanted the city to operate and control its own police department had been going to the Legislature regularly with bills which would end state control. But conditions were never just right. The city raised the question of the constitutionality of the law under which the department has operated, and the Court held the law unconstitutional in a five-to-two opinion.

The police department of Kansas City had been under the control of the state since 1874. Under the law as it has existed in recent years, the department was administered by a commission of three members, two appointed by the governor and the mayor, ex officio.

The city attacked the law on the ground that it delegated legislative powers to an administrative board. In this contention the city was upheld, the court holding that the limitations in the law were not sufficiently definite to prevent the commissioners from making almost unlimited demands on the city treasury.

CHICAGO POLICE REORGANIZED.

Many improvements have recently taken place in the organization and administration of the Police Department of Chicago, Ill.

Although the numerical strength of the force has been reduced in the last two years approximately from 6,700 to 6,000, the number of men on foot patrol has been increased 150 per cent, being now about 1,900. The efficiency of the department has been further increased by adding to the number of patrol cars and by placing in operation an extensive police radio system. There are now some 100 small patrol cars and fifty large high-powered ones equipped with radio. Furthermore, 20 per cent of the present force constitutes new blood in the department. The average age has been lowered, and a greater proportion of young men will be encouraged by the reduction of the admission age to a range of twenty-one to twenty-nine years, from the former limits of twenty-three to thirty-five, approximately. Civil service methods in disciplining new policemen are better, and a more thorough check-up on the character of those examined is made.

UNITED STATES TO HAVE TENTH MUNICIPAL UNIVERSITY.

The tenth municipal university in the United States is being planned by Omaha, Neb., whose citizens have approved plans for the establishment of a four-year university, to be supported by a mill tax. The following are the nine municipal universities or colleges known to exist at the present time in the United States, in order of their establishment on the municipal basis: College of Charleston (South Carolina), 1837; University of Louisville (Kentucky), 1837; College of the City of New York, 1847; Hunter College of the City of New York, 1870; University of the City of Cincinnati (Ohio), 1871; University of Toledo (Ohio), 1884; University of Akron (Ohio), 1913; University of the City of Detroit (Michigan), 1923; Municipal University of Wichita (Kansas), 1926.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1640 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

FAILURE TO MAINTAIN CITY STREETS IS FALSE ECONOMY.

Money now saved by failure to maintain city streets, in response to the clamor of citizens for tax reduction, represents a trivial economy in comparison with the enormous outlay that will be required to rebuild such thoroughfares later. Taxpayers in some municipalities, determined to reduce public expenditures, have gone so far as to insist upon elimination of funds sorely needed for the maintenance of existing streets. In other places, even though money for street maintenance is available, powerful minority groups are demanding that it be not spent under present conditions.—The American City.

METHODS OF ELIMINATING GRADE-CROSSING ACCIDENTS.

Five suggestions aimed at the elimination of grade-crossing accidents are offered in the monthly report of the Street Traffic Committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

It is estimated that curing the grade-crossing evil would reduce traffic accidents by 10 per cent in a very short time, and the Committee presents the following five points for discussion:

1. Do away with those grade crossings which have the heaviest traffic.
2. Place warning signs not less than 500 feet back from the railroad tracks.
3. Take down all signs from obsolete trackage.
4. Use traffic-light signals (operated by trains) instead of signs, if there are fewer than five trains per day.
5. Consider scrapping all railroad signs in favor of signals for use only when train is approaching.

"The last two points merit consideration first, because, though they are new doctrines, they seem the least expensive and most practical of application."

THE POLICE OFFICER AND THE CITIZEN.

The importance of the police as conspicuous representatives of the municipal government, and the qualities desirable in such a relationship, were pointed out by City Manager Willard F. Day of Staunton, Va., in addressing the recent convention of the Virginia Police Executives' Association. He said in part:

"It is unquestionably true that the man on the street, the public, the visitor and the home citizen alike, form first and in many cases lasting impressions of the local government by contacts with the police."

FALSE ECONOMIC PROPOSALS.

Danger to both the immediate and the long-run efficiency of fire departments and to the security of the community itself lies in many if not most of the proposals of taxpayers' representatives attacking the budgetary provisions for municipal fire protection. The gravity of this menace was emphasized by Jay W. Stevens, California State Fire Marshal and Executive Secretary of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, in an address on "Maintaining Fire Department Efficiency," given before the recent convention of that organization.

MUNICIPAL CREDIT PLAN.

Rochester's Municipal Credit Plan proposal of Mayor Owen, introduced in the State Senate on February 11, has caused considerable comment in financial and governmental circles. As stated in section 1 of the bill, its purpose is for the alleviation of an emergency created by a strained economic depression. It is well known that the credit of municipalities, generally, is strained as a result of increased expenditures for welfare purposes, paralleled by a marked decrease in the value of taxable property. The buyers of municipal securities look askance upon the balance sheets of cities.

Mayor Owen's proposal is that a state agency be created by the Legislature, to be known as "The Public Credit and Sinking Fund Corporation of the State of New York." This corporation shall have the power "to invest in, purchase and sell obligations of the state and obligations of any municipal corporation or public district or agency of the state" with limitations. After April 1, 1933, no obligations maturing subsequent to April 1, 1933, shall be purchased. All municipal securities shall yield 5 per cent at maturity.

NO-PARKING ZONES FOR SCHOOLS REDUCE PEDESTRIAN HAZARD.

Minneapolis has passed an ordinance which establishes all streets on sides adjacent to schools as no-parking zones from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. This is particularly significant since records have shown that a large per cent of child accidents have been due to children stepping out from behind parked cars.

These zones are painted yellow and serve to attract the attention of the motorist as well as to give him a clear vision while passing the school.

BOSTON INCORPORATED AS A CITY, 1822.

The act of incorporation was passed by the Legislature on February 23, 1822. On March 4 following, the voters of Boston accepted said act, chapter 110, 1821-22, as its first city charter by a majority of 916 in a total vote of 4,678. The vote was 2,797 yeas, 1,881 nays. Previous attempts to incorporate as a city had been made in 1650, 1659, 1667, 1708, 1744, 1762, 1784, 1791, 1804 and 1815. The charter was revised in 1854, 1885 and 1909. Amendments to the 1909 charter were enacted in 1910, 1912, 1914, 1918, 1919, 1921, 1922 and lastly in 1924 (see "Municipal Register" for 1928, pages 19-43).

CHANGING STREET NAMES.

Alteration in the names of streets seems to be on the increase in the United States. In most cases the reasons for it are inadequate, while changes that would actually make for clearness remain unmade. The reason for change would usually seem to be general patriotism, national or local, as where the name of some prominent person is given to a street. During the war German names were largely discarded, as where Berlin avenue in St. Louis became Pershing avenue. In the height of President Wilson's popularity abroad, Wilson avenues sprang up all over the allied countries. Later, disappointment or dissatisfaction caused many of these to be changed.

FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payments must not exceed 6 per cent.

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS.

For many years we have heard innumerable bankers, business men and professional men talk about too much government in business. But these same people are constantly before legislatures asking government to do something to protect their selfish interests. The doctor, the lawyer, the dentist, and each profession is always asking the government to make the entrance to their unions more difficult not with the idea of protecting the people but with the hope of stopping or reducing competition. The local merchant is always asking the council, the state and the nation to prohibit competition by peddlers and transient merchants. When the winds of depleted deposits began to whirl about the banks the government was asked to bear the burden, and if official authority is to be believed the government and the politicians saved the banks and not the high-browed presidents and directors of the banks. The real truth is that we do not want government to interfere with us in our desires, but do ask government to enter business in any and every conceivable way that we think will help us make a little more money of the realm.

THE SUPPLY HOUSE OF NEW HAVEN
CITY DEPARTMENTS.

The Supply House of the city of New Haven, Conn., is located on Water street on a plot of about four acres of land, running down to the city dock. It consists of one main three-story brick building, which is used as an office building; one large two-story garage where all autos attached to the various city departments are housed; three large sheds and the dog pound.

All city employees report here for work. The working organization of the various city departments at present comprises about nine hundred men. Practically all the tools and tractors, road rollers, snowplows and a snow loader and all other mechanical equipment and auto trucks, as well as construction materials of all kinds, are stored here. The Supply House also contains a blacksmith shop, an auto and tire repair shop, and a paint shop and traffic sign department.

The offices of the Superintendent of Streets, Sewers, Bridges, and Trees, the Chief Inspector of Garbage Collections, the Employment Bureau and the Pay Roll Department, are all located in the three-story office building.

STATE-WIDE CAMPAIGN AGAINST DIPHTHERIA BRINGS NOTABLE RESULTS.

A decrease in cases and deaths has been very marked during the five-year campaign in New York State for the extirpation of diphtheria. The campaign was the joint effort of the State Departments of Health and Education, the State Medical Society, the Welfare Division of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health of the State Charities Aid Association, all banded together. They were aided by the parent-teacher associations, women's clubs, civic clubs and other social and welfare organizations.

Although the goal was not completely reached, the results are very encouraging and prove beyond a doubt that diphtheria can be controlled.

It has been estimated that at least 35 per cent of the children under five years old must be protected against diphtheria before a community is safe from an epidemic of the disease. No city over 100,000 has yet reached that percentage, although Utica with 30 per cent approaches that figure. While it is more difficult for a big city to attain a large percentage of immunizations, with a proper organization and sufficient determination this can be done.

Cities that have attained the 35 per cent standard are:

50,000 to 100,000 population: Binghampton and Niagara Falls, 38; New Rochelle, 35.

25,000 to 50,000: White Plains, 49; Kingston, 36; Poughkeepsie and Auburn, 35.

10,000 to 25,000: Middletown, 73; Ogdensburg, 65; Hornell and Port Jervis, 56; Endicott, 54; Johnson City, 53; Geneva, 49; Rockville Center, 45; Massena, 44; Ossining, 41; Mamaroneck, 40; Gloversville, 39; Glen Cove, 38; Peekskill, 37.

WATER SUPPLY FROM WELLS.

The entire water supply of Memphis is taken from wells. The wells penetrate two strata of sand, the upper stratum being 300 to 500 feet below the surface, and the lower stratum roughly 1,000 feet deeper. The upper stratum, known as the LaGrange formation, is the more important and furnishes most of the supply. It is the one commonly used in this vicinity.

The lower stratum has been developed by the city to a limited extent, because wells in it do not interfere with those in the upper stratum, and therefore wells in the respective strata can be placed in close proximity to each other, and a greater capacity obtained from a given area. The LaGrange formation underlies western Tennessee, eastern Arkansas and northern Mississippi. It outcrops in a belt roughly parallel with the Mississippi river and some 40 miles eastward therefrom. Throughout this entire region it furnishes an ample supply to many municipalities and industries. The outcrop area is such that an abundant supply is in sight, for everyone caring to use it, for many years to come. The sands and clays, which are interspersed, are supposed to be deposits formed in prehistoric times, when the entire Mississippi Valley as far north as Cairo was practically an arm of the Gulf of Mexico.

STATE TAX LEVY ON BOSTON FOR 1933 HAMPERS CITY FINANCIALLY TO EXTENT OF $3,400,000 — ALLOTMENT FROM FEDERAL SOURCES AND DECREASED NECESSITIES FOR CONTRIBUTIONS TO RETIREMENT FUND PROVIDES OFFSET TO THIS WHICH LEAVES NET INCREASED BURDEN OF $1,140,000 FOR THIS YEAR — MAYOR CURLEY ISSUES EXPLANATORY STATEMENT SHOWING HOW BURDEN HAS GROWN DESPITE HIS ECONOMIES.

Upon Thursday, August 3, the Mayor issued the following statement:

His Honor presented this day a résumé of the financial situation of the city with especial reference to the 1933 legislation affecting the same.

The state tax for the year 1933 is $9,000,000, which will be assessed upon the cities and towns of the Commonwealth. In order to establish a state tax at the figure of $9,000,000 the Legislature had to divert from the gasoline tax received by the Commonwealth the sum of $8,000,000, for without such a diversion from the gasoline tax fund the state tax this year would have been $17,000,000. This figure should be compared with the state tax of 1932, which was $9,750,000, from which was deducted the sum of $5,500,000 as a result of a diversion from the gasoline tax of this amount, leaving a net state tax for the year 1933 of $4,250,000. The result, therefore, is that in 1933 the cities and towns of the Commonwealth will be compelled to pay a state tax of $9,000,000 as against a state tax of $4,250,000 in the year 1932, thus placing an increased burden upon the municipalities of the Commonwealth for the year 1933 of $4,750,000.

In addition to this increased burden resulting from the increased state tax the municipalities of the Commonwealth must bear the further burden of a decrease in the receipts of income and corporation taxes of approximately $6,000,000.

Thus, due to the increase in the state tax of $4,750,000 and the loss of receipts from income and corporation taxes of $6,000,000, there is an additional burden placed upon the cities and towns of the Commonwealth for the year 1933 of $10,750,000 over and above that of the year 1932. Since Boston's share of this burden is approximately 26 per cent, it results that there has been imposed upon the City of Boston for the year 1933 an increased burden of $2,800,000 over that of the year 1932, said figure being 26 per cent of $10,750,000.

In addition to this increased burden the City of Boston will further be burdened by the increase in the Boston Elevated Railway deficit for the year 1933 of approximately $300,000 over the deficit for the year 1932. The increase in the deficit added to the increased burden imposed by the Commonwealth of $2,800,000 results in a total increased burden for the year 1933 above that of the year 1932 of $3,400,000.

Only Offset.

The only offset to this increased burden will come from the fact that the Legislature made it possible for the city to save $500,000 by permitting the city to reduce its retirement fund contributions. In addition, however, to this offset, the only one provided by the Legislature, is the contribution made by the Federal Government to the Commonwealth to be distributed to the cities and towns on account of the disbursements made by municipalities for public welfare relief. From this contribution by the Federal Government the City of Boston has already been allotted $880,000 and will probably receive a further allotment of $880,000 before the announcement of the tax rate for the year 1933. If this sum of $1,760,000, together with $500,000 saved to the city on account of decreased necessities for retirement fund contributions, or a total of $2,260,000, be deducted from or offset against the said increased burden of $3,400,000 there is left an increased burden upon the City of Boston for the year 1933 of $1,140,000.

This situation may best be visualized by the following table:

		NET STATE TAX.
1933 state tax	$9,000,000	$9,000,000
(After deduction of gasoline fund of $8,000,000.)
1932 state tax	9,750,000
Less gasoline diversion	5,500,000	4,250,000
		$4,750,000
Income and corporation tax receipts distributed to municipalities:
1932	$17,000,000
1933 (estimated)	11,000,000
Decreased receipts by municipalities for 1933	$6,000,000	6,000,000
Increased burden upon municipalities 1933, as result of increased state tax and loss of receipts from income and corporation taxes		$10,750,000

From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,

CITY OF BOSTON NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR NECESSITY OF SECURING LOANS TO PROVIDE FOR PUBLIC WELFARE BURDENS FOR REMAINDER OF YEAR — BLAME PLACED ON LEGISLATURE, WHICH TURNED DEAF EAR TO PLEAS FOR ATTENTION TO BUDGET PROGRAM SEEKING TO SAVE SITUATION — MAYOR CURLEY CHARGES EFFORT TO BLAME CITY OFFICIALS IS DELIBERATE ATTEMPT TO IGNORE FACTS AND MISLEAD TAXPAYING PUBLIC.

Upon August 2 the Mayor issued the following statement:

With the passage of the supplementary budget by the Council, it is now possible to present an exact comparison between departmental costs to be included in this year's tax levy with similar costs in 1932. The following table indicates in a clear and comprehensive manner the difference between city budget appropriations in 1933 and those in 1932.

Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief appropriations	$10,212,128 00	$9,983,267 75
All other departments	26,537,872 00	30,679,353 85
	$36,750,000 00	$40,662,621 60

The figures shown above clearly indicate that, exclusive of Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief, the actual cost of administering all other departments during the current year will be approximately $4,150,000 less than the cost in 1932. The figures further indicate that there has been provided in the budget of the current year for Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief appropriations approximately $225,000 in excess of last year. This excess is responsible for the fact that the net reduction in the city budget of the current year as compared with 1932 is $3,912,000.

ACTUAL SAVINGS.

The actual savings of over $4,000,000 reflected in all departments, exclusive of Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief, have been secured in the following manner:

Salary reductions put into effect as of April 21, 1933	$1,900,000
Personnel savings resulting largely from the policy of not filling vacancies	800,000
Reduction in departmental allowances for equipment, supplies and materials	1,000,000
Miscellaneous savings	400,000

In so far as the Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments are concerned, it is a known fact the appropriations included in the budgets of 1932 and 1933 were not sufficient to meet the total expenditures of the departments in the years in question. Last year the departments expended approximately $3,100,000 in excess of appropriations specifically allocated to them in the city budget. This year it is estimated that the excess will be approximately $3,500,000. In 1932 the excess payments were secured largely from voluntary pay-roll contributions made throughout the year by the city, school and county employees. This year, because of legislation enacted by the Legislature, the excess is to be financed by the issuance of loans. Any attempt to create the impression that the city is responsible for this latter method of financing indicates a woeful lack of knowledge and information concerning the manner in which this method was established, or else is a deliberate attempt to mislead the taxpaying public on the subject of finances of the city.

The record of the hearings before the Committee on Municipal Finance early this year, in connection with the petition of the city to appropriate for the maintenance of municipal departments, shows that not only the city but every agency and organization present at the hearing of the committee clearly understood that the budget program of the city did not provide for the raising by direct taxation of the full estimated requirements of the Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments for the current year. The various briefs, including that of the city, submitted to the committee, clearly indicated that to afford owners of real estate relief from the excessive burden of unemployment, financial assistance from the Federal and State Governments would be necessary. The city took the position that any money received in this manner should be used to augment the welfare and relief appropriations provided in the budget. The Legislature in its wisdom did not support this position, but enacted legislation provided, first, that any excess welfare and relief requirements should be met by the issuance of loans, and, secondly, any financial assistance rendered by the Federal and State Governments should be applied directly to a reduction in the tax rate of this year.

In the columns of the public press today the State Emergency Finance Board announced that $879,000 had been allotted to Boston as its share of the amount received from the Federal Government under the terms of the Federal Lewis-Wagner Welfare and Relief Act. This allotment was based on the welfare expenditures of the city during the first three months of the current year. Subsequent allotments will be made to the city for the remaining three-fourths of 1932. These allotments under existing legislation will be applied wholly to reduce the tax rate this year. Thus, the anomaly is present of the city receiving a specific grant because of welfare expenditures and being obligated because of existing legislation to use the money so received for a reduction in the tax rate rather than to meet excess welfare expenditures. If the city had been permitted to finance its excess welfare requirements from these federal allotments, there probably would have been no necessity for the issuance of loans.

MAYOR CURLEY ISSUES EXPLANATORY STATEMENT.

Boston's share of this burden, 26 per cent		$2,800,000
Boston's share of Elevated deficit:
1933 (estimated)	$1,800,000
1932	1,200,000
		600,000
Total increased burden in City of Boston, 1933		$3,400,000
Offset against increased burden:
Decreased necessities for contributions to Retirement Fund	$500,000
Allotments from Federal Government for two quarters of 1933	1,760,000
Total offset	$2,260,000
Increased burden		$3,400,000
Offset		2,260,000
Net increased burden in City of Boston, 1933		$1,140,000

These figures indicate that despite the legislation enacted in the current year and the federal relief given to the municipalities of the Commonwealth there will be an increased burden imposed upon the City of Boston by the state of $1,140,000.

The Legislature, however, did provide the following additional legislation which the City of Boston may take advantage of.

Municipalities have been authorized to borrow from the Commonwealth or elsewhere a sum not exceeding the difference between the amount expended by such municipalities in the year 1932 and that expended by them in the year 1929 for public welfare relief, including mothers' aid, old age assistance, soldiers' relief, etc. Under this authorization it is estimated that the City of Boston may borrow approximately $9,000,000. In order to provide a means of repayment of moneys so borrowed the Legislature by this act established for a period of three years a tax of 6 per cent on dividends of Massachusetts corporations, heretofore exempt from taxation. It is estimated that the income from this tax will approximate $8,000,000 annually and since the distribution is to be on the basis of the state tax, Boston's share will be approximately $2,000,000 annually for the three-year period. If the City of Boston should borrow from the Commonwealth under the terms of the act its share of this tax will be retained by the Commonwealth and applied towards the loan made by the Commonwealth to the City of Boston. If no such borrowing from the Commonwealth is made, the city receives its share of the tax during this three-year period. It should be noted that any moneys borrowed under the provisions of this act cannot be used for municipal purposes but must be used solely for the purpose of reducing the amount to be raised by taxation in the tax levy.

It is apparent that the Legislature took cognizance of the necessity for the municipalities to borrow in order not only to meet the increased burden placed upon them by the increase in the state tax and the loss of revenue from the receipts of income and corporation taxes but also to permit the municipalities to reduce the burden imposed by the increased necessities for public welfare relief disbursements. In the case of the City of Boston, however, we have a rather anomalous situation, for by virtue of the Appropriation Limit Act the amount which the City of Boston may appropriate for public welfare relief, as well as for other departmental expenses, is limited, and even though an allotment is made to the City of Boston by the Federal Government, this money cannot be expended for welfare relief and the city is required and indeed expected to borrow such additional sums as may be necessary to meet its public welfare relief requirements.

When the Appropriation Limit Bill was before the Legislature the necessity for an additional sum for public welfare relief was placed before the Legislature. The Legislature in its wisdom established the appropriation limit or amount which may be expended by the City for public welfare and other departmental expenses at the figure of $36,750,000, recognizing at the time that additional amounts would be necessary in order to meet the public welfare relief requirements and when the Appropriation Limit Act was adopted by the Legislature provision was made in it that the city might borrow in addition to the $36,750,000 such sum as may be necessary to meet the additional public welfare relief requirements, subject only to the approval of a board established by the act.

MAYOR CURLEY HITS BACK AT MUNICIPAL RESEARCH BUREAU BOTH FOR ATTEMPTING TO BELITTLE FINANCIAL STRUCTURE OF CITY AND FOR DISTORTING FACTS—CALLS ATTENTION TO FACT THE CONDITION MENTIONED HAS EXISTED AS FAR BACK AS 1917—POINTS TO TRUTH THAT WHILE BOSTON POPULATION IS 800,000 SHE IS CENTER OF 2,000,000 PEOPLE WHO RECEIVE SERVICES FOR WHICH 800,000 PAY—THUS PER CAPITA FIGURES QUOTED ARE WRONG AND MIS-LEADING.

Mayor Curley has issued the following statement in reply to the Boston Municipal Research Bureau:

After a silence extending over a period of more than six weeks (perhaps it is only a coincidence), the Boston Municipal Research Bureau once again assumes leadership in belittling the financial structure of the city. Making use of per capita expenditures prepared by the Federal Bureau of the Census for the year 1931 in thirteen cities in the United States with populations of over 500,000, the Bureau charges Boston with having the highest cost of government in the country. The Bureau very conveniently overlooks the fact, however, that the same Federal report indicates that extending as far back as 1917 the same situation, which the Bureau now criticizes, existed, namely, that on a per capita basis Boston reflects a high rate of expenditure.

Comparative per capita figures pertaining to municipal financial statistics are interesting mathematical studies, but it is unwise to accept, without analysis, the conclusions which such figures supposedly indicate. Per capita comparisons may be made fairly only when specific information respecting each city is at hand. Cities vary widely in territorial character, form of government, methods of administration and extent of services rendered. Unless allowances are made for these variations per capita studies are bound to work injustice.

BEARING BURDEN OF OTHERS.

From a population standpoint, Boston is a city of 800,000 people, but from an expenditure standpoint, Boston is the center of a metropolitan district of two millions of people. If the city merely was required to render service to its own inhabitants, there is no question but what a marked reduction in departmental expenditures could be secured. The fact, however, that a large proportion of the population of surrounding cities and towns enters our city daily makes it necessary for city departments to render service to a much larger population than that credited to the city when per capita figures are determined. Again, it should be remembered that Boston is one of the few large cities of the country to provide for the construction of new school buildings by direct taxation.

Since 1916 appropriations of over $40,000,000 have been included in the tax levy for this purpose. Boston is also one of the few cities of the country which has raised solely by taxation the vast amounts of money which it has been necessary to disburse since 1929 because of widespread unemployment. It is estimated that at the end of the current year Boston will have expended for public welfare relief during a period of five years in excess of $35,000,000. Boston, unlike other cities of the country, makes no charge for the removal and disposal of waste and the reconstruction of streets and sidewalks. It furnishes free to its citizens many services for which charges are imposed in other cities of the country. All of these facts must, of necessity, contribute to the high per capita expenditure record with which the city is charged. This fact which the Bureau criticizes has been known to municipal authorities for years, and as the Federal statistics indicate, is not peculiar alone to the year 1931.

To further mislead the citizens of the city concerning the financial structure of the city, the Bureau makes use of adjusted tax rate studies, prepared annually by Mr. C. E. Rightor of the Detroit Bureau of Governmental Research. In these studies Mr. Rightor, after showing the actual tax rate declared by the assessors of the various cities, makes an adjustment according to the ratio of the assessed value to the estimated true value. Thus, in Boston, where assessed values are supposed to equal 100 per cent of the true value, the actual tax rate for 1932 and the adjusted rate, as shown by Mr. Rightor, are the same, namely, $35.50. In Chicago, however, where assessed values are reported to be 37 per cent of the true values, the actual tax rate of $67.40, assessed by the city, is adjusted by Mr. Rightor to a rate of $24.94. Again, San Francisco, reporting assessed values to be 45 per cent of the true values, and with a tax rate of $39.60 in 1932, is shown in Mr. Rightor's table with an adjusted tax rate of $17.82.

CITES AUTHORITY.

It is interesting to note in this connection what Mr. Rightor himself has to say about this adjustment. On page 683 of the December, 1932, issue of the "National Municipal Review," Mr. Rightor, in an article showing the comparative tax rates of 227 cities for the year 1932, in speaking of his adjustment ratio, writes, "this ratio, of course, is at best an estimate, however carefully determined, which means that the final column in the table is a theoretical rate." On page 705 of the December, 1931, issue of the same publication and writing on the same subject, Mr. Rightor says, "one conclusion may be drawn—a study of the comparative tax rates on real and personal property does not afford an ultimate test as to the effectiveness or economy of any city." Mr. Rightor then goes on to point out that in order to equitably compare cities, consideration must be given to "modifying factors" peculiar to the individual cities under comparison.

I deeply appreciate the "Welcome Home" sentiments which undoubtedly actuated the Bureau in preparing its latest effusion. I regret, however, that in preparing its bulletin the Bureau has shown an utter disregard for a just and equitable presentation of Boston's financial position among the large cities of this country. Since the Bureau includes "Boston" in its official name, it would appear questionable judgment on the part of its officials to erroneously and illogically present conclusions concerning the city of the type incorporated in the bulletin released this day.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 251.

Sergt. William J. McCarthy of Division 10 is hereby commended in General Orders and given one week additional vacation for efficient and effective police duty performed on Friday, July 14, 1933. Sergeant McCarthy observed a truck on Roxbury street, going at an excessive rate of speed. He attempted to stop the truck, but the driver increased his speed. About this time a cruising car appeared and Sergeant McCarthy, with Patrolmen Love, Hallett and West, gave chase and overtook the truck and forced it over to the curb. The truck contained two hundred cases of what purported to be cigarettes. Upon being unable to give satisfactory answers to questions, the occupants of the truck were brought to the station and after further investigation it was found that cases seized contained only one actual carton of cigarettes—the remainder containing pieces of wood, excelsior and cardboard. Two hundred more of these cases were located in a barn near Pawtucket, R. I.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the continued devotion to duty shown by Sergeant McCarthy in making this important capture, which reflects great credit upon the department.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 252.

A trial board consisting of Captains McKinnon, Lewis and Kavanagh having heard by reference a complaint made by James R. Clafin, captain, commanding Division 3, against John Campbell, patrolman, Division 3, for alleged violation of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification 1: In that on the second day of July, 1933, Patrolman John Campbell did refuse to obey the lawful and proper orders of Lieut. William D. Donovan who had ordered him to make a report in writing of what he knew concerning an assault on Patrolman Edwin J. Riley, and the escape of a prisoner from Patrolman Edwin J. Riley, said assault and escape having taken place in Spring street, on this division, July 2, 1933.

Specification 2: In that on the second day of July, 1933, Patrolman John Campbell was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he would be unable to perform properly the duties of a police officer if called upon so to do,—has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence presented finds the said Patrolman John Campbell guilty of the charge and specifications thereunder. The Board has taken into consideration the fact that Patrolman Campbell has served almost thirty years in the Police Department without becoming involved in any serious complaint; and the fact that his commanding officer and all his superior officers express that in their experience with Patrolman Campbell they have always found him faithful and willing, and in view of the foregoing, it becomes evident that the insubordination on which this charge is based was due to a mental condition occasioned by his having partaken of intoxicating liquor; and therefor respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman John Campbell be reprimanded in General Orders."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman John Campbell be reprimanded in General Orders.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 253.

Patrolman James Hanlon of Division 4 having arrived at the age of sixty-five years and having performed faithful service in the Police Department for thirty-five and three-twelfths years, it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that the said Patrolman Hanlon be retired from active service and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate of ten hundred and fifty (1,050) dollars per annum (payable monthly), said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired, previous to a 15 per cent reduction in pay, which went into effect April 21, 1933.

Note.—By chapter 121, Acts of 1933 (having to do with reductions in pay), provision is made for retirement for those in a non-contributory system, at half of the rate of compensation received before such reduction.)

The retirement of Patrolman James Hanlon, as herein provided, will take effect at 7.45 o'clock a. m., Saturday, July 29, 1933.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

Patrolman William C. Williams of Division 4 is commended in General Orders for efficient police duty performed on July 13, 1933, in the pursuit and capture of two youths in a stolen automobile who had seriously injured a pedestrian and failed to stop.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the courageous and efficient police duty performed by Patrolman Williams in apprehending these dangerous characters.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 255.

Patrolmen Leo J. Cushing and Edward A. Murphy, both of Division 9, and Patrolman Frederick F. Carley of Division 4 are commended in General Orders for meritorious police duty performed on July 22, 1933, in capturing three armed men who had held up a store in the city and made their escape in an automobile.

They were pursued by a citizen and he attracted the attention of Patrolman Cushing who was on traffic duty in Edward Everett square. Patrolman Cushing immediately gave chase and was joined by Patrolmen Carley and Murphy, both off duty and in civilian dress, who were passing at the time. The three occupants of the car were placed under arrest, and upon being searched it was found that two of them had fully loaded revolvers. One of the men arrested threatened to shoot the officers, but was disarmed before he could carry out his threat.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the splendid police service performed by these officers on this occasion, and the spirit of cooperation and assistance given by Patrolmen Murphy and Carley, while off duty, and it is further ordered that Patrolman Leo J. Cushing be given one day additional vacation, and Patrolmen Murphy and Carley each be given two days' additional vacation.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

The names of deputy and district chiefs are to be omitted from all lists. These names will be placed on a separate list made up at headquarters.

If the nature of the employment of two or more persons is the same, and they receive the same salary, their names should be arranged in alphabetical order.

Enter names thus: "John H. Smith"—not "Smith, John H." Give first names in full and middle initial, if any, except in the following cases:

(a.) If a person, in signing his name customarily uses the initial of his first name and his second name in full (for example, "J. Henry Smith") enter the name that way.

headquarters. Do not in any such case give compensation per week.

Under the heading "Date of Election or Appointment" will be placed the date of the last promotion, excepting hosemen, laddermen and assistant engineers, in which case the date of their original appointment as probationers in the department will be entered. If a member of the department has been reinstated in the department or was in the employ of the city in some other department prior to entering the Fire Department, the date of his last appointment should appear under "Date of Election or Appointment" and the date of his first appointment in the column so designated.

In giving the month, write the month, do not use figures.

The contractor is at present completing an addition to the present building and no savings would be made in time or money by advertising for bids. Plans and specifications covering the work have been prepared. This being of an emergency nature it will not permit of any delay.

Respectfully yours,

PARK DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, July 25, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—The Board of Park Commissioners respectfully request your permission to award a contract for $4,887, without publicly advertising, to the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, 39 Boylston street, Boston, for installing approximately 3,600 linear feet of underground electric conduit and manholes for new boulevard lighting system on the new West Roxbury Park Boulevard. The Board believes that it is for the best interest of the city to award this contract to the Edison Electric Illuminating Company as it is well equipped and particularly able to do this type of work quickly and satisfactorily. The price submitted is reasonable, and under the agreement the city does not pay for the cross connections to the lamps.

The work is to be charged to the appropriation, "West Roxbury Park Loan, Acts of 1930, Chapter 420," and City Council order approved by the Mayor July 27, 1933.

TWO OF EVERY 1,000 INHABITANTS ARE POLICE EMPLOYEES IN THE AVERAGE LARGE CITY.

About two of every 1,000 persons in the average city are employed in city police departments. Jersey City has the greatest percentage of police defense of any of the cities of over 250,000 population reporting to the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, according to statements published in a recent issue of the monthly publication, "Uniform Crime Reports." In the total population of 316,715, there are 1,154 Police Department employees, or 3.6 per 1,000 inhabitants.

Birmingham, Ala., is at the other end of the scale among the cities of over 250,000, with one police department employee per 1,000 inhabitants, or a total of 260 in a population of 259,678.

Boston, with a population of 781,188, has 2,579 police department employees, or 3.3 per 1,000. Newark, N. J., with 442,337 inhabitants, has 1,383 police employees, or 3.1 per 1,000. Chicago has only two per 1,000, there being a total of 6,742 police employees for the city's 3,276,438 people.

Among other cities which have reported such statistics to the Bureau are:

Baltimore, with 2.3 police department employees per 1,000 inhabitants; Buffalo, with 2.3; Cincinnati, with 1.5; Cleveland, with 1.7; Columbus, with 1.2; Dallas, with 1.1; Denver, with 1.5; Detroit, with 2.6; Houston, with 1.2; Indianapolis, with 1.6; Kansas City, with 1.7; Louisville, with 1.6.

Milwaukee has two police department employees per 1,000 of the population; Minneapolis has 1.2; New Orleans has 1.9; Oakland, Cal., has 1.4; Philadelphia has 2.8; Portland, Ore., has 1.5; Providence, R. I., has 2.4; Rochester has 1.6.

In St. Louis, the percentage is 2.8 per 1,000; in St. Paul, 1.3; in San Francisco, 2.2; in Seattle, 1.9; in Toledo, 1.5; and in Washington, 2.9.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

THE METROPOLITAN DISTRICT.

With Its 43 Municipalities.

Consists in the most inclusive sense of forty-three municipalities, including Boston, or fourteen cities and twenty-nine towns, all within fifteen miles of the State House but not yet consolidated in one complete governmental system. The seven cities in the first zone, i. e., adjacent to Boston, are these, viz., Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Newton, Quincy, Revere and Somerville; the six cities in the second zone, not adjacent, are Lynn, Malden, Medford, Melrose,

Waltham and Woburn. The six adjacent towns are Brookline, Dedham, Milton, Needham, Watertown and Winthrop; the twenty other towns are Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Canton, Cohasset, Dover, Hingham, Hull, Lexington, Nahant, Norwood, Reading, Saugus, Stoneham, Stoughton, Swampscott, Wakefield, Walpole, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth and Winchester. North and northwest of Boston are situated eleven of the cities and twelve of the towns; south and southwest, two cities and seventeen towns. Norwood, Stoughton and Walpole were admitted into the South System of the Metropolitan Sewerage District in 1928.

UNITED STATES FOREIGN TRADE IN SILVER.

Although the United States is the second largest producer of silver, its exports of the metal exceed total annual production according to the United States Department of Commerce reports. Much silver is received for refining or transshipment. Most of this imported silver comes from Mexico, as evident from the following import figures, in millions of dollars: Mexico, 40.5 in 1929, 24.9 in 1930, and 11 in the first eight months of 1931; Canada, 6.4, 6.1, and 2.5, respectively; Peru, 10.4, 5.9, and 1.6; Chile, 2.3, 1.8, and 0.6; and all countries, 63.9, 42.8, and 18.3.

United States exports of silver go chiefly to China (including Hong Kong), British India, and the United Kingdom (whence they are sold largely to other countries). Shipments to leading countries and the total are summarized in millions of dollars, for 1929, 1930, and the first eight months of 1931, as follows: China and Hong Kong, 64.6, 37.8, and 8.5, respectively, of which China accounted for 61.8, 31.8, and 7.7; British India, 8.9, 9.6, and 4.6; the United Kingdom, 0.1, 2.1, and 3.4; Canada, 2.4, 1.8, and 1.1; Mexico, 5.2, 1.4, and 0.7; Germany, 1.5, 1, and 0.7; and all countries, 83.4, 54.2, and 19.2.

SAFE DRIVING.

Most cities and towns have a long list of "dons" but do little to educate the drivers of cars. If one half the time that is used trying to make people do something or not to do something was spent in educating the drivers much better results would be obtained. We need drivers' schools and the city or town that first starts such a school will be doing a real service.

WAGES IN KEEPING WITH INCREASE IN PRICES NECESSARY IF THE NEW DEAL IS TO SUCCEED AND PROSPERITY REGAINED — MAYOR CURLEY MAKES PLEA TO PUBLIC TO STAND WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT IN HIS VISION AND COURAGEOUS MOVES TO GIVE THE NATION EMPLOYMENT AND RESTORED HAPPINESS — TALKS OVER RADIO FROM CITY HALL STATION IN REGULAR WEEKLY BROADCAST.

Mayor Curley, speaking over Station WNAC, Monday, August 7, at 2 p. m., said in part as follows:

Friends of the Radio Audience.

The public at large are just as much in the dark as anybody else with reference to the ultimate cost and the ultimate outcome of the program as advanced by the President of the United States for the betterment of conditions in America and for the restoration of industrial prosperity, but one fact stands clearly forth, that something must be done if we are to save the form of government under which America has functioned so admirably for such a long period of time.

Certainly no one believes that we can continue with the number of unemployed that has been found in every section of America during the last three years and with a tremendous increase in that number of unemployed each year and with limited prospects at any time prior to the election of President Roosevelt of a diminution in the number of unemployed. In 1930 it was conservatively estimated that there were three and one half million men without employment in the United States. We will allow forty-two million men in the United States work for a livelihood, and we will allow that due to illness or to breakdown in machinery, etc., that somewhere in the vicinity of 5 per cent of the working people of the United States, or two million, are always out of work, so that one and one half millions was added in 1930 to the two millions of unemployed in the United States and in 1931 the ranks of the unemployed was swollen to somewhere in the vicinity of seven million men. In 1932 we abandoned construction programs of every character, Federal, State and subdivisions of the states, that is, cities and towns, with the result that the unemployed in America increased from seven millions in 1931 to about ten millions in 1932. The abandonment of construction work resulted in the unemployed figures reaching in the vicinity of thirteen million men without employment in January, 1933. When President Roosevelt assumed office every bank in the United States was closed. We had what was known as bank holidays. Not only were the banks closed but the number of unemployed, in the opinion of the heads of organized labor and other authoritative sources in the United States, was approximately fourteen millions.

When the time comes that more persons are out of work than there are at work, then the country is doomed and to save the nation measures of a revolutionary character were necessary. Among the various measures proposed no single one represented a guaranty of a restoration of industrial prosperity and an ending of unemployment in a larger measure than the construction program plus the later program as recommended by President Roosevelt. During the period of the war and for some years prior to the declaration of war, during what we have been pleased to term in America the development of the machine age and of mass production, we had so increased our productivity that it was possible for the industries in America to turn out in a period of seven months the entire requirements of the nation for a full twelvemonth period. During the period of the war the rising prices of every commodity was an incentive for increasing the area for agricultural production, with the result that it was possible to turn out in a single year 50 per cent more than could be consumed by the entire nation. With depression world-wide succeeding the close of the war the outlet for the excess production of America, both those fabricated in industry and those created out of the soil, became a closed book.

New Program Needed.

As a consequence, it became necessary to embark upon a new program to save the situation. It has been conservatively estimated that the actual expenditures for public welfare in the United States for the single year of 1932 was about $1,800,000,000. When the expenditures for Great Britain for the years 1920 to 1928 averaged $200,000,000 a year for dole, the belief was general that England was doomed to become a nation of mendicants.

The fact remains that in 1932 in the United States we expended per capita an amount three times as great as was expended in any one of the peak years in Great Britain. It is accepted by every thoughtful citizen that if America is to be preserved there must be a departure from the old established order and so for a number of years serious consideration has been given to the question of the five-day week with a view to providing one-sixth more opportunities for the unemployed in America. An increase of 16 per cent in the employed would be equivalent to about seven million men and if the laws could be strengthened with reference to women and children in industry, perhaps two million additional opportunities may be provided.

If the construction program embarked upon in every portion of the country is successful a buying power could be once more created in America and the whole program of unemployment would be solved. The President with his board of advisers in their wisdom have seen fit to recommend an extraordinary program, through which competition shall be controlled and a fair return shall accrue to industry; and as a consequence of the increased return to industry with the forty-hour week generally adopted and the five-day week coming into general use, larger opportunity for all of the people would result.

Within the last week one of the agencies privately created to prevent increases in their own taxes saw fit to comment upon the fact that the City of Boston found it necessary to ask for a supplementary budget in the neighborhood of $400,000 to offset the increased cost of material as a consequence of the new program upon which America has embarked. It is rather illuminating to know that on one single item, in order that prosperity might be restored to the farmer, who, after all, is the most important element in the life of America and in the world, for one fourth of all of the people of the United States are dependent not alone for their livelihood but are dependent for their prosperity upon the success and prosperity of agriculture; and of the remaining three quarters one in every three are dependent for their prosperity upon the prosperity of the farmer. Anticipating that the measures adopted for the restoration of the prosperity of the agriculturalist would result in increased prices for all commodities, the City of Boston purchased supplies for the year in January. At that time the city paid $3.89 per barrel for bread flour and $3.29 for pastry flour. Within the past week bread flour at wholesale sold for $6.35 per barrel and pastry flour $5.89.

PRICES ALREADY UP.

Within the past week we found it necessary to purchase certain cable for use in the Park Department in connection with our municipal airport and received bids from ten of the leading concerns in this line, such as Anaconda Wire and Cable Company, The Okonite Company, Wetmore-Savage, General Electric Company, Simplex Wire and Cable, General Cable Corporation, Graybar Electric, Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, American Steel, F. M. Ferrin and the National Electric Products Corporation, and the bids submitted by every one of the concerns was identical, $19,826.50, one half of 1 per cent off for cash. The prices we received represent an increase of about 15 per cent over the prices of last year, and what is true of these particular items will be found true in every case.

To provide a larger measure of opportunity for employment for the people of America and to pay those who are employed a wage commensurate with the increased cost of living, these increased costs are necessary. We must face the situation and be prepared to pay in cash, rather than in conversation, for the restoration of industrial prosperity in the United States and end the dole system in America. Franklin D. Roosevelt, if successful, and I pray God that he will be, will one day take rank with George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and with Abraham Lincoln, as the savior of the American Nation as a consequence of his vision and courage.

COMMISSIONER ROURKE RESIGNS.

Upon August 4 the Mayor issued the following statement:

I am this day in receipt of the resignation of the Commissioner of Public Works for the City of Boston, Joseph A. Rourke, effective September 1, 1933.

The retirement of Mr. Rourke as Public Works Commissioner marks the close of some twenty-five years of service in the Public Works Department. During the entire period of his service he has devoted himself wholeheartedly and conscientiously to the welfare of the city. During his service the present high pressure water system was installed, and the type of high pressure hydrant in general use throughout the United States was invented by Commissioner Rourke.

The termination of Mr. Rourke's service, due to ill health, is in my opinion a great loss to the City of Boston, and while in conformity with his wishes I accept his tender of resignation, I do so with a realization that, in his case at least, it may truly be said that no more capable or faithful employee has ever served the city in any capacity.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with several concerns for work or supplies for the city. Communications signed by the heads of the several departments were as follows:

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

BOSTON, August 4, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request that you disregard our letter of August 3 requesting permission to award a contract to the D'Amore Construction Company in the sum of eighteen hundred and ninety (1,890) dollars for alterations at the David A. Ellis School.

I find that on this building the maintenance bond of the Matthew Cummings Company has one year to run and if we let in another contractor the maintenance bond will be voided. I have taken this matter up with the Corporation Counsel for a general ruling, but I am requesting you at this time to allow me to award a contract, without advertising, in accordance with chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, to the Matthew Cummings Company, 43 Tremont street, Boston, in the sum of two thousand and seventy-four (2,074) dollars for this same work in order that his bond for maintenance may be enforced. Your pleasure is respectfully requested.

Respectfully yours,

WM. W. DRUMMEY,
Superintendent of Construction.

BOSTON, August 8, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Last year the cost of snow removal by this department on empty lots owned by the city, but not having any school or other building constructed on them, cost us about $2,400.

I have recently taken three informal bids from Samuel G. Tomasello, A. J.

Maney Company and A. G. Tomasello for clearing off all this property and leaving it broom clean, regardless of the amount of snow that may fall, for the winter of 1933-34, for these amounts respectively,—$2,350, $1,975 and $1,900.

I think that it would be to the best interests of the city, and I so do respectfully request, that you allow me to award, without advertising, in the sum of $1,900, to A. G. Tomasello & Co., the above-mentioned work, in accordance with chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909.

Respectfully yours,

WM. W. DRUMMEY,
Superintendent of Construction.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

BOSTON, August 8, 1933.

Company for replacing the granite block pavement, with concrete base and grout joints, over the water pipe trench in New Heath street, Roxbury, from Columbus avenue to Parker street, at an estimated cost of $3,300.

This street is within the patching district held by this contractor and the price agreed upon is fair and reasonable.

Yours respectfully,

C. J. CARVEN,
Acting Commissioner of Public Works.

ANNEXATIONS OF BOSTON.

East Boston in 1637; South Boston in 1804, being set off from Dorchester; Roxbury in 1868, a city of Norfolk County since March, 1846; Dorchester in 1870, a town since September, 1630; Charlestown in 1874, a city of Middlesex County since February, 1847; Brighton in 1874, set off from Cambridge and incorporated as a town of Middlesex County in February, 1807; West Roxbury in 1874, set off from Roxbury and incorporated as a town of Norfolk County in May, 1851; Hyde Park in 1912, a town of Norfolk County since April, 1868.

These annexations, which added 24,312 acres of land to the original land of Boston, were by area as follows: East Boston, 1,435 acres; South Boston, 795; Roxbury, 2,450; Dorchester, 5,600; West Roxbury, 8,075; Brighton, 2,664; Charlestown, 424; Hyde Park, 2,869. Filled land increased the area later by 1,396 acres. In 1875 the annexed territory had a population of 201,250, or 58.86 per cent of city's total; in 1910 its population had increased to 477,311, or 71.18 per cent, Hyde Park not included. By 1915 the total was 549,139, or 73.67 per cent of city. By 1925 the total was 607,519, or 77.92 per cent.

A SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred, who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridle and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.11 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Atherton avenue, bounded:

Northwesterly by Atherton avenue, one hundred ninety and 61-100 feet; westerly by the same, one hundred three and 58-100 feet; northerly by the same, ten feet; easterly by the same, one hundred eight and 38-100 feet; southeasterly by the same, one hundred ninety-five and 41-100 feet, and southwesterly by the same, ten feet, containing twenty-nine hundred and ninety square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 260 linear feet of 10 inch pipe sanitary sewer and 230 linear feet of 10-inch and twelve-inch pipe surface drain.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the abutting lots of land on the southeasterly side of Atherton avenue, excluding the lot on the southeasterly side of Atherton avenue at the corner of Albano street and the lot at the southeasterly corner of Atherton avenue and Washington street, will receive benefit and advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered, each of said lots to the amount herein-after respectively set against it, said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 1109, Sewerage Works, Atherton Avenue, West Roxbury, July 15, 1933, William J. The supervising officers shall prepare their cases in complete detail and orderly sequence so that the court and the jury will be in a position to visualize the evidence.

Supervising officers shall cooperate within the scope of their official duty with the various district attorneys, clerks of court, court officers, probation officers and such other persons as are interested in the public welfare.

Supervising officers shall be held responsible for the conduct of all officers appearing before the court, and they shall report in writing to the Supervisor of Cases any neglect of duty, failure to cooperate or any other delinquency on the part of any police officer.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The National Industrial Recovery Act was approved by Congress on July 13, 1933, upon recommendation of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Section I thereof is as follows:

"Section 1. A national emergency productive of widespread unemployment and disorganization of industry, which burdens interstate and foreign commerce, affects the public welfare, and undermines the standards of living of the American people, is hereby declared to exist. It is hereby declared to be the policy of Congress to remove obstruction to the free flow of interstate and foreign commerce which tend to diminish the amount thereof; and to provide for the general welfare by promoting the organization of industry for the purpose of cooperative action among the trade groups, to induce and maintain united action of labor and management under adequate government sanctions and supervision, to eliminate unfair competitive practices, to promote the fullest possible utilization of the present productive capacity of industries, to avoid undue restriction of production (except as may be temporarily required), to increase the consumption of industrial and agricultural products by increasing purchasing power, to reduce and relieve unemployment, to improve standards of labor, and otherwise to rehabilitate industry and to conserve natural resources."

Under the provisions of this act, provided approval is given by the City Council, by the State Commission appointed by the Governor, by the Governor and by the Directors of the Boston Elevated, the Huntington Avenue Subway Extension can be undertaken in a very short period of time. PROGRAM FOR NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL RECOVERY ACT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 31, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The Legislature at its recent session enacted chapter 366, under the provisions of which cities and towns are enabled to secure the benefits provided by the National Industrial Recovery Act. Under the provisions of section 2, Part I, of this act, the first step in the procedure laid down for cities and towns to follow is approval by the City Council by two-thirds vote of a "comprehensive program of public works." I submit herewith such a program involving construction work on twelve projects at an estimated cost of $23,500,000. Since it is the desire of the President that public works of the character outlined in the accompanying order shall be engaged in as speedily as possible, I respectfully recommend prompt consideration and approval by your honorable body of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

This deduction was made in anticipation of the appropriation of the income from this fund for the maintenance expenses of the department. There is now available in the fund income to the amount of $107,000. I submit herewith an appropriation order and respectfully recommend its immediate passage by your honorable body.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Hon. Joseph McGrath,

Acting Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—By vote of the Board of Park Commissioners you are respectfully asked to request the City Council to transfer from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund the sum of $107,000, which is now available, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners as follows:

Common and parks in existence on January 12, 1887, Maintenance and Improvement of..... $107,000

When the budget estimates were made up for the year 1933, a sum equal to the total yearly income of the George F. Parkman Fund was deducted from Item A-1, Permanent Employees, with the understanding that we were to replace same by the entire yearly income of said fund for 1933 transferred to the regular appropriation of the Park Department.

Respectfully yours,

DANIEL J. BYRNE, Secretary.
Referred to Executive Committee.

ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATION FOR CODIFICATION OF BUILDING LAWS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 31, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am advised by the Building Commissioner that the appropriation granted by your honorable body three years ago for the codification of the building laws is practically exhausted, and that to carry on the work during the balance of the current year an appropriation of $1,000 will be required. I submit herewith an order authorizing the appropriation of the desired amount, and respectfully recommend its adoption by your honorable body.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $1,000 be, and the same hereby is, appropriated, to be expended by the Building Commissioner for meeting charges for expert and stenographic services and other necessary and proper expenditures in connection with a codification of the building laws of the city, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

City of Boston,

Building Department, June 14, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Sir,—The Special Appropriation of $10,000 from the Reserve Fund, which was given to this department on March 10, 1930, for the writing of a new building law is almost exhausted. I hereby request an additional appropriation of $1,000 to cover expenses for the remainder of the year.

Yours very truly,

EDWARD W. ROEMER,
Building Commissioner.

Referred to Executive Committee.

SUPPLEMENTARY BUDGET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 31, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith my final supplementary budget recommendations for the current fiscal year totaling $1,067,100. This total representing a reduction of close to $3,800,000 from estimates submitted by department heads is divided as follows:

	Estimate.	Allowance.
City departments.....	$4,860,870	$1,050,000
County departments.....	20,200	17,100
	$4,881,070	$1,067,100

CITY DEPARTMENTS.

The supplementary allotments for city departments are made from the unappropriated balance still available within the appropriation limit authorized by this year's Legislature. The TRANSFER FROM GEORGE F. PARKMAN FUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 31, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In the compilation of the budget of the current year an amount equivalent to the estimated income to be received during the year from the George F. Parkman Fund was deducted from the budget allowance of the Park Department.

following brief summary is submitted in explanation of the allotments recommended:

Boston Port Authority.—The unexpected action of the Interstate Commerce Commission in holding hearings on the petition of the city with reference to lighterage charges in various ports has depleted the original investigation allowance of this Board, and a supplementary allowance of $7,000 is deemed necessary to provide for the activities of the Board for the balance of the year.

Boston Retirement Board.—The amendment made by the Legislature this year permitting the Retirement Board to spread the liquidation of the city's prior service obligation over a longer period of time, and thus reducing the amount to be included in the tax levy each year, necessitated the use of increased actuarial service in connection with the computation of the revised requirements. An appropriation of $1,000 is recommended to provide for this extra service.

Health Department.—The expenditures of the first six months of the current year indicate a probable deficit in excess of $30,000 in the budget item of this department providing for the payment to the state for the care of Boston-settled cases in state sanatoria and institutions.

Hospital Department.—To strengthen certain budget items in which it is evident, from the experience of the first six months of this year, that original allowances will not be sufficient to cover full year requirements, supplementary appropriations totaling $34,000 are recommended.

Institutions Department.—For the same reason as explained in the Hospital Department, supplementary appropriations of $15,000 and $11,000, respectively, have been made in the Child Welfare and Long Island Hospital Divisions of this department.

Licensing Board.—The additional work imposed upon this department by the modification of laws pertaining to the sale of beer makes necessary a supplementary appropriation of $860 to meet expenses not foreseen at the time of making the original budget allowances.

Public Celebrations.—It is evident from the experience of the first six months of the year that the reduction made in the original allotment for this item was too severe, and that to provide for the requirements of the current year an additional allotment of $9,000 is necessary.

Public Welfare Department.—Supplementary appropriations totaling $605,990 are recommended for this department. The principal recommendations included in this total are $75,000 to provide for increased personnel requirements, and $525,190 allocated to the relief item, Care of Dependents. With this appropriation there will have been allotted to the department during the current year for this particular form of relief, approximately $7,350,000. At the present rate of expenditure, disbursements by the department under this item will closely approximate $11,000,000 for the year. Under the provisions of the appropriation limit legislation, it will be necessary for the city to issue bonds for approximately $3,500,000 in order to meet the total requirements of the department under this item.

Public Works Department.—Sanitary Service.—Supplementary appropriations totaling $26,150 are recommended for this division in items where it is apparent the original budget allotments will prove inadequate before the close of the current year.

Reserve Fund.—In order to provide a sufficient amount to meet probable charges against this fund for the balance of the year, and also to have available an ample contingent reserve to meet the increased prices which city departments will undoubtedly be required to pay during the balance of the year for equipment, supplies and materials, a supplementary allotment of $225,000 is recommended for the Reserve Fund.

COUNTY DEPARTMENTS.

The relatively small supplementary appropriations recommended for three county departments are intended to strengthen items in which it appears, from the experience of the first six months of the year, that original budget allotments will not be sufficient to meet the requirements of the full year.

I submit herewith the necessary appropriation and tax order in connection with the supplementary budget and respectively recommend its adoption by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

TRANSFER OF RAINSFORD ISLAND TO PARK DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 25, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith communication received from Park Commissioner Long relative to the transfer of Rainsford Island to the Park Department for recreational purposes, the same constituting a reply to order adopted by your honorable body on July 10, 1933.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH McGRATH,
Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, July 13, 1933.
Hon. Joseph McGrath,
Acting Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council requesting that the Park Commission report on the advisability of the transfer of Rainsford Island to the Park Department for recreational purposes.

Careful consideration of this project forces the Park Commission to report that it feels it would be inadvisable to take over this property for recreational purposes. First, on account of its distance from the city. Second, on account of the present dangerous condition of the Rainsford Island Wharf. Third, on account of the amount of money that would be required to place the island in proper condition.

The Board cannot see how the island could be used for recreational purposes, excepting perhaps for picnics and outings. This would necessitate the policing of the entire area, the upkeep of same and repairs to the buildings, shelters, seats, etc. There is also the possibility of serious water accidents.

For the reasons given above and due to economic conditions, this area should not be taken over for recreational purposes by the Park Department.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

CLOSING OF ALBANY STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 17, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit to you report from Hon. Joseph A. Conry, Traffic Commissioner, relative to the closing of Albany street, from East Newton street to Massachusetts avenue. This is in reply to your order of June 26, 1933.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH McGRATH,
Acting Mayor.

Boston Traffic Commission,
June 30, 1933.

Hon. Joseph McGrath,
Acting Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated June 26, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to report to the City Council as to the commissioner's reason for keeping Albany street, from East Newton street to Massachusetts avenue, closed to vehicular traffic since April 10, which is causing tremendous amount of trouble to autoists and placing patients and visitors at the Boston City Hospital in the danger of life and limb."

Albany street was closed to traffic on April 10, upon the statement filed in this office by the Police Commissioner that the street was unsafe for public travel.

On June 12 the contractor who was engaged in doing the work which necessitated the closing of the street reported to this office that his work was finished and that the street could be opened for traffic. He was notified that inasmuch as the street was closed by request of the Police Commissioner, on the ground that it was dangerous to life and limb, that he had better confer with the Police Commissioner and have that official send a statement to this office that the street was safe for public travel. No such information has as yet been received from the Police Commissioner.

On this date Albany street is barricaded with horses bearing signs "Danger—Police Department."

It is understood that the Public Works Commissioner is doing some work in connection with making the street safe for traffic.

Immediately that information is lodged in this office to the effect that the street is safe for traffic the street will be opened to the public.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH A. CONRY, Commissioner.

3. Report on the petition of Thomas F. Tivenan (referred May 22, 1933), recommending the passage of the following order:

Tivenan in reimbursement for the amount of an execution issued against him on account of his acts as driver of a truck belonging to the Paving Division of the Public Works Department, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Report accepted; order passed.

4. Report on the petition of Mark A. Fay (referred January 9, 1933), recommending the passage of the following order:

Report accepted; order passed.

5. Report on the petition of Wayland F. Tripp (referred May 8, 1933), recommending the passage of the following order:

Ordered, That the sum of two thousand five hundred sixty-eight dollars and thirty-two cents be allowed and paid to Wayland F. Tripp in reimbursement for the amount of a judgment issued against him on account of his acts as a member of the Boston Police Department, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Coun. FITZGERALD—I would like to ask the committee why that large amount for a police officer to be reimbursed?

Coun. RUBY—I am glad that this question is being asked, because I have personally the same views as the councilor from Ward 3 has. My personal opinion is these claims ought not to come to us in this form, but Tripp was a police officer attached to one of the divisions of the City of Boston and while patrolling one of the beats a few years ago and while calling the station house he was ordered by Lieutenant Connolly to go to a home where there had been a telephone call concerning some assaults. He went to that aforesaid home and arrested one or two of the participants. As a result of that arrest there was an assault and battery charge made by the defendant in the original case against the two officers. It was discontinued against one of the officers and there was secured a judgment in the Superior Civil Court in Boston of this amount against Tripp. The approval of this execution was made by the Law Department and simply comes to us as a matter of routine and for that reason the Committee on Claims has sent it on to this body for approval.

Coun. FITZGERALD—I think I read something in the newspaper at the time of this unwarranted assault committed by this police officer on the petitioner in question and I think he knocked this man's eye out with his club. I read in the newspaper that he assaulted this man so badly he lost his eye. Now, this has been held for a long time, and I would like to know if this Council is going on record to pay a police officer this amount of money who would assault a man enough to cause the loss of his eye. I read that in the papers at the time and I for one will not vote to reimburse him that amount of money.

Coun. RUBY—The councilor from Ward 3 was mixed up in the cases. That is not the case in question. In this case the officer who had committed the assault was not the officer in question, but for some reason and because the question arises now, I believe there ought to be an ordinance passed by our body compelling the Law Department to defend every one of these actions. I find that the present system today is to allow some of these cases, justifiable or unjustifiable, to go by default. This case, I understand, was tried, but there are cases that have come to this committee's attention that are defaulted in the courts of Boston and then the execution passed on to us. But let me read in this case a letter sent to Samuel Silverman, Esq.:

"This is a claim for indemnification against an execution obtained against him for personal injuries, caused by him in the course of his duty as a police officer.

As a result of a complaint received by Lieutenant Connolly of Division 13, on August 5, 1928, this petitioner was ordered to go to the home of one Drew, at 93 Brookside avenue, Jamaica Plain. Obeying the instructions of his superior, he went to the above numbered street, and upon seeking admittance was attacked by the man who came to the door. Upon further complaint of noises at this place another officer was sent there and also officers from the station with a wagon. Arrests were finally made and three men were brought to the station. Later, these men were found guilty upon trial in the West Roxbury Court, but appealed and had a trial in the Superior Court and were found not guilty."

I am informed that the case was discontinued against the other officer because, unfortunately for Tripp, he owned real estate.

"Suit was brought against the petitioner and another officer by Grover C. Drew, and later was discontinued against the brother officer. Meantime this petitioner was arrested for assault and battery and was found not guilty in the West Roxbury District Court.

Upon trial in the Suffolk Superior Court a verdict was rendered against the petitioner in the sum of $2,500 and $68.32 and execution issued for $2,568.32.

The execution in this case was obtained against the petitioner for injuries caused by him in the course of his duty as a police officer and I recommend that he be indemnified in the sum of $2,568.32.

Yours truly,
MARY A. COSTELLO,
Assistant Corporation Counsel."

Coun. BURKE—I might have misunderstood when the councilor read that the officer who is now being reimbursed was found not guilty in the lower court. I was wondering whether or how he came up in the Superior Court?

Coun. RUBY—He was sued civilly in spite of the fact he was found not guilty in West Roxbury.

Coun. COX—I would like to ask the chairman of the Claims Committee whether or not this case was tried before a jury in the civil action?

Coun. RUBY—I assume so. It was tried in the Suffolk Superior Civil Court, and it is hard to say whether tried before a single justice or a jury, but I assume it was tried before a judge and jury.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, in view of that, whether tried before a jury, or whether it was tried before a justice of the Superior Court, they certainly have found this man guilty; certainly have found him guilty when they entered a judgment of $2,500 against him, and I don't think this Council should encourage negligence or an assault on the part of any city employee. There has been a long list here of one hundred or two hundred items through negligence because these cases go to court and they are found negligent and now we have a judgment of over $5,000 which you are asking the citizens of the city to pay a police officer for beating up a poor defenceless person.

Coun. RUBY—Might I say for the protection of the committee that we do not want to be left carrying the bag. If the councilor from Ward 20 would have listened to my opening remarks, I said that while I did not approve of this method of reimbursement, nevertheless if these orders will come to us as recommended from the Law Department for payment, and while a man who was found not guilty of assault and battery in the criminal court for Boston and was sued civilly and a jury might have awarded this amount of money, it does not necessarily admit that he was guilty of the assault.

Coun. BURKE—Might I ask a question through the Chair?

President McGRATH—Yes, if the councilor will answer.

Coun. RUBY—Yes, I will answer.

Coun. BURKE—Do you think it would be possible for either a justice of the court or a jury acting with the justice of a court to find a man not guilty if he was not guilty?

Coun. RUBY—I don't want to be critical of the councilor's question, but as a lawyer he ought to know that I might be arrested for assault and battery and taken to the Dorchester Court tomorrow morning and be found not guilty. However, it would not preclude me from being sued civilly and judgment obtained against me. That is a common, ordinary matter that comes up every day, and, of course, I might not be guilty even though a judgment is awarded against me in the civil court arising out of a criminal assault on which I am found not guilty. Those things happen every day, and in this case, and I am not fighting for the award, I don't want this to be misunderstood, in this case I have been informed that the assaulting officer in this particular case, his action was discontinued only because plaintiff in the civil action felt that he could not recover against him because he was recovery proof, and because Tripp had property they proceeded against him and recovered civilly this $2,500; and he comes here as an executive doing work for the city and asks to be reimbursed because of the fact that he was performing his duty on orders from his superior. He went to this home, as a result of which suit is brought against him.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Might I ask the chairman of the committee if he can give the Council information as to what this man was sued on; what kind of an assault?

President McGRATH—The matter will be referred to the Executive Committee.

INCREASED WELFARE ALLOWANCE.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Overseers of Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to rearrange their payments to beneficiaries so that they will receive increases in their allowances to make up for the increased cost in living due to a rise in the prices of ordinary commodities and that such payments be increased 20 per cent.

Coun. BURKE—The Mayor of Boston this very day requested additional money for the budget of the City Hospital due to the fact that the prices of commodities have arisen to the point where it is beginning to be felt by the Purchasing Agent of the City of Boston and I think if the budget for the City of Boston in the maintenance of their other departments should be increased to purchase food supplies, then the budget of the Welfare Department should also be reviewed and a substantial increase given to provide for the increased cost of food.

Coun. BRACKMAN—I was about to offer a similar order calling upon the Welfare Department to increase their budget 20 per cent. The Mayor today stated some of our hospitals have asked for a supplementary budget to the extent of approximately 20 per cent for foodstuff and I think we ought to be consistent and call upon the Welfare Department to increase their allotment by 20 per cent and I would like to offer that amendment for that increased 20 per cent.

President McGRATH—Any objection, Councilor Burke?

Coun. BURKE—I accept the amendment.

The order was passed under the suspension of the rules.

CONTRACT FOR POLICE DEPARTMENT RADIO.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to take immediate steps to award the contract for the installation of a radio system in the Police Department.

Coun. BURKE—During the last three weeks it was broadcasted in the newspapers in the City of Boston that the Commissioner of Police has failed to advertise for the purchasing of radio equipment. Since that time a committee has been appointed by the Governor for the purpose of investigating criminal activities in the City of Boston and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and I believe the Police Commissioner should be compelled by the Governor to obtain a radio as promptly as possible so the prevention of crime in so far as radio equipment is concerned can be of benefit to the City of Boston in reducing crime in the City of Boston.

The order was passed under suspension of the rules.

TENNIS COURTS IN DORCHESTER PARK.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install tennis courts in Dorchester Park immediately, so that they will be available for the balance of the season.

Coun. BURKE—Park Commissioner Long promised that the tennis courts would be installed in Dorchester Park some months ago. He hasn't lived up to his promise and therefore I am submitting this order.

Coun. FISH—Regarding the order I might say the Commissioner of Parks and Playgrounds made that promise to me before the Dorchester Club and I am sorry to hear that he has not fulfilled that promise.

The order was passed under suspension of the rules.

WARD 17 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Avondale court, Ward 17, as a public highway.

Order passed under suspension of rules.

DELEGATES TO NATIONAL ENCAMPMENT OF UNITED SPANISH WAR VETERANS:

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That all members of the Department of Massachusetts United Spanish War Veterans, employed by the City of Boston, who are elected either delegates or alternates to the National Encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans to be held at Los Angeles, California, be granted leave of absence, without loss of pay, to attend.

Order passed under suspension of the rules.

SIDEWALKS IN WARD 17.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along 1203, 1204 and 1209 Adams street, Ward 17, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

EMPLOYMENT FOR WHITE-COLLAR CLASS.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor give consideration to the problem of furnishing work for men and women in the so-called white-collar class when allocating funds made available through federal loan.

Coun. ROBERTS—We all realize the problem of furnishing work to every class of individual is a very difficult one. This order calls for the Mayor to give a little extra consideration to the employment of the white-collar class. In our City Planning Board and the Department of the Assessors we have a number of men qualified and graduates of professional schools working for a mere pittance and I am hopeful that the Mayor and the authorities at Washington can devise some plan to provide work for these people.

Order passed under suspension of the rules.

IMPROVEMENTS IN WARD 6.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install a drinking fountain in the Father Thomas W. Buckley Playground, Ward 6.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement Silver street, from E to Dorchester streets, Ward 6.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement Holton street, from E to Dorchester streets, Ward 6.

Severally passed under suspension of the rules.

SIDEWALKS IN WARD 11.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Elmore street, both sides, from Washington street to Walnut avenue, Ward 11, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Kingsbury street, both sides, from Washington street to Bainbridge street, Ward 11, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Severally passed under suspension of rules.

ACCEPTANCE OF HUTCHINS AVENUE.

Coun. POWER offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Hutchins avenue, Ward 10, as a public highway.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

NAMING OF WALTER R. WHITE SQUARE.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:
Ordered, That the space at the intersection of Richfield street and Columbia road be named Walter R. White square, in honor of said White, late veteran of the World War, and that suitable signs be placed on same.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

CUT IN SALARY OF MANAGER EDWARD L. LOGAN.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor as chairman of the George Robert White Fund compel Manager Edward L. Logan to take the same cut in his salary of $20,000 as all city employees.

Coun. KELLY—Now that the world's champion traveling mayor has returned to Boston, I am going to ask him through the Council as chairman of the George Robert White Fund, that he compel the man whom he had appointed, to wit, Manager Judge Edward L. Logan, to take the same cut in his salary that every other city employee has taken. You might remember, Mr. President, that Mr. Logan receives $20,000 a year from the estate of George Robert White, who left it for the benefit of the people of Boston. It seems to me that a man receiving such an amount of money should at least take a 15 per cent cut the same as an individual taking $2,000 or over. 18,500 employees have taken a cut of 5 to 15 per cent. Washerwomen in the City Hospital who receive but $12 or $13 a week taking a 5 per cent cut, and so on to the 18,500 employees. Here is a gentleman with a five-year job receiving, as I said, $20,000 and nobody seems to be making any attempt at all to compel him to do the same as the $2,000 or $1,000 city employee. I wouldn't mind if this gentleman had only one occupation, but the City of Boston also pays him as a judge of the South Boston Court. I recall also that he is a supposedly prominent attorney with a good income from a profession. I recall that he is a man that has had considerable to do with the Federal National Bank and many other enterprises, and I don't believe that compelling a gentleman receiving this amount of money to give back 15 per cent of his salary is anything but fair. I intend to bring this to the attention of his Honor the Mayor if I have to do it by registered mail. You may say that this has no bearing on the City Council. The President of the Council is one of the trustees, and we have to express our views through you to the other four members, calling upon the Mayor because he is the chairman of the Board, and I hope that my order will not be sidetracked by any of that famous Committee on Rules we have in the Council or any other committee. It is a thing that the people of the City of Boston are with, the public servants of Boston, to see that everybody is treated fairly. Why should a man receiving $2,000, taking his life in his own hands and devoting ten hours a day to his work, be taking a 15 per cent cut, whereas downstairs there is a man receiving twice as much as the Governor of the Commonwealth and he is not asked to contribute. There are plenty of people needing medical attention who are unable to get the carfare to go to the City Hospital. That cut should be taken and donated back to the fund and spent properly and I hope the Mayor of Boston and the trustees if they are sincere will compel this man of many incomes to do the same and contribute the same amount of money as the fifteen thousand employees of the City of Boston at the present time, and I request, Mr. President, that this order be passed under suspension of rules.

Coun. COX—I would like to ask a point of information. Has the City of Boston anything to do with the private corporation of the White Fund?

President McGRATH—Except the President of the Council is a member of the Board.

Coun. COX—I mean regarding the cut?

President McGRATH—No.

Coun. COX—Then that order is out of order?

President McGRATH—It is a request of the Mayor. Councilor Kelly asked suspension of the rules.

IMPROVEMENTS IN WARD 17.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council as to what action, if any, is contemplated on the orders passed by the Council for the construction of granolithic sidewalks on Monson, Temple, Sturbridge and Old Morton streets, Ward 17.

Order passed under suspension of the rules.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC LANDS.

Coun. KELLY, for the Committee on Public Lands, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred August 1, 1932) for the sale of land at Commercial and Battery streets, formerly occupied by Police Station 8,—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 20, nays 0.

2. Report on the order (referred July 10) relative to transferring certain land for a building for All Dorchester Post No. 154, American Legion, on Columbia road, at Ceylou street,—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed.

APPROPRIATION FOR JOHN H. L. NOYES PLAYGROUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 31, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—There is an unexpended balance of $5,000 in the appropriation for the William Amerena Playground at East Boston that can be utilized with advantage to the people in an improvement to the John H. L. Noyes Playground at East Boston. I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for William Amerena Playground, Improvements, $5,000, to the appropriation for John H. L. Noyes Playground, Improvements, etc., $5,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

FLOATS ON DORCHESTER BEACHES.

Coun. FISH offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to restore the floats on the Dorchester beaches.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK IN WARD 21.

Coun. HEIN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Beacon street, north side, from Mountfort street to Brookline line, Ward 21, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

RESTORATION OF SALARY CUTS.

Coun. HEIN offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to restore to the city and county employees the amounts which have been cut from their wages during the period of depression.

Coun. HEIN—The reason for the order at the present time is President Roosevelt's Industrial Reconstruction program which has an effect on this city and every large city in the entire country. Before the tax bills go out the Mayor might see his way clear to restore wages to those who had the cut.

Order passed under suspension of the rules.

DEFENSE BY CORPORATION COUNSEL OF CITY EMPLOYEES

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested by his Honor the Mayor to assign a member of his staff to defend and represent all employees against whom there may be claims and which by statute the city may be required to reimburse.

Coun. COX—I would like to hear the order read again.

The order was read again by the clerk.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, might I just, for the sake of the councilor from Ward 20, say I will approve that order because information has come to me as chairman of the Committee on Claims that through inadvertence or otherwise, certain claims of this kind that we have been acting on today are allowed to go by default in the civil court in our city and then the citizens of Boston are compelled to reimburse. I think in all these cases where the City of Boston becomes a party, because it is obliged to pay out the money, we ought to have the opportunity of defending the actions with proper counsel, and I am introducing this order for just that reason,—that the Corporation Counsel shall take due notice of the fact that we want some one in his department defending any claims that we may be compelled to reimburse and I ask suspension of the rules.

President McGRATH—Rules have been suspended and the order passed.

Coun. COX—In reply to the chairman of the Claims Committee I do not feel that the taxpayers of the City of Boston should be asked to defend any of its employees that go into court and are found guilty. I don't think it is up to the taxpayers to defend a man who is found guilty of negligence, whether he is in the Sanitary, Health, Police or Fire Department. We have these little matters coming up here week after week of $100 and $200 and now a judgment of $2,000 for a police officer. Now, the way to discourage that is to let them pay their own way. There isn't any reason why the taxpayers should defend them in court or, after they are found guilty, compensate them for the just verdicts.

Coun. RUBY—The councilor must bear in mind that up to within two years ago a fireman or a policeman could come into this body and ask for reimbursement. By statute passed by one of the legislatures within the last three years, any employee can come in now and if we are to protect the taxpayers of Boston, this is the method by which the protection can come. If they have a right by an act of the Legislature to come to us surely we want to say that only those who are not responsible ought to be reimbursed and this is the method to do it.

RECESS.

The Council took a recess at 4:50 p. m. and were called to order in the chamber by President McGRATH at 5:45 p. m.

REPORT FROM EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Coun. RUBY for the Executive Committee submitted the following:

1. Report on petition (referred today) for transferring $5,000 in the appropriation for the William Amerena Playground at East Boston to the John H. L. Noyes Playground,—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

2. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) appropriating $1,000 for codification of building laws,—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

3. Report on the petition of Josephine Martin (referred January 11, 1932) to be paid an annuity on account of the death of her husband, Frank L. Martin, late member of the Fire Department,—recommending the passage of the following:

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 182 of the Acts of 1930, as amended by chapter 241 of the Acts of 1930, an annuity of $1,600 be allowed and paid to Josephine Martin, widow of Frank L. Martin, a member of the Fire Department, who died December 1, 1931, on account of injuries received in the performance of his duty; said annuity being made up of allowances as follows:

For the widow, Josephine Martin, so long as she remains unmarried, $1,000 per annum;

For each of the following-named children, during such time as he or she is under the age of eighteen or over said age and physically or mentally incapacitated from earning, $200 per annum;

Francis Martin, born July 17, 1925; Eugene Martin, born February 19, 1928; Eileen Martin, born May 17, 1931, and the payments to date from December 2, 1931, and to be charged to the appropriation for Fire Department, Pensions and Annuities.

Report accepted; order passed.

4. Report on message of the Mayor (referred today) on supplementary city and county appropriations amounting to $1,676,100,—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. DOWD—I am going to move you, sir, that we vote on one individual item there, the item of $80,000 for lighting purposes. Vote on that separately if there is no objection.

President McGRATH—Councilor Dowd asks that we take up the $80,000 item for lighting and vote on it at this time.

Coun. KELLY—I want to make a statement. I am going to vote for the $80,000, but I feel that the Mayor should comply with the order passed by the honorable body a few weeks ago, and, incidentally, which he promised to do today. He should call in the officials of the Edison Company and ask them as their part to donate current,—juice that was supplied for every third light instead of taking from the taxpayers of Boston $80,000. They are taking enough every year,—$18,000,000 from the consumers of Boston, and over $1,000,000 in round figures from the City of Boston for the lighting of streets and public buildings. I understand, and I think I am correctly informed, and not contradicted by the gentlemen who have more knowledge of electricity than myself, that it will cost the Edison Company practically nothing to turn that third light on. The pole is there and the bulb is there and all it needs is the juice to be contacted at that particular point. I am informed also that the energy is wasted and thrown away after it has gone its distance and it is a wonder to me that the Mayor of Boston does not call in the officials of the Edison Company and ask them to contribute to the welfare of the City of Boston this thing that is not costing them anything. It is a shame that he allows $80,000 to be paid. We all agree that we need the lights, but the Mayor of Boston before he allows the $80,000, which I will vote for, I hope that he will do as he promised me in his office when he said he thought it was a worthy suggestion and that he will call in the Edison officials and ask them will they not contribute lighting for the rest of the year.

Coun. NORTON—I believe that if a study was made of the lighting structure in Boston it will be possible to eliminate the lights for the business section during the night to a greater extent than has been done; to cut out lights in the business and warehouse sections of the city as is now taken out of the residential areas. There has been a survey made of American cities, so far as deleting lights is concerned, by the Leland Stanford University of California, in which they say it is possible to cut down in the night hours in the business sections. I represent a home-owning ward where people are in need of lights and where I walk along a street where there is hardly a house and find lights stuck up in trees which shows there has been no scientific survey made of this lighting situation. With regard to what Councilor Kelly says regarding the Edison Company, we are paying them more money for a city of our size than any other city in America pays for lighting its streets, but under the present circumstances as we need the lights, I think it is possible to properly light the city if they will make a study of the downtown business and warehouse areas, a study as was made by the Department of Government in that great western university some time ago.

The question came on the passage of the lighting item and it was passed, yeas 19, nays (Coun. Norton) 1.

Coun. DOWD—I now move you that the following items be stricken from the supplementary budget,—$7,000 for the Port Authority, because I am of the opinion that while I have been in this Council they have accomplished nothing so far as I can see. Also the item of $9,000 stricken out for the Public Celebrations, because in these days we should curtail and not entertain to the extent of the expenditure of $9,000.

President McGRATH—The question now comes on the motion by Councilor Dowd to strike out the $7,000 for Port Authority, and $9,000 for Public Celebrations.

The question was taken and the Chair declared the motion lost.

Coun. FISH—I ask that those two items shall be voted on separately.

Coun. KELLY—I don't know who the public celebrations are, but a year or two ago it used to be $9,000 to entertain the Japanese prince and princess and some more distinguished people that come from nowhere across the sea. I understand that $9,000 is going to be spent mostly on dignitaries from Washington who will have occasion to visit this city in the next three or four months to study something in connection with the Federal Government and the Mayor of Boston is going to give them a reception at the expense of the people of Boston so that they can go back and perhaps after a while they will be able with the good reports that they bring back of the nice reception which they no doubt think the Mayor is giving them personally, but it will be at the hands of the taxpayers,—they will go back to their post in Washington and perhaps they will be able to get the gentleman a job.

Coun. ROBERTS—I ask a separate vote on those two items.

The question came on the passage of the $7,000 for Port Authority. The item was adopted, yeas 17, nays 3.

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Brackman, Burke, Donovan, Englert, Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Gleason, Green, Hein, Lynch, McGrath, Murray, Norton, Power, Roberts, Ruby.—17.

Nays—Dowd, Fitzgerald, Kelly.—3.

The question then came on the passage of the $9,000 appropriation for Public Celebrations.

Coun. RUBY—Just a word in explanation and I hope the councilor on my right will pardon me for so doing, but I don't think that the explanation given by the councilor from Ward 13 is correct because I assume we are asked to vote for $9,000 for public celebrations, which I assume will be expended on Labor Day, Columbus Day and those different holidays with reference to which celebrations are carried but under the suggestion made by the councilor from Ward 15 it would have been an item under conventions and entertainment of distinguished guests and which items are not being voted on.

Coun. KELLY—I might say that we had this order in executive and I made some inquiries from the chairman of the Executive Committee and from the other members of the Council and nobody seemed to know what the $9,000 was for at this particular time. Of course, this reference that the previous speaker made to a previous budget had nothing to do with the budget passed a few months ago and nothing to do with the supplementary budget. It seems to me that if it was for patriotic celebrations, observances of patriotic days, somebody from the Public Celebrations Department should have come forward and advanced the reason and what these items were for instead of submitting us just $9,000 for public celebrations. I presume this is $9,000 that will not be spent in observance of patriotic holidays to come the rest of the year, but it is spent in observance and in celebrations given to these visitors that come on here from Washington as members of the new administration, and in the absence of any explanation by anybody in authority on this $9,000 I am forced to vote against it.

Coun. NORTON—$9,000 for public celebrations for taking somebody over to the Parker House and entertaining them in this year when we have a line that would reach from Orient Heights to Readville with people asking for charity shows how far out of step some officials are with actual conditions. The Mayor of Boston talks about $9,000. I may be wrong, but his Honor the Mayor said I was the author of more darned fool pet theories than anybody he knew of. Well, if you take the most of things for the last twenty years and look over the things he has espoused, when you look through this record of the objections made to his Honor's programs and how week after week he has turned completely around.—$9,000 of public celebrations when recipients of public welfare pour into that "house of horrors," and the Mayor sitting there complacently,—a handsome looking chief executive and talking to prove he represented all that was excellent in executiveship said that nothing could be done about that public welfare condition. Now he comes and asks for $9,000 for this office out here that officially entertains. It does seem that we have enough millionaires in Boston to entertain the so-called social leaders to put their hand in their own pockets and perform this public duty. I cannot understand any man asking for that amount of money today when we have so many people in need. There are 5,000 children in my ward alone that need shoes tonight,—or tomorrow somebody remarked, there will be more tomorrow. This winter is going to be the worst. There is no question about it. A year from today, gentlemen, you will no more hear a man talking about public works than you will hear him talking about prosperity is around the corner,—happy days are here again. Only yesterday they were hollering out to play it up again, boys. The leaders who would start that today would be mobbed. Prosperity was going to come around in three months from now, and we are flatter on our backs more than ever and a study of economics will prove that this winter is going to be a terrible winter. We were years going into this depression and we will be years coming out, even giving the President the greatest praise. Politics is not the answer, so I cannot vote for the $9,000. I voted for the Port Authority because they are fighting a battle which may mean the life of our port. They have to hire attorneys in Washington and that costs money. I vote for that because it may mean the future of our port and the future of our city, but when it comes to voting $9,000 with these terrible conditions with 120,000 families in Boston asking for something to eat, I cannot vote for it.

Coun. BURKE—Last May the question of Dorchester Day celebration came up and I being a Dorchester ward councilor went to the Mayor and asked him if it would be possible to give some money towards the celebration of Dorchester Day and I was informed it would be impossible; that the money was needed for the Welfare Department; if it was true then, it is true now, and I believe somebody in the Celebrations Department has taken the Mayor at a time when he has been in a position to be swayed. I don't believe his answer today would be any different than in May when he said money is needed for the Welfare Department and I feel bound to say that the Celebrations Department can get along without the money now as well as they could in June because it is just as much needed at the present time as it was in June for the Welfare Department, and for that reason I am going to vote against it.

Coun. BRACKMAN—I am going to vote in favor of this appropriation. In the past this appropriation was extremely larger, running into many thousand dollars. It has been cut to practically nothing in comparison with the amounts spent previously. I don't believe in these days of the depression every nickel should be cut out for public celebrations and that the city should put up black flags and everybody go into mourning. We have to keep up the courage of the people in spending a small amount of money which is spread over the entire City of Boston and as borne by the entire number of taxpayers in the city amounts to practically nothing. I don't think we ought to have this great speech about welfare. I think we are fortunate in being able to meet our welfare budget and I think that $9,000 can be spent for this purpose at this time.

Coun. DOWD—At the outset of this year the Public Celebrations Committee was asked to submit their budget, which they did, and this Council gave them the money which they asked for. Now, they come back and ask for $9,000 more. The reason I am not voting for it is that there is rank discrimination in the Public Celebrations Committee,—and I am not blaming the man at the head of the department. There are twenty-two wards in the city and twenty-two men elected to represent them and there isn't any logical reason why any one ward should be given more money on a public holiday than a man in another ward. Every individual pays their taxes the same as every other individual and if there is $500 to be spent in each ward it should be given the same in every ward, but the children living in the poorer sections do not receive the courtesies or favors or the money that the children living in other sections who are better able to procure them for themselves, and therefore I am voting against it because I am of the opinion that there is rank discrimination and therefore I am not voting for the order.

Coun. ROBERTS—I do not desire to continue the discussion any further, but would simply like to say that one of the most criticized departments is the Department of Public Celebrations and at the time we had this under consideration in the Committee on Appropriations we had objections from practically every outside organization that had an interest in the budget. We passed one budget. I don't think there is any reason to increase this by an additional appropriation.

The question came on the passage of the item of $9,000 for Public Celebrations. The item was passed, yeas 15, nays 5:

Yeas—Barker, Brackman, Donovan, Englert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Gleason, Green, Hein, Lynch, McGrath, Murray, Power, Ruby—15.

Nays—Burke, Dowd, Kelly, Norton, Roberts—5.

The question then came on the passage of all the remaining items.

Coun. NORTON—I rise on a point of information. How much is in this budget for the Public Welfare, if any?

President McGRATH—$525,000.

Coun. NORTON—I respectfully ask that that particular item be voted on separately, Mr. President.

President McGRATH—Councilor Norton asks that we take up at this time the item of $525,000 for Public Welfare.

The item was passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

Coun. NORTON—I rise to a point of information. In the remaining items is there any item for hospital?

President McGRATH—$34,000 for hospitals.

Coun. NORTON—I respectfully request a vote on that separately. The question came on the passage of the item of $34,000 for hospitals.

The item was passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

Coun. NORTON—I would like to have read the remaining items.

President McGRATH—The clerk will read the remaining items.

The clerk read the remaining items of the supplementary budget.

President McGRATH—Those are the remaining items.

Coun. KELLY—If it is in order, I would like to have voted on separately,—in fact, I make a motion that the vote on the Health Department, $30,000, $15,000 for the Institutions, and the item for the Long Island Hospital separately, but together.

The question came on the passage of the said three items.

The said three items were passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

Coun. FISH—I move that the balance of the budget lay on the table for a week.

A motion to lay the balance of the budget on the table for one week lost.

The question then came on the passage of the balance of the budget.

The remaining items in the budget passed, yeas 17, nays 3:

Yeas—Barker, Brackman, Burke, Donovan, Englert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Gleason, Greeu, Hein, Lynch, McGrath, Murray, Power, Roberts, Ruby—17.

Nays—Dowd, Kelly, Norton—3.

COUNTY APPROPRIATIONS ORDER.

Coun. HEIN called up, under unfinished business, No. 4 on the calendar, viz.:

4. Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of January, 1933, for performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the County of Suffolk or the departments or officers thereof, the respective sums of money specified in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out be, and the same are, hereby appropriated for the several departments and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated, that the same be raised by taxation to the amount of $42,950 upon the polls and estates in the City of Boston, and that all orders heretofore passed by the City Council relating to appropriations and taxes and the interest thereon apply to the taxes herein provided for.

The question came on taking the order from table.

The motion was lost.

SPECIAL SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Boston City Council that his Honor the Mayor request the Governor of the Commonwealth to call a special session of the Legislature to make provision for the City of Boston in the elimination of the so-called slum housing.

Coun. NORTON—The Mayor of Boston proposed an important question when he asked what I would do with the $23,000,000. The first thing I would do with it, instead of spending it for playgrounds and pleasure roads around Castle Island and parking spaces in the South Boston dumps,—the first thing I would do would be to provide for the elimination of the slums.

Coun. DONOVAN—I object to the "dumps."

Coun. NORTON—I don't know what you would call it,—with the Young Barrel Company dumping in that area filled by the Commonwealth.

Coun. DONOVAN—They are not dumps, but the dredging that has been done has been covered by a cinder fill to keep the dust down.

Coun. NORTON—I would ask the councilor to differentiate between a dump fill and a dump, but since we haven't a dictionary here at the present time, I won't press that question. I am not reflecting upon the glory of South Boston, but they have a tremendous area used to fill in and I will accept that correction. Instead of spending this money for park improvements, beach improvements, with a line of hungry people, I would use that, Mr. President, to eliminate the slums in Boston and $23,000,000 isn't any too much to start with, and with that start in mind, I believe the Mayor of Boston should demand that the Governor call a special session in these acute times when we think the Legislature under the present circumstances would favorably look upon the allowance of anything spent in Boston for the elimination of the slums.

Order passed under suspension of the rules.

AIR-CONDITIONING, BOSTON CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of requesting the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital to air-condition, refrigerate, a section of one of the new hospital buildings.

Coun. NORTON—A year ago in the Boston City Hospital I had occasion to visit a patient who complained of the extreme heat. In the period that has gone on since that time I have asked the American Medical Association to collaborate for me information from a medical standpoint regarding the cooling off of a certain section and they have collaborated with the Harvard School of Public Health. I think that during the hot weeks of the summer the Boston City Hospital is one of the hottest points in the city,—although the Mayor felt it was very cool there at night. I have had occasion to go down to that battery of red brick and concrete, basking in the sun, and have seen thousands of patients suffering from fever and it does seem we could artificially refrigerate it for these unfortunates. Now, I had anticipated from the medical authorities objections to central heating of homes 150 years ago and they said to heat the homes in Boston the health would be undermined and here is the last word from the American Medical Association, Harvard, in which they say that certain patients are in need of a room where the air has been air-conditioned in Boston during the hot weeks of the summer and I ask that this order be sent to the trustees of the hospital.

Order passed under suspension of the rules.

JOSEPH A. LOGAN SQUARE.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the square at the junction of River street and Fairmount avenue, Hyde Park, now known as Everett square, be named and hereafter known as Joseph A. Logan square.

Coun. NORTON—I have requested that the statement I have sent to the clerk be incorporated in the record regarding the life of the late Joseph A. Logan. In past years I have spoken on about every subject in this honorable body and it has been extremely kind, but this is one occasion when I am unable to properly describe the life and character of perhaps the best friend I had,—the man who sent me here to the Council and without whose help I would not have received five votes. Some one has said that the greatest feelings of the human heart had never been expressed in writing or in words and I will allow this statement to go at that. I have sent to the clerk a statement regarding the life of the late Representative Joseph A. Logan and ask that this square named Edward Everett, which was named when we were incorporated as a town, that this square where Joseph worked and spent his time be named after our late friend. He was the first boy from the district to go to the war. He organized the American Legion Post there. How can we better teach the plain principles of pure Americanism than erecting a monument in that square depicting Joe as he stepped forth to go to war in 1917 in answer to the call of President Wilson and was the first boy from that section to set his foot upon the soil of France.

Order passed under suspension of the rules.

The following is the statement submitted by Coun. Norton:

Great men die, but the memory of their good deeds live forever, said a great ancient, Cicero. A few weeks ago the late Representative Joseph A. Logan of Hyde Park passed on. He was a leading citizen of our district. More than this, he made an outstanding contribution to the public weal, to the common poor people, over a period of years. His public service was that of a representative of the people who never betrayed their interests.

Gifted by the Almighty with an extraordinary mental capacity, he used this God-given gift in the interest of the friendless, the unknown and the poor. Practicing law in his home section for over ten years, enjoying a lucrative practice, what more eloquent thing can be said of him than the fact that he died poor. He never refused a worthy request for charity. No one ever appealed to him who went away empty-handed. He made thousands upon thousands of dollars, but passed on a poor man, as he desired to. He loved his people and his people loved him. This was evidenced by one of the greatest outpourings of a people, when thousands lined the streets in a mark of tribute and respect, the day that he was buried.

In 1917, when the late Woodrow Wilson called the youth of America to arms, our Joe was the first boy to reach France in answer to that call, ready and willing to lay down his life for his country. He typified the finest of American ideals, as the late General Edwards on one occasion remarked. He returned home, organized the American Legion in our district and was the first commander. His unselfish efforts in the interests of the public weal, was responsible for my coming to the Council. Without his aid, I never could have been a member of this honorable body. I was only one of many that he assisted.

These are times when most eloquent words cannot convey poignant human feelings. The deeper feelings and longings of the human heart have never been expressed in writing. This is one occasion when I feel that my feeble efforts to portray in words a great character is an utter futility. It would take the tongue of a Cicero, the genius of a Michelangelo to do so.

The power of example is mighty. By naming the square after a friend, by holding up to the people of our district, to thousands yet unborn, the ideals which the life of the late Joseph A. Logan exemplified, we will be perpetuating real Americanism in its higher form.

In Boston, today, we have two squares named after the late eminent Edward Everett. This order proposes that the square named after this great man in Hyde Park be renamed Joseph A. Logan square. In this square and close by it Joe spent much of his life. He had his office in this square. He was to be found of a night standing about it, hearing the requests and appeals of his people. He loved this area. His friends propose that if this square is renamed, a fitting monument be erected to the honor and memory of one of the most eminent citizens our district has ever produced,—our Joe.

We, the undersigned, respectfully request that the Street Commissioners favorably consider the matter of renaming Everett square, Hyde Park, to that of Joseph A. Logan square, since there are two Everett squares in Boston.

Respectfully submitted,

Thomas H. Green, William G. Lynch, John F. Dowd, Joseph McGrath, John J. Donovan, John Donovan, Wilton Vaughn, David Brackman, Israel Ruby, Albert L. Fish, Joseph P. Cox, James Hein, Edward M. Gallagher, Thomas Burke, Francis E. Kelly, Peter A. Murray, David M. Brackman, Richard D. Gleason, Leo F. Power, Edward L. Englert, George P. Donovan, George W. Roberts, John I. Fitzgerald.

No. 33

TAX RATE IN BOSTON FOR 1933 TO BE LOWERED TO $33 PER THOUSAND IS PREDICTION OF BUDGET COMMISSIONER FOX—SPEAKS OVER CITY HALL RADIO STATION OUTLINING FOR MAYOR CURLEY THE BURDENS CITY IS CARRYING BECAUSE OF UNFRIENDLY ACTION OF LEGISLATURE, THE INCREASED DEMANDS FROM STATE, AND EFFORTS BEING MADE TO OFFSET THESE BY CITY OFFICIALS.

Charles J. Fox, Budget Commissioner, over Station WNAC, on August 14, spoke as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Radio Audience.

It is my privilege today to discuss with you some of the financial recommendations of Mayor Curley, to be considered by the members of the City Council at a special meeting now being held at City Hall. Because of the financial importance of these matters and also because of the fact they really are history-making in their effect, I feel it is desirable that the members of this audience be given a short résumé of the Mayor's proposals.

The most important recommendation before the City Council, in so far as the taxpayers of the community are concerned, is the one which provides that the city shall borrow, outside of its debt limit, $3,500,000. This amount is to be used by the assessors to reduce the tax rate of the current year. This borrowing, when made, will be done under the provisions of an act passed by the Legislature at its recent session, namely, chapter 307 of the Acts of 1933. This act authorizes municipalities to borrow, for the relief of current year's tax rates, sums not exceeding the excess cost represented by the difference between budget appropriations in 1929 for Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief and similar appropriations in 1932.

Under this authorization, Boston, if it desired, could borrow approximately $9,000,000 for the reduction of the 1933 tax rate. Mayor Curley, however, keeping in mind that any borrowings made under this act must be repaid at a subsequent date and by a future administration, has limited the amount which he is requesting the City Council to authorize, to $3,500,000. You may well ask why was that particular amount selected. The answer is very plain. In reviewing the financial facts and figures entering into this year's tax rate, it is evident that the benefit which would accrue to the taxpayers from the fact that reductions totalling approximately $6,500,000 have been made this year in the maintenance appropriations of city, school and county departments, will be offset considerably by unfavorable factors which are evident in information received to date from the financial officers of the state. It is clear from this information that Boston's share of the distribution of the receipts from the state income tax will be $1,300,000 less than in 1932.

Less From State Funds.

Again, Boston's share of the receipts from the corporation tax will be approximately $400,000 less than last year and the city's share in the distribution of receipts from the gasoline tax will be close to $1,500,000 less than in 1932. Another unfavorable factor is the increase in the operating deficit of the Boston Elevated Railway. Because of this increase the city will be called upon to contribute approximately $600,000 more this year than last, for the financing of this deficit. These four unfavorable items, when combined, indicate that the benefit the taxpayers might expect from departmental savings has been reduced more than half. This reduction is entirely beyond the control of the city and, in the opinion of the Mayor and the city's financial officers, action should be taken to counteract the reduction. Authorization by the City Council of the borrowing of $3,500,000 is the action which the Mayor proposes to offset what would otherwise be a serious burden on the taxpayers.

Under the provisions of chapter 307 dividends on the shares of domestic corporations, which previously have been exempt, will be subjected to a 6 per cent income tax for the next three years, and the revenue so received will be distributed among the municipalities of the Commonwealth on the basis of the state tax apportionment. It is estimated, under this provision, that Boston will receive in the aggregate during the next three years, $6,000,000, so that the city will receive by the end of 1936 considerably more than the amount which the Mayor proposes should be borrowed this year for a reduction in the tax rate.

I assume you will be interested at this time in hearing from me as to just what the probable tax rate for 1933 will be. I regret I am unable to give you definite information in this respect. I venture to say, however, that when the 1933 tax rate is finally announced, the taxpayers will receive the benefit of at least a $2.50 reduction from last year's figure. In short, since the 1932 tax rate was fixed at $35.50 I feel safe in predicting that the maximum rate for 1933 will be $33 per thousand. I trust this prediction may be music to the ears of my invisible audience.

Another important recommendation which the City Council is to consider is for the borrowing of $3,800,000 outside the debt limit of the city for expenditure by the Public Welfare Department in its work of relieving the needy and unemployed of the city. In requesting the Legislature early in the year to fix the limit of appropriations for the maintenance of municipal departments, the Mayor pointed out that his budget did not provide for the maximum amount which in all probability would be expended during the year by the Public Welfare Department. The Mayor rightfully took the position that since the city for three years had borne the entire burden of unemployment relief, it was entitled, in this the fourth year of the depression, to look for assistance from the Federal and State Governments in the matter of financing this extraordinary burden.

NO FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR HOUSING AND SLUM CLEARANCE IN CITY UNDER RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION PLANS — MAYOR CURLEY EXPLAINS WHY PROVISIONS FOR SUCH WERE NOT INCLUDED IN PROGRAM SUBMITTED TO COUNCIL.

Mayor James M. Curley, on August 15, issued the following statement:

With a view to providing work for the unemployed a program was submitted by me for approval to the City Council, and was approved without change. In the opinion of many persons, myself included, it was highly desirable that the program have included a housing and slum clearance proviso, but, unfortunately, there was no method by which work of this character could be legally undertaken for reasons which are here submitted.

Under the provisions of chapter 364 of the Acts of 1933, establishing a State Board of Housing and defining its powers and duties, the City of Boston is not permitted to embark upon any sort of a housing program, be it slum clearance, rehabilitation or the carrying out of housing projects. Certain funds were made available through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the purpose of improving housing conditions, and a Housing Advisory Committee, made up of representative home owners themselves, the banking and financial interests, the building trades, real estate dealers and health and social welfare workers, was appointed by the Mayor to develop a program for the City of Boston.

This committee was advised by counsel for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation that while the statute expressly provided that housing corporations should be regulated by state or municipal law, it was generally felt that housing projects of this character were appropriately a subject for state rather than municipal regulations. This opinion was amplified in a number of personal interviews with the result that upon recommendation of the City Planning Board and the Advisory Committee on Housing, as Mayor of Boston, I introduced a bill in the Legislature establishing a Division of Housing within the State Department of Public Welfare.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation further intimated that the New York State Housing Law was a helpful guide, with the elimination of its tax exemption features, and it was adopted in many particulars as a precedent. This bill, although supported by every group in the community with a single exception, failed of passage in the General Court of Massachusetts. A later draft, upon recommendation of his Excellency the Governor, containing many of the provisions of the earlier proposal, was enacted into law. This measure permits the State Board of Housing and certain limited dividend corporations subject to the supervision and control of the Housing Board to take land by eminent domain for the purpose of relieving congestion of population and provided homesteads or small houses. It also indicates the manner in which the Housing Board or limited dividend corporation may cooperate with the National Industrial Recovery Act.

The situation in Massachusetts is identical with that of other states throughout the country which have adopted housing laws in order to cooperate with federal activities. In not a single instance, so far as I am aware, has there been conferred the authority for municipal housing with the possible exception of Milwaukee, where I understand the provision for municipal housing was put in effect years ago.

BROADCAST BY BUDGET COMMISSIONER FOX.

$11,000,000 FOR WELFARE.

Approximately $7,200,000 has been made available this year by the city for expenditure by the Public Welfare Department under the budget item, Care of Dependents. From the experience of the first seven months of the current year, it is estimated that approximately $11,000,000 will be the total expenditures for the year under this item. The Mayor, therefore, is asking the City Council to appropriate the balance, or $3,800,000, which will be financed by borrowing outside the limit of indebtedness. This is the first time in the financial history of the city that money will be borrowed for maintenance expenses. This borrowing is not engaged in because it is the desire of the city, but simply because this method of financing has been imposed upon the city by legislative action. The Legislature in fixing the appropriation limit for the year provided that any additional appropriations which might be necessary, because of the welfare emergency, should be secured by loans outside the debt limit. In this connection I desire to point out to you an interesting anomaly which now exists.

Under Federal legislation, Massachusetts will receive from the Federal treasury approximately $1 for every $3 disbursed within the Commonwealth during the current year for the relief of the unemployed. Boston has already received from the State Treasurer the sum of $879,000, based on its relief expenditures during the first three months of the current year. Subsequent allotments based on expenditures during the other three-fourths of the year may reasonably be expected. The Legislature has decreed that all moneys so received shall be used to reduce tax rates, and for no other purpose. Consequently, Boston's share of this distribution, which might well be applied against the expenditures of its Welfare Department, and thus obviate the necessity for increasing its outstanding indebtedness, will be used solely for a reduction in this year's rate. Criticism has already been voiced against the city borrowing money for welfare expenditures, but as I have endeavored to point out, the city is engaging involuntarily in this method of financing. As creatures of the state, municipalities must follow lines of conduct and action imposed upon them by legislative mandate.

WOULD BORROW $10,000,000.

A third recommendation which the Mayor has submitted to the Council for its consideration provides for an increase of $10,000,000 in the authorization by the City Council of the amount which the city may borrow in anticipation of the payment of this year's taxes. The city is obliged to engage in temporary financing of this nature because of the fact the collection of the current year's taxes does not actually occur until September, or approximately nine months after the beginning of the city's financial year. While relatively this recommendation is not as important as the two I have already discussed with you, nevertheless, if approved by the Council, it will set the highest authorization ever granted for temporary borrowing in the financial history of the city. So far this year the City Council has authorized the borrowing of $35,000,000 for temporary financing.

The recommendation of the Mayor, if approved, will set the authorization at $45,000,000. Last year the city actually borrowed $40,000,000—an amount $5,000,000 less than the authorization which the Mayor now proposes. In view of the possibility of heavy expenditures for Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief, plus tax collection deficiencies, which may be present at the end of the year, this extra authorization is logical and must be considered proper and wise in the light of the problems facing the city. It stands to reason, of course, that the additional authorization will not be utilized unless conditions at the close of the year make its use absolutely necessary.

The members of the City Council in the special meeting this afternoon will have an opportunity of adding new pages to the financial history of the city. Since the recommendations of Mayor Curley are intended to provide for the needy and unfortunate of the community as well as to afford the taxpayers a measure of relief from the tax burden now resting upon them, it is to be hoped that affirmative and positive action will be taken by the Council on the recommendations submitted. In closing, permit me to thank my invisible listeners for their attention and consideration.

I bid you good afternoon.

MAYOR CURLEY PLEASED WITH COLONEL GOW APPOINTMENT.

Mayor James M. Curley made the following comment on August 15, relative to the appointment of Charles R. Gow as State Engineer of Public Works in Massachusetts:

The appointment of Charles R. Gow as State Engineer of Public Works in Massachusetts is most pleasing news, not only because of his familiarity with Boston problems but his standing in the engineering profession.

The City of Boston yesterday filed its application for approval of work program and was informed by Joseph Bartlett, chairman of the State Emergency Finance Board, that a hearing would be given the City of Boston upon its proposal, but that final action could not be taken until the program had received the approval of the engineer representing the Federal Government in the Massachusetts district.

The appointment of Mr. Gow gives promise that this particular phase of the procedure will be expedited at once, which is most gratifying.

FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payments must not exceed 6 per cent.

MAYOR WOULD NAME PARK FOR MARTIN LOMASNEY.

Mayor James M. Curley sent the following communication to the City Council with order attached:

August 15, 1933.

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—I submit herewith for your approval an order to name the new waterfront park now under construction in the vicinity of Charles and Nashua streets, Martin M. Lomasney Park.

This park and bathing beach at the Charles river will unquestionably be of immense benefit from a health and recreation standpoint to the residents of the West End of Boston, and it represents what is perhaps the final achievement of a life devoted by the Hon. Martin M. Lomasney to the improvement of the district in which he was born and spent his life. The list of such improvements, in which he had a great part, ranging from the Charles River Basin and dam to the widening of Cambridge, Charles and Nashua streets, is too long to be recounted in a communication of this kind, but it seems to me to be particularly fitting that this park which is almost entirely due to his industry and influence should bear his name.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Board of Park Commissioners be hereby authorized and requested to name the waterfront park now under construction in the vicinity of Charles and Nashua streets, Martin M. Lomasney Park.

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS.

For many years we have heard innumerable bankers, business men and professional men talk about too much government in business. But these same people are constantly before legislatures asking government to do something to protect their selfish interests. The doctor, the lawyer, the dentist, and each profession is always asking the government to make the entrance to their unions more difficult not with the idea of protecting the people but with the hope of stopping or reducing competition. The local merchant is always asking the council, the state and the nation to prohibit competition by peddlers and transient merchants. When the winds of depleted deposits began to whirl about the banks the government was asked to bear the burden, and if official authority is to be believed the government and the politicians saved the banks and not the high-browed presidents and directors of the banks. The real truth is that we do not want government to interfere with us in our desires, but do ask government to enter business in any and every conceivable way that we think will help us make a little more money of the realm.

NO-PARKING ZONES FOR SCHOOLS REDUCE PEDESTRIAN HAZARD.

Minneapolis has passed an ordinance which establishes all streets on sides adjacent to schools as no-parking zones from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. This is particularly significant since records have shown that a large per cent of child accidents have been due to children stepping out from behind parked cars.

These zones are painted yellow and serve to attract the attention of the motorist as well as to give him a clear vision while passing the school.

STATE-WIDE CAMPAIGN AGAINST DIPHTHERIA BRINGS NOTABLE RESULTS.

A decrease in cases and deaths has been very marked during the five-year campaign in New York State for the extirpation of diphtheria. The campaign was the joint effort of the State Departments of Health and Education, the State Medical Society, the Welfare Division of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health of the State Charities Aid Association, all banded together. They were aided by the parent-teacher associations, women's clubs, civic clubs and other social and welfare organizations.

Although the goal was not completely reached, the results are very encouraging and prove beyond a doubt that diphtheria can be controlled.

It has been estimated that at least 35 per cent of the children under five years old must be protected against diphtheria before a community is safe from an epidemic of the disease. No city over 100,000 has yet reached that percentage, although Utica with 30 per cent approaches that figure. While it is more difficult for a big city to attain a large percentage of immunizations, with a proper organization and sufficient determination this can be done.

Cities that have attained the 35 per cent standard are:

50,000 to 100,000 population: Binghamton and Niagara Falls, 38; New Rochelle, 35.

25,000 to 50,000: White Plains, 49; Kingston, 36; Poughkeepsie and Auburn, 35.

10,000 to 25,000: Middletown, 73; Ogdensburg, 65; Hornell and Port Jervis, 56; Endicott, 54; Johnson City, 53; Geneva, 49; Rockville Center, 45; Massena, 44; Ossining, 41; Mamaroneck, 40; Gloversville, 39; Glen Cove, 38; Peekskill, 37.

WATER SUPPLY FROM WELLS.

The entire water supply of Memphis is taken from wells. The wells penetrate two strata of sand, the upper stratum being 300 to 500 feet below the surface, and the lower stratum roughly 1,000 feet deeper. The upper stratum, known as the LaGrange formation, is the more important and furnishes most of the supply. It is the one commonly used in this vicinity.

The lower stratum has been developed by the city to a limited extent, because wells in it do not interfere with those in the upper stratum, and therefore wells in the respective strata can be placed in close proximity to each other, and a greater capacity obtained from a given area. The LaGrange formation underlies western Tennessee, eastern Arkansas and northern Mississippi. It outcrops in a belt roughly parallel with the Mississippi river and some 40 miles eastward therefrom. Throughout this entire region it furnishes an ample supply to many municipalities and industries. The outcrop area is such that an abundant supply is in sight, for everyone caring to use it, for many years to come. The sands and clays, which are interspersed, are supposed to be deposits formed in prehistoric times, when the entire Mississippi Valley as far north as Cairo was practically an arm of the Gulf of Mexico.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 257.

The commissioner desires to commend Patrolman Herbert E. Stockman of Division 6 for his prompt and efficient work in the pursuit and capture of three occupants of a stolen automobile on August 9. Patrolman Stockman, while returning to his station and on his dinner hour, observed an automobile with three occupants, known as automobile thieves who had court records, being operated on D street, South Boston. Patrolman Stockman immediately started in pursuit of said automobile with his motorcycle and overtook the machine and ordered the operator to stop. Instead of complying, the operator increased speed and headed towards the officer, attempting to strike and kill him. Patrolman Stockman efficiently maneuvered his motorcycle, thereby preventing the operator from carrying out his intention and continued to pursue the car, firing from his revolver at the same time.

The effective and energetic action of this officer who imperilled his life in the pursuit and capture of these criminals reflects great credit on the department.

In addition, Patrolman Herbert E. Stockman is hereby granted one week's additional vacation with pay.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

PAYMENT OF AID TO SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Coun. NORTON, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of August, 1933. Report accepted; said order passed.

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT.

Coun. DOWD, for the Finance Committee, submitted a report on order of the Mayor (referred July 31), submitting public works program of $23,500,000,—recommending order ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on passage of the order.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, the Committee on Finance held meetings every day last week and a public hearing this morning on the $23,000,000 as submitted by the Mayor of Boston. It is absolutely impossible to get a majority of the committee to agree on the individual items, so in order to bring this program to the attention of the Council, we are bringing it in, "Report ought to pass," but I want you, Mr. President, and members of the Council, to understand that that is not the sense of the committee. We are simply doing that in order that we might bring it before the Council today and act one way or the other. Mr. President, we are asked to expend $23,500,000. Seventy per cent of that will be paid by the taxpayers of Boston over a period of twenty years, with the exception of the tunnel, which will have a bond issue of forty-five years. Thirty per cent will be an outright grant by the Federal Government. Now, gentlemen, let us disillusion ourselves. The $17,000,000 we are borrowing, the City of Boston has got to pay back. That means that for the next twenty years, according to Mr. Carven and information he gave our committee, coming out of the tax levy of the citizens of Boston will be the sum of $1,250,000, or about 66 cents in your tax rate every year for the next twenty years. In addition to that, we find in the first item, namely, the tunnel, for which we are asked $8,500,000,—it seems to be the consensus of opinion of the committee that this is the one item we should pass. We had before us Mr. Rothwell, chairman of the Elevated directors, and he stated that in his opinion it was absurd to spend any great amount of money, but those who listened to Mr. Rothwell were listening to him talk about his own program, which would be underpasses and overpasses for Huntington Avenue and that would cost over $4,000,000. He was in accord with that program, but was not in accord with this program. The other director who attended, Mr. Richards, said he would undoubtedly vote for the Huntington Avenue Tunnel. Personally, as chairman of the committee, that is one project that I intend to vote for, and I intend to give the members of the Council my reasons from the information that I have received. Let us take the Governor Square Tunnel. That was built by day labor. Labor organizations, the American Legion and other organizations were before us. They were satisfied with the way the tunnel was constructed. Of the $5,000,000 expended, $2,600,000 was paid to day labor,—paid off the city pay roll. Commissioner Lydon said that job alone saved his department $2,000,000. We are faced now with $8,500,000. Two and one-half millions, which is an outright grant by the Federal Government, and the other six millions over a bonded period of forty-five years. $6,000,000, and if the statistics we have received are correct, then it is safe to assume that $4,600,000 of the $6,000,000 that we are going to spend will be paid in day labor. There is no contractor in this racket whatsoever, and I want to state very plainly, despite what we have seen in the papers, that Dowd was now a supporter of the Mayor,—that Dowd and Curley had buried the hatchet,—it can never be so long as the Mayor of Boston wants to give to contractors what he wants to give them on this program from $17,000,000. I am satisfied to vote for every item on that program if the Mayor of Boston says we will spend the money the same as we are spending it on the subway in day labor. Let us get back to the tunnel for just a moment. The tunnel project according to Commissioner Sullivan would put 3,000 men to work. At the present time we have 2,700 on the Soldiers' Relief roll. Fifty per cent would not be able to work on that project. That means we have got to go to the Civil Service and take the remaining men. The Building Trades Council said we will work under the Federal code, which was thirty hours a week, and 4,000 men would be put to work according to their estimate. Then we are asking you to do this: Put 4,000 men to work at an estimated cost of $6,000,000, partly on the Government. $4,500,000 will be paid to day laborers and not to any contractor. Mr. Rothwell says it is not going to increase the riding public. It might increase the deficit. Mr. Richards, the other director, disagrees with him. I say there is no man who can tell us what rapid transit in that section will do. We have seen what it has done in other sections and if it does nothing more than give 4,000 men a chance to earn an honest dollar instead of pauperizing themselves, then I say we should give it to them in so far as we can possibly do so. There is one thing I want to call to the attention of the Mayor of Boston and to the Transit Commissioner and that is this: That on the Governor square job they paid to two concerns, without any bidding whatsoever, because there were only two in the business, $370,000 for mixed concrete. The labor organizations state that concrete can be mixed on the job with a saving of 20 per cent and that 20 per cent more men can be placed to work, and when that loan order comes before us I am going to insist that no mixed concrete be used on the tunnel job. So much for the tunnel. The next item is sewerage construction,—$3,000,000. The committee heard Commissioner

Rourke when he said this was a big sewerage job and we have got to use machines. What is the interpretation of this order? What did the President mean when he forced Congress to pass $3,300,000,000? He wanted to create employment and every individual here knows that on a $3,000,000 sewerage job with machinery 300 men at the outset will go to work and those 300 men will be relatives; will be relatives of the contractors that gets the jobs, and for that reason I am voting against the $3,000,000 sewerage job. Now, on the reconstruction of streets, if I had my way about it, I would take the other $16,000,000 that is left over and I would take from the city pay rolls 7,500 men. The Federal code would be around 60 cents an hour, or $18 a week. 7,500 men could be put to work on the streets of Boston with the expenditure of $16,500,000, and I do not mean by that to give it to contractors. I mean to have our own force do it and when they tell you we cannot do it, they are inconsistent, because if we can build tunnels, then surely we can build street construction, and I say to the Mayor, while I am voting against everything but his subway and hospitals, I will gladly vote for $17,000,000 to employ 7,500 men for fifteen months,—total $9,000,000, allowing for $5,000,000 more which would pay for machinery and everything else they desired to use on the job. No. 4,—hospital buildings,—I am going to vote for that, not because it is going to employ labor. It isn't. We have seen million-dollar schools in Boston before. They employed how many men? I have got the figures,—ninety-three men employed on the last school and I also found out where they came from. Fifty-three came from anywhere from Chicopee to Holyoke,—North Adams, Quincy, Hudson and Maynard, and so forth. Only about thirty-five or forty men got employment for all that million dollars. If we are going to vote this money, then we have got to vote on some project that would place men to work. The Mayor of Boston and Mr. Rothwell are not interested in the tearing down of that eyesore structure from Charlestown to Forest Hills, and I am in sympathy with the councilors from Jamaica Plain and West Roxbury where they ask to have their branch railroad electrified. They are entitled to some consideration out there, but you are getting none in the program of the Mayor. Place a tunnel through the heart of the city and increase taxable property at least 25 per cent. The sixth item,—an item of $800,000 for high service pipe extension, which I am voting against. Sixth,—South Boston Strandway improvements, costing a million and a half dollars. Joe Rourke, now retired, said to us, "The Park Department, gentlemen, that is nothing but a luxury" and the Mayor of Boston would have you spend $1,500,000 on the luxury to build the lagoon, flower gardens, plazas, benches and tables, and how many men are going to work on it? This is not a program to relieve unemployment. This is the last dying gasp and most daring attempt ever made on the part of the Mayor of Boston to raid the city treasury in the last few months of his administration. I say to you, bear in mind that these projects are not going to be undertaken within two or three months. They will probably be six or seven months. Then why should we take and give all this money to this Mayor when the incoming Mayor, whoever he may be, will be the man who will direct the policies, but he won't be the man who lets the contracts? Is there anybody here who can justify voting for this when you look over that program and see $8,000,000 worth of public buildings; $8,000,000 and the first item we come to is the architect, $480,000, given immediately to the architect. Is that going to relieve unemployment any? I don't think it is, gentlemen. Now Item 7,—and he wants to build swimming pools throughout the City of Boston and we invited Doctor Mahoney to come here, but the doctor didn't appear. He knew what I wanted to ask him; that I was going to ask him, "Wasn't it you, Doctor, that condemned certain outdoor swimming pools in Boston some years ago," and I refer to the one in my district, Orchard Park,—and now they want to spend money on wading pools. In the Memorial High School they spent $80,000 and it is holding ground for a couple of aeroplanes. Schoolhouse construction, I am against for the reason it won't place anybody to work, for the reason that the building trades of Boston tell the contractors who shall go to work and as I pointed out to you on a million-dollar project, there are not forty men from the City of Boston that get work. If you say that is creating employment, then I am afraid I will have to disagree with you. Construction of buildings in various yards of the Public Works Department at an estimated cost of $500,000. They want to spend a half a million dollars so they can put their tools and old teams and old junk in the various public yards of Boston in these proposed buildings while the taxpayers of Boston are staggering under the load. The construction of new police stations, $600,000. I am against that for the reason it won't place men to work and they can wait until times are better. Then I come to the joker of them all,—No. 12,—construction of new prison building and dining hall at the House of Correction, Deer Island, at an estimated cost of $800,000. Mayor Curley says Douglas is an ass and that Norton has pet theories that are not worth a damn. Well, I don't know what we should call ourselves if we voted $800,000 to build a dining-room or anything else at the Deer Island institution. Those men are getting better treatment than 40 per cent of our population at the present time. So, Mr. President, I say to you that I am personally of the opinion that these projects should be sent back to the Mayor of Boston. I am willing to vote for three things. This program that we have now is a piecemeal proposition. After they are all done and accomplished, what have we got? I say to the councilors from West Roxbury and Jamaica Plain I think their idea in electrifying the railroad from Forest Hills out is a splendid one. You people should be given some consideration. I will vote to spend the balance of $14,000,000 or $15,000,000 on the tearing down of the elevated and starting a tunnel either at the Charlestown end or the Forest Hills end. I will vote for $15,000,000 for street work. I will vote for anything providing the contractor hasn't got his hand into the affair. This is not a program to relieve the unemployment situation, gentlemen. When you stop to think, the tunnel will place 4,000 men to work and the other $17,000,000 won't place 2,500 men to work; the other $17,000,000 given over to the hands of the contractors. All real estate and land sharks and bag men are on this project seeing what they can get their hands on. I pay my compliments to a few of the organizations that have been screeching economy for the last year and when they got the opportunity of coming in here on a $23,000,000 proposition they failed to appear. I am referring to the Equal Tax League, the Chamber of Commerce, the National Economy League, the Boston Finance Commission, Boston Real Estate Exchange and the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange who failed to appear at the public hearing this morning. So, Mr. President and members of this Council, in closing I say we have two things to think of: What is the financial burden on the City of Boston for the next twenty years,—$1,250,000,—and bear in mind that this very program we are now voting on might be the cause of forcing the incoming Mayor to cut further city salaries. It might be the cause of cutting the public welfare. We owe a duty first to feed the poor and take care of our institutions and not to take care of any of the contractors in the City of Boston. Is there anybody who can justify his vote on these projects? I don't think there is. I think it is about time. We have only a few months to go. We are all candidates for re-election. You are not going to put anybody to work on a million-dollar school. You are not going to put anybody to work on a million-dollar sewerage job. You know that just as well as I do. Go to any sewerage job and see how many men are working and see how many can speak the language you and I speak. The same thing will happen here unless we put the clamps on them. I disagree entirely with the program as outlined by the Mayor of Boston. I want to cooperate with him, but I cannot under the circumstances. I will vote for anything that the Mayor wants that will be work for the individuals and not money for the contractors.

Coun. KELLY—May I ask a question,—if we are going to put those different items to a vote individually.

President McGRATH—We will take the items up separately.

Coun. KELLY—Then I suppose I may as well make whatever remarks I have and then vote accordingly. As a member of the Finance Committee of the Council I believe that part of this program is worthy of serious consideration; worthy of the approval of the Federal Board appointed by the President of the United States to O. K. these particular measures. I am in favor of the tunnel for the simple reason,—not because I believe it is going to relieve traffic or going to bring any heavy revenue to the city,—but because I have been assured that 3,000 men will be placed to work for three years. These men will come from the Civil Service lists guaranteeing them to be residents of Boston, not like on other jobs that have been going on in the past four years. Then another reason: The debt is spread over forty-five years, and over such a period of years it will not be such a burden to the taxpayers. I am bearing in mind if we put 3,000 men to work they are either tenants or home owners. If they are tenants, it is helping the taxpayer because it is insuring him of his month's rent. If a home owner, it will help him to pay his taxes. $2,000,000 for hospitals: As chairman of the Hospital Committee, perhaps visiting the hospital five or six times a week, I know how overcrowded that institution is; that we can readily use $2,000,000 to build a new building to handle surgical cases. It is essential. It is necessary to the welfare and the good health of the people of Boston; so I must agree with my colleague from Ward 8 and I will cast my vote in the affirmative for the $2,000,000 alone. Now the rest of the program in my opinion is just a plot and I hope it is nipped in the bud by the State and Federal Board. It is just a plot to make a millionaire Mayor a multi-millionaire Mayor. Now the people of Boston made him a millionaire. He hasn't done a day's work for twenty or thirty years, leaving office after having earned the reputation of being the world's champion traveling Mayor; leaving it he wants to leave it as a multi-millionaire at the expense of the people of Boston. I remember a few years ago looking over the records when the Mayor advocated a municipal lighting plant for Boston which would save millions of dollars to the people of Boston. If the Mayor is really interested and really sincere in the expenditure of this large amount of money he would advocate a municipal lighting plant. We have the right under eminent domain, with certain restrictions, to take over the Edison Electric Company. Certain legislation must be passed, but if the Mayor was interested in the people's interest at the present time he could have the Governor call in the Legislature and give that permission to Boston. While we have this money at our disposal, give us the right to take over the Edison Electric Company and conduct our own municipal lighting plant. The 237,000 consumers in Boston paying $18,000,000 for juice that is worth no more than $2,000,000. The very first year the Mayor of Boston could save $16,000,000 to the people of Boston in electric rates. He could save practically the entire $1,000,000 he pays to the Edison Company for the lighting of street lights and our public buildings. If he was interested in a worth-while proposition that would pay for itself in no time, that is the proposition he should go into with this large amount of money that he has at his disposal. I cannot see enriching this collection of contractors we have had on the city pay roll for the past four years. I know what happens if we allow a building to be built,—a school building or something else,—the contractor hires residents of other cities. Now the two propositions I am voting for: I am positive that the Huntington Avenue Subway will employ residents of Boston because that is one of the essentials, to be on the Civil Service list, and I am going to make an attempt to see whoever gets the contracts for the erection of the City Hospital buildings,—see that they employ only bona fide residents and citizens of Boston. I hope those are the only two items that will be passed this afternoon, but hoping, although knowing particularly foolish to hope for such a thing,—I hope the Federal Board will strike every other one of these items because we can get along without them. If we didn't have this money I wonder if the Mayor of Boston would do any building to the extent of $800,000 at Deer Island and $3,000,000 for sewers. Who wants sewers? Streets? Yes, we want streets. But if the Mayor was interested in giving good streets to the people of Boston at a minimum expense and practically nothing, he could take, as other cities are doing, men from our public welfare homes who are able to do that kind of work constructing accepted streets, and I hope the only two items that will pass that will be of any benefit are the items for $8,500,000 for the subway and the $2,000,000 for the hospital buildings.

Coun. FITZGERALD—I would like to ask the chairman of the Committee on Finance if he would enlighten the Council what is chapter 366 we are voting on.

Coun. DOWD—An act passed by the State Government.

Coun. FITZGERALD—The act passed by the legislature of 1933?

Coun. DOWD—Yes, in accordance with the President's program.

Coun. FITZGERALD—I think it is unfortunate the committee didn't have this act before them.

Coun. NORTON—I don't know what this particular act is, but I will give a guess as to what it is. We don't know much of anything regarding this entire matter. As a matter of fact, it is all in its formative stage. Part 1, chapter 366, of the Acts of 1933 is merely the general statute which was passed enabling the cities to accept money for certain projects. Mr. President, I am opposed to most of the expenditures in this list because I feel they are unnecessary and I made a sort of a pledge with certain members to restrict myself to ten minutes at the outset. We are going to be put in the light of opposing the United States flag. We are going to be put in the light of opposing the Chief Executive of the United States because we dare to criticize the President's chief executive of the City of Boston. Greater men than ourselves have opposed. Read the last statement from the Hon. Alfred E. Smith,—and this is what he says regarding our right to criticize this project:

"In the long run those in authority in a democracy are best off when their acts are subject to constant and impartial analysis and criticism. Every thinking person will come to this conclusion before we are through with the present crisis."

Now, Mr. President, the Secretary of the Interior who is in direct charge of most of these expenditures, Mr. Ickes, had this to say in the Boston Globe of yesterday:

"Undoubtedly strong pressure will be brought to bear in support of doubtful projects. It will be as much a duty of these boards to say no as it will be to say yes."

And I believe his boards will turn this down. "The project must be socially desirable. It must be feasible from an engineering and technical standpoint. Local budgets must be carefully scrutinized. There will be no orgy of spending this fund simply for the sake of spending it."

Mr. President, the President of the United States believes in economy and time and again has drawn his attention to the fact that we should only engage in useful projects. That is why I believe his boards, the State Board and the New England Board, regional director and his national director will turn down most of these projects. I don't believe the Tomasellos and Singarellas are anything to be feared or other favored contractors, because there are going to be restrictions on the job in Boston. They are not going to take the money of the Federal Government and use it for the Tomasellos and Singarellas. I doubt if Mr. Singarella or Tomasello will get one cent out of this expenditure because Uncle Sam's representative will be here in Boston and Lewis Douglas in Washington and he is not going to allow the city to waste this money. So I cannot agree that this is going to be an orgy of expenditures of the local money on the local contractors here. Now, Mr. President, the subway under Huntington avenue: Mr. Bernard Rothwell says there is no hinterland built up, and the people of Boston will have to pay for it; that we have twenty-eight electric cars an hour now using Huntington avenue. The traffic congestion at Massachusetts avenue and Huntington avenue will not be relieved, since of the seventy vehicles that pass that intersection only one is an electric car. Take one out of seventy and put it underground, are you lessening the traffic congestion there? Another thing, it will tend to destroy the entire property value there from a merchandising standpoint on Huntington avenue. The same thing has taken place through Kendall square. The subway was supposed to put to work thousands of men. It is the most costly piece of subway in all the world. The East Boston Vehicular Tunnel was placed under Boston Harbor for less than five million and yet it took over $5,000,000 to place a tunnel under Governor square not half as long. It is the most costly piece of tunnel in the world. I told the Mayor that. The Mayor said that Norton's ideas were petty ideas of his own and were not worth a darn, but he has accepted every idea I have proposed here. In that record you will see he has taken the idea three or four months later from the time I suggested one cent on a dollar contribution by city employees four years ago which he sent back as double taxation and unconstitutional, and a few years later he grabs $15,000,000 on top of that. "Couldn't be done; unconstitutional and he had no right to do it." Now the director of the Elevated has shown us where the traffic does not call for a subway but favors overpasses and underpasses which will eliminate traffic congestion and put more men to work on the overpasses and underpasses for the amount of money we are going to spend. We already have fifty-eight miles of subways in Boston; more subways than any other city in the world. The Elevated cannot pay the bills and the citizens are going to be called upon to pay it. Why should we build a subway to take care of Brookline and Newton? Ask yourselves can we afford to pay this extra amount of money. Alfred Smith doesn't think prosperity is around the corner because of this last line: "Every thinking person will come to this conclusion before we are through with the present crisis." It is not around the corner and the question is how we are going to feed our people here in Boston. Now, Mr. President,—as to the sewerage construction. We have over $100,000,000 invested. We dump our sewerage into the harbor, which is easy compared to the cities in the inland section, and yet we have spent over $100,000,000. No one knows what is underground. It is underground. We have Metcalf and Eddy, the foremost sewerage experts in the world, but the Mayor of Boston loves to spend money on sewers. I am going to leave it to your own judgment why he does. Now reconstruction of streets: We need streets. If any streets are built, Mr. Ickes, the agent in Boston, will see that Tomasello and Singarella will have no more to do with these streets. I think it is possible to take men from the welfare and build streets. Joe Rourke says it cannot be done. I could cite fifty cities doing it with welfare men. Governor Horner in Illinois puts 30,000 men to work on the road. Our chief of the department says it cannot be done. I ask how Governor Horner is doing it. Now, Mr. President, we come along down to the new hospital buildings. We have all we can use on the present site. We cannot jam any more on that site. You can put in a few buildings in the outlying wards where we can get service. Let me quote what our last expert reported. Dr. S. S. Goldwater said in the last report brought in by the trustees of the City Hospital in that report of February 10, 1931:

"I am informed that the managers are disposed to fix 2,000 beds as the ultimate limit of the hospital's growth. It would be physically possible to crowd more beds upon the available site, but the disadvantage of such crowding would be so great that I concur in the belief of the managers that it should not be attempted, and that when the need arises for more hospital beds, a second municipal hospital (not a mere emergency unit or relief station) should be started in a locality chosen with relation to population trends at that time."

Now, Mr. President, I am going to be against the idea of building $2,000,000 more of buildings on a site already congested. Now regarding this big service water pipe extension: We have enough pipes for water at the present time. I don't see anything particularly wrong with our water system. They are underneath the ground and nobody knows much about it and it makes a job to expend money on. A million and a half dollars for fountains and playgrounds, and approaches to the beaches, solariums and aquariums—my God, in such a time, when the poor stretch from Orient Heights to Readville, if they were lined up,—the people asking for something to eat,—and yet we are asking for a solarium and aquarium and fountains and approaches to the beach and walks and plazas and the steam shovels of Singarella step in there so that ten men can do the whole business. Park improvements: We are spending more money on parks than any city in America. Schoolhouse construction, $2,000,000: I am going to favor schoolhouse construction and streets, because it is going to be under the United States Government, and from the reports we need in some of the suburban wards new school facilities. Construction of new police stations: We already have more police stations than any other city in America, erected at a time when the policemen walked on foot. You can have a policeman from any one of a dozen stations at any home in the city within ten minutes. Why don't you want any more at a cost of $600,000? St. Louis has fourteen stations, with 61 square miles. Baltimore seven main stations and fourteen substations, Pittsburgh ten stations, Milwaukee one police headquarters and six substations, Los Angeles fifteen,—all those places larger than Boston. What do we need those extra police stations for? The Wickersham report says we are one of the most law-abiding communities in the world. Today with the new police radio coming into existence, it is only a matter of time when we will eliminate many of the present police stations in this city. It will be unnecessary because of new procedure. Now we have an item here for new fire stations. We have more pieces of fire apparatus and stations than you can shake a stick at. Mr. Carven says "Don't compare." What are we going to do? He says that comparisons are unfair, but how are we to know about our city if comparing with other cities is unfair. How can we go through life but through comparison with others? We have in the City of Boston sixty-eight fire stations. Cleveland has only forty-two; and here is the peculiar part of it: The Boston fire loss is the greatest of any city in America. The total fire loss in Boston in 1931 was over $4,000,000. Our per capita is $5.14; St. Louis, $1.77; Chicago only $2.73; Philadelphia $2.12, with all the fire apparatus, and then we have those who come in here and literally holler "Fireman, save my child; build another station; would you be responsible for the life of one child?" Now, Mr. President, there is no one who wants to see a child harmed by fire, but if fire stations are going to help, then we have enough fire stations now in Boston and more than any other city in America of like size. Now, Mr. President, the construction of a new prison building and dining hall: My thoughts are the same as the councilor from Roxbury. The Mayor said, "What would you do with the $23,000,000?" The first thing I would do would be this: If you have got to spend the money, the first thing should be slum elimination. Take some of those people who are now living in houses where they have no light or air and put them in the suburbs where the children will have an opportunity to grow up in the right environment. That is the first place to spend the money and you will find that is the best place some of the leading thinkers of America would spend the money,—slum clearance. The building of homes puts men to work. You at least put more men to work in the building of a home than a street where the steam shovel and the automatic machinery does most of the work. Slum clearance,—the Mayor of Boston said he has three outs. One is that the auditor down stairs doesn't approve of it. Decentralize welfare. The first obstacle on the welfare is Mr. Fox in name and action and he has said that it cannot be done, and he knows. Now just think of that for an answer, when every other city has decentralized people. The Mayor people says it cannot be done and the reason it is not done is if we put a substation in Roslindale, for instance, we will have more people asking for aid. That is the reason I want it there,—because worthy people are not receiving aid and cannot come over and won't come to that house of horrors to be tossed around. Now, Mr. President, the City of Boston should spend money for slum clearance. The Mayor says, "I have applied three times." What he has done is this: Corporation Counsel has stepped up and been in favor of it; no aggressive action. They could accept this money from the Federal Government without legislative authority, because you may have read the controversy over the right of the Federal Government to come in and give the city or municipality money without the authority of the State Board. The Federal Government has the right to give Boston a certain amount of money regardless of the state authority of this Commonwealth, because here is the law: "The law provides that the President in his discretion and under such terms may extend the benefit of this title to any state, and so forth, notwithstanding any constitutional restriction or limitation upon the right or power of such state to borrow money or incur debts." The law says the Mayor of Boston has the right, if he will, to ask the Federal Government for a loan of $6,000,000 here for slum clearance regardless of legislative authority. There is the law. Yet the Mayor says with a gesture of futility: "It cannot be done; we have had that up for three years." Well, it can be done. It is being done. Joe McKee of New York requested the Reconstruction Finance Corporation not to loan to a private concern for the clearing up of the slum district and was told to mind his own business. Now, Mr. President, if we are going to spend this money, let us spend it for the most useful business. We are throwing away the money here. It is not necessary. We haven't got the money in the city and cannot pay the taxes even now. The councilor from South Boston spoke of the relative debt. Let me read you the last figures from Uncle Sam regarding the debt of our city. Does the best friend of his Honor downstairs claim he has ever tried to save money? Every year he has been up to the State House for millions; this year the only mayor of any city demanding money over the legislative limit. According to the 1931 census by the Department of Commerce Boston here has a debt at the present time of $122,000,000. A gross debt of $160,000,000. St. Louis with more people and a net debt of only $61,000,000. Cleveland with 100,000 more people has a debt of only $143,000,000. So we are not the lowest in debt, nor the highest, but when you take in the debt we call self-supporting now going to be thrown upon the city, this debt for subways, you are going to find you have a high debt for the city of Boston to pay. We are not opposing the President's program, but trying to stop waste of money. I have quoted Alfred Smith. I would like to quote more and more, but I am not going to take any more time because I am now over the limit.

Coun. ROBERTS—Many things the councilor from Hyde Park says I am inclined to agree with except about the subway on Huntington avenue following the passage of the act by the General Court enabling the city to borrow money for the purpose of building this particular subway. Now, during the last three or four years, we have seen from our own experience people on the Welfare rolls and Soldiers' Relief and the work we can get them to do in return for the service they get from the City of Boston and I say it is about time we gave the taxpayer a break in this matter. With the building of the Huntington Avenue Subway, in the experience we had with the Governor Square Subway, at least the taxpayer is going to get something in return. I don't know how many men will be put to work, but there isn't any question that here is one project that probably within three or four weeks men will be put to work. We already understand the President's program and have seen it in operation in a number of other states. Massachusetts is still lagging behind; not a job under this act as yet, but here is one thing I believe we can do. If we can pass this particular provision today we can be assured within a reasonable length of time men will be put to work on this job. In answer to the councilor from Hyde Park that it won't relieve traffic congestion, I submit from our own experience it is going to, even if it is not to the great degree we might expect, but I say to you, Mr. President, one reason they do not get revenue is they do not provide the service, and I leave it to my colleagues who have had experience with the Elevated and the type of service they provide. Do you think we would have the automobile problem in Boston, cars parked on streets, if it were not for the fact the Elevated provides inadequate service? If there were adequate service, the people from Power's ward and Murray's ward wouldn't use the automobile. Comparing this particular section of Huntington avenue with Governor square, I submit they are not the same territory. They present an entirely different program. On Huntington avenue we have Mechanics Building, the Arena and the Christian Science Church, and I say if we look over all the rest of the program submitted by the Mayor, this is the one particular proposition where we could put men to work and it will be subject to the regulation of the Governor and the Transit Department to see that citizens of Boston are employed and that veterans are given the preference. Without discussing further the matters for consideration,—in building a school we all know about that. I have tried to put people to work on schools and have found it is impossible and I do know that when they start on Huntington avenue it will put men to work and that is what I am for.

Coun. BURKE—I sat here this forenoon with the Finance Committee and heard some of the interesting remarks made by numerous organizations which are interested in keeping the tax rate down to the point where the people of Boston can continue to pay. In that group were some individuals who were honest and sincere and believed in low taxation and fair and honest government. Among them were some un-American citizens who believed in taxing the churches and charitable amusements contrary to the governmental principles of our country since its inception and I call them ungrateful, un-American individuals who should have been ushered from this chamber and brought down to the port of Boston and sent over to Russia or China where they couldn't understand what they were talking about. Now this is one of the most important propositions that has come before our body during the past fifteen or twenty years. This is a part of a program coming from the President, brought about as a result of one of the worst depression periods this Government, or the world, has ever seen. This is a part of the Recovery Act and his entire program is more or less like a crossword puzzle,—piece by piece,—and after they are all put together it will be impossible to tell whether these projects will be successful in overcoming the depression that has come upon us. The National Economy League at Washington submitted a program which pertained entirely to the veteran question and as a result of that program millions of dollars were taken away from the defenders of our country and they were forced to come from the Federal Government to local government and it was stated by the Soldiers' Relief Commissioner that it would cost the city $500,000 more a year, which will add to our tax rate in the City of Boston. It was also said by Doctor Dowling as a result of taking away the hospitalization of those wounded veterans, it would cost $500,000 more to operate the City Hospital, making a direct expenditure of $1,000,000 from the taxpayers of the City of Boston who own their homes, and by doing that, the powers that be—one per cent of the people in the United States that own 99 per cent of the gold are the only ones that are going to benefit as a result. The First National Bank of Boston gave birth to the National Economy League; paid the expenses for carrying on the work; paid lobbyists in Washington high salaries to go to Washington and lobby the members of Congress and those who bring about that deplorable condition. The veterans have suffered and today it is common knowledge there are many of them committing suicide because the United States failed to take care of the veterans,—the defenders of their country,—but the rank and file of the veterans are American citizens and they are willing to give the President's program a fair trial and this project comes to us following legislation affecting agriculture, banks, railroads, interstate commerce and the Home Loan Corporation, all for the purpose of balancing the Federal budget and brings to us one piece of that puzzle to allow us to assist him in bringing back better days. Now I am not going to talk about the program of the Mayor of Boston because I haven't made up my mind whether I will vote for any items except those which will take the men from the streets of Boston and put them to work. I disagree with the councilor from Ward 18, who doesn't believe in spending money and allow them to take it in the line of dole. I believe that the only way that we will come out of the depression is by giving them work. We are faced with the proposition here today that is very important. How can we determine whether any of these projects is going to alleviate unemployment or drive out depression; so I say, be careful in your consideration and only vote for those items that will bring work to those who are out of employment. Now regarding the public works program, particularly with reference to money to be expended for street construction, I believe if the money was given to the Public Works Department, and if sufficient money was given to them to buy equipment, sufficient money was given to get experts that are easily obtainable as inspectors and supervisors, they could put around 10,000 men to work doing the streets in Boston. There is a street job in my ward being now constructed and I had the opportunity to put forty-two men to work there and those forty-two men are starting to work for approximately nine weeks and I believe if the City of Boston handled that job they could have put twice as many men to work because of the fact that the city wouldn't be in it to make a profit such as the contractor's profit, which in my opinion will reach 20 per cent of the amount allowed, and would put many more men to work. Regarding the subway: Last year I was criticized because I talked for the enactment of proper legislation by this body in order to allow the subway to be built. It was necessary for me after that particular order was turned down by this Council to ask for reconsideration and I believe the record will show it went by a very small margin. I was in favor of the subway last year, and I am in favor of it now because I believe that the tunnel built in the manner in which the other tunnel was built will put men to work and I want to state I want to do everything I can to relieve unemployment and put people back to work and give them a chance to earn their livelihood and I am going to vote item by item for those things that will accomplish that purpose and all of those items in this program that will not accomplish that purpose, I am going to vote against.

Coun. POWER—I hope I will not take up much of the time. I am interested in a few of these projects. On the whole this is a Federal proposition. The City of Boston is only one small part of this. The President says that we either give this money out to the public welfare in the form of a dole or put the money in the hands of the men who have been unfortunate enough not to have any wages for the last six months, or a year or two years. Now it is either one thing or the other. We are either going along with the dole at the Welfare or going to operate public works to the extent of three billion and a half. The City of Boston is only spending $23,000,000,—not three billion, but $23,000,000, which is a small part of this. The councilor from Ward 18 mentioned the name of Alfred Smith and I think if I am not mistaken Alfred Smith recommended himself a little while ago the expenditure of money for public works to put people back to work instead of welfare. As I say, I am interested in some of these projects. Personally I have one reason on buildings,—I am a member of the Building Trades myself,—probably one of the strongest unions in the City of Boston,—the structural ironworkers. In the building trades we hear a lot about machinery being used here and there. There is less machinery used on a building than probably any project in this whole country. You might have a steam shovel to dig the foundation, but in this act they say no machinery, only day labor, so we eliminate the steam shovel in the building. We eliminate that mixed concrete, mixed out in some other factory. We are going to mix the concrete by machines on the job, so on these buildings we are going to have day labor on every part of it. Now in a building,—and I say it is a Federal proposition,—the President didn't look to see how many men would be placed on that building in the city, looking behind that, thinking of the hundreds of thousands of tons of steel that go to make the building, the fabrication that has got to be done somewhere else. They have got to make bricks and cut stone. The actual work on a building takes very few men. That is why I am in favor of buildings, hospitals, schoolhouses, public works, new police stations and new fire stations and I might say to the councilor from Ward 18,—I imagine I was the one he had reference to because I did make that remark in the Council,—I might ask him if he lived in a section where there was no fire apparatus, where the nearest piece was on the Brookline line, and when by actual experience he saw children thrown out of windows, not in the fireman's arms, but into the arms of neighbors where the Fire Department couldn't reach the building, would he say "Fireman, save my child"? On Parker Hill, where I live, when the Fire Department gets stuck on the hill, would he say "Fireman, save my child"? Or would he say,—would he let it pass and say it is all right to have a child burned to death, but don't spend the money? So I am in favor of new fire stations, because I know that if they need them they should have them. The same councilor says we have too many police stations; more police stations than other cities, but the Police Commissioner comes in and says we are going to consolidate the police stations. We are living up to his own proposition when we do that. One of the police stations I know of particularly is in a very unsanitary condition now. West Roxbury is the first police station to be built and if anybody knows anything about that station—my understanding is it was an old clubhouse about thirty years ago. Station 10 was there probably thirty-five years,—probably forty years. Now, we are going to consolidate that with Station 9, another old police station. In fact, one poor soul out there was unfortunate enough to be arrested and fell up against some fixtures and they fell off and he was hauled into Court because they said he did it with a hammer. Isn't that a necessary proposition? Isn't the proposition in West Roxbury necessary, if it was a clubhouse before it was a station house? The Penal Institutions Commissioner said the other day that at Deer Island the sick bay is over the laundry. Supposing they are unfortunate, but still we must consider they are human beings and there is no reason in the world if we have a cent of money why anybody who is sick should be quarantined in quarters over a hot laundry especially in the weather we are having. Now about the subway construction: I probably know as much about the conditions as anybody because I live there. I know the traffic down Huntington avenue. I know how long it takes to go to Park street from where I live and you are not doing it in ten or fifteen minutes or half an hour. You are doing it in three-quarters of an hour in rush hours and even longer. This has been advocated for ten years and last year the Legislature saw fit to give us the subway at Huntington avenue. This Council passed it 18 to 2. Only two councilors voted against this proposition, but the Federal Government says, "Do something that is necessary and we will help you out with 30 per cent." So if it was necessary ten years ago and one year ago, now it is time to do it. They do not take into consideration the new highway coming to Huntington avenue, the new Worcester highway. That is where it is coming in, through Brookline Village into Huntington avenue. They all admit traffic conditions are terrible now along Huntington avenue. Even Mr. Rothwell suggested we build overpasses and underpasses. Well, if we have that traffic now, what traffic are we going to have when we have the new state highway coming in there? No wonder they can only run twenty-eight street cars an hour. Just get into one of those street cars during the rush hour, or fight your way in, and then take a ride for an hour on a stuffy summer's evening, and then fight your way out again, and the other members of the Council have brought out the proposition where we are saving money. We are saving money when we relieve the Soldiers' Relief Department and so, Mr. President and councilors, let us pass this proposition. It is not a City of Boston proposition except to a very small extent. It is important to the rest of the country as well as to Boston. The President thinks it is a good thing and why don't we?

Coun. COX—I would like to ask the chairman of the Finance Commission a question. He made reference to when these matters come back as loan orders,—whether or not he knows this will ever come back? I wish to call to his mind the East Boston Tunnel where we passed an Act of the Legislature that never came back to this body for this to be passed upon.

Coun. DOWD—The Finance Committee has taken that under consideration and we have been advised by the City Clerk and Auditor they will come back. Today we are voicing our approval or disapproval.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, I wish to say that I do not feel that I can bring myself to vote for the expenditure of $8,500,000 for a tunnel at Huntington avenue. I am sorry, I am placed in that position because some very good friends of mine in this Chamber are deeply interested in it; but I stood here or sat here and heard Mr. Rothwell, a director of the Elevated Railway, say that a tunnel costing $8,500,000 would add a deficit of $375,000 to the $2,800,000 already this year. I am against this tunnel for the reason that the Town of Brookline and the City of Newton is going to be aided even more than the City of Boston and they don't pay one cent towards its cost. Friends of mine say that the construction of this will put men to work. Well, there are thousands of ways, and better ways, of using $8,500,000 where less cement and less brick and wood and lumber would be used. The Commissioner of Public Works made the statement here that it would take over $35,000,000 to build the streets of the city. Then we could well put men to work building the streets, so that would take care of the question of the thousand-odd men that might go to work on this tunnel in the course of a year or two. Director Rothwell made the statement that twenty-eight cars an hour passed the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Huntington avenue; that in the winter 19,000 passengers a day was carried and in the summer 10,000 passengers a day. I want to call your attention that this is a total of 4,685,000 passengers a year. Based on a ten-cent fare, this income is less than $47,000 a year. Taking the entire income of $47,000 a year, it would take 181 years to clear the cost of that tunnel. Director Rothwell says he has a plan of the building of underpasses that could be put in at a cost of one half of the $8,500,000 and he says that during the construction if traffic was diverted that this tunnel, or these underpasses, could be built at a cost of $2,600,000. Now, I am not against rapid transit for the Huntington avenue section, but I am against any $8,500,000 expenditure there for this reason: The burden of that money must be carried by every section of the city. We have built the Elevated Railroad which has helped Everett, Malden, Melrose, Stoneham and all the other outlying towns. We have built the Cambridge Subway that enables the residents of Arlington and Belmont to come from their homes to Park street in twenty or twenty-five minutes when it takes me thirty minutes to come from my home in Boston to Forest Hills. I am against the construction of the tunnel for this reason: That by a system of underpasses at a cost of $2,600,000, or by a system of underpasses that would cost $4,000,000, it would leave a balance of $4,000,000 or more that could readily be expended for the continuation of the Boston Elevated Railroad over the branch line, the West Roxbury branch line to Readville and be connected with the Rapid Transit on the other side of the city and therefore form a belt line. I was pleased to hear Mr. Richard, one of the directors of the Elevated, whose opinion I think a great deal of, voice his opinion that the taking over of the New Naven branch road would be a very good thing; that in that case he figured it would increase the Elevated revenue, but he was doubtful as to how much revenue could be increased by a tunnel out Huntington avenue. I wish to call to your attention that this subway is intended to run to Gainsboro street only. The traffic from Gainsboro street on to South Huntington avenue is just almost as bad as at the lower end, so that this subway will not in any way relieve the congestion. Therefore, I do not feel that I can vote for this subway.

Coun. POWER—I wish to remind the councilor that the subway is Huntington to Longwood avenue.

President McGRATH—Question comes on the separate items and the clerk will read the item.

Coun. DOWD—Before Item 1 is read, there is an Act from the Legislature for us to accept on the tunnel, and while I have stated all will come back in the form of loan orders I am of the opinion that once the Tunnel Act is accepted and passed that is all the Council has to do with it. Am I correct in that assumption?

President McGRATH—The Chair will state that is his understanding.

Coun. DOWD—We must bear in mind, when we vote on the tunnel, that is the last of it, so far as the Council is concerned, but the other items will come back.

Coun. DOWD, for the Committee on Finance, submitted a report on the message of the Mayor and order (referred July 31) for the acceptance of Part II of Chapter 366 of the Acts of 1933, authorizing the construction of the Huntington Avenue Subway—that the order ought to pass.

The report of the committee was accepted, and the order was passed, yeas 19, nays 2.

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Brackman, Burke, Donovan, Dowd, Englert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Gleason, Green, Hein, Kelly, Lynch, McGrath, Murray, Power, Roberts, Ruby—19.

Nays—Cox, Norton—2.

The question then came on the passage of the order approving a program of $23,000,000 for public works.

President McGRATH—The clerk will read the items separately. (Item No. 1 read by the clerk.)

President McGRATH—The clerk will call the roll on acceptance of Item No. 1.

Yeas—Barker, Brackman, Burke, Donovan, Dowd, Englert, Fish, Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Gleason, Green, Hein, Kelly, Lynch, McGrath, Murray, Power, Roberts, Ruby—19.

Nays—Cox, Norton—2.

Coun. COX—On the previous vote I was under the impression that we were voting on No. 1. I wish to be recorded in favor of the act passing.

President McGRATH—Councilor Cox wishes to change his vote from no to yes on the acceptance of the act. Question now comes on No. 2.

Item No. 2 was passed, yeas 17, nays 4.

Nays—Dowd, Kelly, Roberts—3.

Coun. FITZGERALD—I move that the remaining items be taken up and one vote cast if no objection.

Objection was made.

President McGRATH—Objection being made, the clerk will now read item No. 4.

Item No. 4 passed, yeas 20, nays 1.

Coun. GREEN—I am going to move reconsideration of all these items that were defeated.

President McGRATH—Councilor GREEN moves reconsideration of the vote on Items 7, 9 and 12.

On a rising vote reconsideration was carried.

Coun. LYNCH—I offer this order as a substitute for Items 7, 9 and 12, and ask that it be passed under suspension of the rules.

President McGRATH—The clerk will read the order.

The clerk read the order, as follows:

"Ordered, That the City of Boston hereby proposes for approval under Part I of chapter 366 of the Acts of 1933, the following program of Public Works projects:

7. Playground and park improvements, including the construction of outdoor bathing pools and field houses in all sections of the city, at an estimated cost of $1,200,000.

9. Construction of buildings in various yards of the Public Works Department at an estimated cost of $500,000.

12. Construction of new prison building dining-hall at the House of Correction, Deer Island, at an estimated cost of $800,000."

Coun. LYNCH—I move suspension of the rules.

President McGRATH—Councilor LYNCH moves suspension of the rules.

Coun. DOWD—Suspension of the rules requires a two-thirds vote. Am I correct?

President McGRATH—Requires two-thirds vote. The question is on the suspension of the rules.

The rules were not suspended as there was not two-thirds vote in favor of suspending.

President McGRATH—The order will be referred to the Executive Committee.

ACCEPTANCE OF HUNTINGTON AVENUE SUBWAY ACT.

Coun. DOWD, for the Committee on Finance, submitted a report on the Message of the Mayor and order (referred July 31) to accept Part II of chapter 366 of the Acts of 1933, concerning the construction of the Huntington Avenue Subway,—that the order ought to pass.

The report of the committee was accepted. The order was passed, yeas 20, nays—Coun. Norton—1.

REMOVAL OF ALL ELEVATED STRUCTURES.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following: Resolved, That the City Council favor removal of all Elevated structures in the City of Boston, and notice of same be sent by the City Clerk to the committee of the Legislature now considering such matter.

Coun. MURRAY—I thought while the Legislature have a committee out now considering the advisability of taking down the structures of the Elevated in Boston that the City Council go on record so they will know our feelings.

Passed under suspension of rules.

REINSTATEMENT OF EMPLOYEES AT BOSTON CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston reinstate the five women who were discharged from the laundry of the City Hospital.

Coun. DOWD—Now that we have got through spending millions, let us get down to a few pennies. Five women, including two widows, working anywhere from one to two years at the Boston City Hospital laundry have been discharged and my interpretation when we passed the budget was that no individual would be discharged. Now if the Hospital Trustees want to discharge anybody, let them pick on somebody who isn't a widow or some woman working for fifteen to eighteen dollars a week. I feel that the Mayor, who I believe doesn't know anything about it would order these women reinstated immediately.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REFLECTORS FOR CITY OF BOSTON TRUCKS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Finance Committee look into the matter of the recent purchase of reflectors for City of Boston trucks.

Coun. NORTON—I understand the City of Boston has recently bought a considerable number of reflectors, under the law, for trucks, and that the price paid for the reflectors by the city, as compared with the state, has been twice as much as the Commonwealth has paid for an equally good reflector.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONTRACTORS HIRING CITIZENS OF BOSTON.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston compel all contractors doing city work to employ citizens of Boston.

Coun. BURKE—I have been informed that in doing work on Dorchester avenue, McCourt has employed a Mr. Collins of Brookline and Simpson Brothers has employed a Mr. Catalando of Chelsea. I am calling the attention of the City Council to this fact so that if it is possible, it can be stopped in the future.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRUCKING ON CENTRE STREET.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor request the Street Commissioners to restrict trucks and heavy vehicles on Centre street, from Codman square to Dorchester avenue, by diverting them along Talbot avenue.

Coun. BURKE—Centre street from Dorchester avenue to Codman square is being used by heavy trucks. It is a residential street and the annoyance is so great that it shatters the plaster on the walls and causes great annoyance and is a nuisance to the people in the district, and I am asking the Street Commissioners to determine whether or not restrictions should be placed upon the street so far as heavy trucks are concerned.

Coun. FISH—Part of Centre street is in my ward and if the councilor has no objections can I make it a joint order?

President McGRATH—The order may be made a joint order of Councilors Burke and Fish.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

IMPROVEMENTS IN WARD 17.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Street Commissioners reconstruct Melville avenue, Welles avenue, Moultrie street, Lyndhurst street, Aspinwall road, of Ward 17.

Coun. BURKE—I think Welles avenue and Melville avenue are two of the worst streets in the City of Boston. They are two of the widest streets and one of the streets, Melville avenue, contains abutters on that street who are people who pay heavy taxes. I think Melville avenue should be reconstructed. This is in order to make that a real street and not one similar to those they talk about in West Roxbury and Hyde Park.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted, on motion of Coun. GALLAGHER, at 4.50 p. m., to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President McGRATH at 5.15 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of the Mayor and orders (referred today) for transfers within various county departments—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, yeas 18, nays 0.

2. Report on order, offered by Coun. LYNCH and referred today, approving three public works projects amounting to $2,500,000,—that the order ought to pass.

Coun. BURKE—I would like to ask the Chair if it would be possible to have these items taken up separately?

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, you are now asking on this order that the City Council go on record approving three individual orders which we have defeated before executive session. When the Mayor sent his message up and stated very plainly that it required a two-thirds vote in this Council to pass it, we assumed he was sincere in doing so, but now we find after we have defeated three of the orders amounting to two and one-half million dollars, there is a loophole according to the rules of the Council whereby a majority of the votes of those present can go on record as favoring the very orders which we defeated. I say it is bad business, because you are only holding up that part of the program, which if defeated and sent to the Mayor today, he probably will send some other items up. I say the only thing we can do if this order is passed by a majority of these votes is to bring it to the Federal authorities' attention and I intend to do it showing that we have been deceived. We take the Mayor at his word that two thirds of the Council are necessary. We defeat three of those items and now they are going to pass it under subterfuge. I don't believe Mr. Fuller or the other gentlemen when they realize the political trickery used here today will pay any attention to those items.

Coun. RUBY—I don't think that the fact that we ask now that a majority vote be made so that we may submit three propositions for consideration is taking advantage of anybody. I think it is not a question of personal feeling with reference to any of these matters. We who feel that these matters ought to be considered by the duly constituted body feel that by the majority vote we ought to have the right to submit these items for consideration. It is not a question of where we are trying to do something that will be used as an expenditure of the city's money. I believe if we are fortunate enough to secure a majority vote,—12 votes out of 21,—there is nothing unfair about it. I don't see why any man should be disturbed unless it is of a personal nature. We may differ on certain problems. This is a program recommended for consideration. The President of the country is trying to do something for every city and town in the United States and there is no guarantee that any of these propositions, even those that might have been accepted 20 to 1 will come back to us approved by the Federal Board. Truly, those of us who feel that these matters ought to be given some consideration have a right to ask that this Council pass by a majority vote and send it on to that duly constituted Federal body or State body, if you please, before it goes to the Federal body. What is wrong about that? Why should anyone be disturbed? There is no underlying motive, and I say if I had known prior to the commencement of the meeting, I would have suggested that the present order be put in first because we were not voting the expenditure of money. That will necessitate a two-thirds vote and if we do not get the fifteen votes when the orders come back to us if approved by the Federal agencies, then there will be time enough to argue that there might be unfair advantage taken; but in this vote we are only asking that where thirteen members out of twenty-one voted to pass it on for consideration, why should the minority be disturbed. There has been argument made by the councilor from Ward 8 that a minority have been able to delay propositions on the floor of this Council and why should a minority now try to defeat a suggestion of the minority, and I don't think the President of the United States would say it is unfair for a majority to try and send back for consideration something that may come back with some merit to it after it is discussed by the proper Federal authorities and I don't think that any of us ought to be disturbed about any unfair advantage being taken by anybody. This is a construction program to put people to work, and I maintain I am for any reasonable expenditure that will put people to work, and I maintain that these estimates we are now seeking to send along will put men to work, and for that reason I think no one ought to be disturbed about the fact that a majority is now trying to defeat a minority.

Coun. ROBERTS—I am going to vote against them for the same reason as before. $2,800,000 won't put a handful of people to work and if the authorities at Washington allow these propositions to exist we will agree it was a mistake to spend $800,000 for a building at Deer Island that will only put a few men to work.

Coun. KELLY—Just a word. As I understand it the Federal Government has made a ruling that two thirds of the city councils throughout the country can accept the act. When it came before us in the early part of the afternoon it failed of the two-thirds vote. I don't think the Federal Government is interested that a majority of the Council favors these three items. I don't think the Boston City Council should look ridiculous in the eyes of the President and his Board who are going to be the final judges. I think so long as we cannot send it back approved by a two-thirds vote we shouldn't attempt to tell the Federal Government that we cannot get a two-thirds vote for these projects,—but here is a majority vote. It will positively make us look ridiculous and as though we didn't understand the provisions of the act as laid down by the Federal Government.

President McGRATH—Question comes on item No. 7 and the clerk will call the roll.

Coun. KELLY—I doubt that you can split those. In Executive we voted on the three together.

President McGRATH—The question must be divided if a member so requests councilor.

Coun. KELLY—Is that your own opinion Mr. President.

President McGRATH—That is my own opinion, Councilor Kelly. The clerk will call the roll on item No. 7.

Item No. 7 was passed, yeas 12, nays 7.

TWO OF EVERY 1,000 INHABITANTS ARE POLICE EMPLOYEES IN THE AVERAGE LARGE CITY.

About two of every 1,000 persons in the average city are employed in city police departments. Jersey City has the greatest percentage of police defense of any of the cities of over 250,000 population reporting to the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, according to statements published in a recent issue of the monthly publication, "Uniform Crime Reports." In the total population of 316,715, there are 1,154 Police Department employees, or 3.6 per 1,000 inhabitants.

Birmingham, Ala., is at the other end of the scale among the cities of over 250,000, with one police department employee per 1,000 inhabitants, or a total of 260 in a population of 259,678.

Boston, with a population of 781,188, has 2,579 police department employees, or 3.3 per 1,000. Newark, N. J., with 442,337 inhabitants, has 1,383 police employees, or 3.1 per 1,000. Chicago has only two per 1,000, there being a total of 6,742 police employees for the city's 3,276,438 people.

Among other cities which have reported such statistics to the Bureau are:

Baltimore, with 2.3 police department employees per 1,000 inhabitants; Buffalo, with 2.3; Cincinnati, with 1.5; Cleveland, with 1.7; Columbus, with 1.2; Dallas, with 1.1; Denver, with 1.5; Detroit, with 2.6; Houston, with 1.2; Indianapolis, with 1.6; Kansas City, with 1.7; Louisville, with 1.6.

Milwaukee has two police department employees per 1,000 of the population; Minneapolis has 1.2; New Orleans has 1.9; Oakland, Cal., has 1.4; Philadelphia has 2.8; Portland, Ore., has 1.5; Providence, R. I., has 2.4; Rochester has 1.6.

In St. Louis, the percentage is 2.8 per 1,000; in St. Paul, 1.3; in San Francisco, 2.2; in Seattle, 1.9; in Toledo, 1.5; and in Washington, 2.9.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

THE METROPOLITAN DISTRICT. With Its 43 Municipalities.

Consists in the most inclusive sense of forty-three municipalities, including Boston, or fourteen cities and twenty-nine towns, all within fifteen miles of the State House but not yet consolidated in one complete governmental system. The seven cities in the first zone, i. e., adjacent to Boston, are these, viz., Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Newton, Quincy, Revere and Somerville; the six cities in the second zone, not adjacent, are Lynn, Malden, Medford, Melrose,

Waltham and Woburn. The six adjacent towns are Brookline, Dedham, Milton, Needham, Watertown and Winthrop; the twenty other towns are Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Canton, Cohasset, Dover, Hingham, Hull, Lexington, Nahant, Norwood, Reading, Saugus, Stoneham, Stoughton, Swampscott, Wakefield, Walpole, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth and Winchester. North and northwest of Boston are situated eleven of the cities and twelve of the towns; south and southwest, two cities and seventeen towns. Norwood, Stoughton and Walpole were admitted into the South System of the Metropolitan Sewerage District in 1928.

UNITED STATES FOREIGN TRADE IN SILVER.

Although the United States is the second largest producer of silver, its exports of the metal exceed total annual production according to the United States Department of Commerce reports. Much silver is received for refining or transshipment. Most of this imported silver comes from Mexico, as evident from the following import figures, in millions of dollars: Mexico, 40.5 in 1929, 24.9 in 1930, and 11 in the first eight months of 1931; Canada, 6.4, 6.1, and 2.5, respectively; Peru, 10.4, 5.9, and 1.6; Chile, 2.3, 1.8, and 0.6; and all countries, 63.9, 42.8, and 18.3.

United States exports of silver go chiefly to China (including Hong Kong), British India, and the United Kingdom (whence they are sold largely to other countries). Shipments to leading countries and the total are summarized in millions of dollars, for 1929, 1930, and the first eight months of 1931, as follows: China and Hong Kong, 64.6, 37.8, and 8.5, respectively, of which China accounted for 61.8, 31.8, and 7.7; British India, 8.9, 9.6, and 4.6; the United Kingdom, 0.1, 2.1, and 3.4; Canada, 2.4, 1.8, and 1.1; Mexico, 5.2, 1.4, and 0.7; Germany, 1.5, 1, and 0.7; and all countries, 83.4, 54.2, and 19.2.

SAFE DRIVING.

Most cities and towns have a long list of "don'ts" but do little to educate the drivers of cars. If one half the time that is used trying to make people do something or not to do something was spent in educating the drivers much better results would be obtained. We need drivers' schools and the city or town that first starts such a school will be doing a real service.

CENSUS OF MANUFACTURES.

The Bureau of the Census issued a statement at the close of 1932 giving some preliminary figures compiled from the 1931 biennial census of manufactures, covering more than 300 industries in the United States. Public utility industries (other than manufactured gas), the mining and quarry industries and various service industries were not included in the compilation. The printing, publishing and allied industries are included.

Number of establishments, 174,136, a decrease of 36,823 or 17.5 per cent in two years; average number of wage earners, 6,511,647, a decrease of 2,327,096 or 26.3 per cent in two years; wages (not including salaried officers and employees), $7,225,587,464, a decrease of $4,395,385,790 or 37.8 per cent from 1929; cost of materials, containers for products, fuel and purchased electric energy, $21,420,- 124,017, a decrease of $17,129,455,715 or 44.4 per cent in the two years; value of products, $41,333,108,998, a decrease of $29,101,754,445 or 41.3 per cent since 1929; value added by manufacture, $19,912,984,981, a decrease of $11,972,298,730 or 37.5 per cent in two years.

Food and kindred products led in the number of establishments reporting, also in cost of materials and value of products; textiles and their products led in the average number of wage earners, amount of wages and value added by manufacture.

HIGHWAY WORK TO RELIEVE UNEMPLOYMENT.

Highway officials throughout the United States are earnestly besought to put as many men to work as possible. The total disbursements for all road purposes in this country during the ten-year period 1922-1931 are computed by the United States Bureau of Public Roads to be about $14,000,000,000, more than half of this by and for the State Highway Departments. The Bureau last May came to the conclusion that the man-month expenditure was then about $300 with a downward trend and that for every man employed directly on the job, two others are employed indirectly in the preparation of materials, manufacture of machinery, transportation, etc. Thus the total of $4,637,000,000 expended for the construction of state and Federal roads during the ten-year period referred to means 13,248,571 man-months—the equivalent of the steady employment of approximately 110,000 men for the ten years, with 220,000 others employed indirectly. Similarly, the money spent on construction of local roads must have given direct employment to 51,000, with 102,000 others indirectly employed. This would make a grand total, continuously employed in road building, of 483,000 men.

MONTHLY PAYMENT OF TAXES ON REAL ESTATE RECOMMENDED.

The Committee on Public Relations of the United States Building and Loan League, of which Henry S. Rosenthal, of Cincinnati, is chairman, has recently recommended that taxes on real estate be paid on a monthly basis instead of semi-annually or annually as is now the custom. It is argued that the burden of taxes would not be noticed so much if met each month. Taxes would then be in the same class with gas, electric, and telephone charges, and could be easily anticipated. The monthly payment of taxes, it is stated, would keep money constantly flowing into the treasury of the city or other local government and thus obviate temporary borrowing.

COAL RESERVES OF THE WORLD.

Five-sevenths of the estimated coal reserves of the world are in North America, followed by those of Asia, which comprises the largest anthracite areas, chiefly in China. About 53 per cent of these reserves consist of bituminous coal, 41 per cent of sub-bituminous, and 6 per cent of anthracite. More than half of the world's reserves of bituminous coal are in the United States. Through the scientific research of fuel engineers and chemists the uses of coal have increased rapidly and grades which were formerly considered of little value are now having wide usage.—The Coal Industry of the World (Trade Promotion Series No. 105).

NEW DEAL AS IT IS WORKING OUT WAS ABSOLUTELY ESSENTIAL FOR PRESERVATION OF AMERICAN REPUBLIC AND SUCCESS IS ASSURED, MAYOR CURLEY TELLS RADIO AUDIENCE IN REGULAR WEEKLY BROADCAST FROM CITY HALL STATION. SAYS NAME OF PRESIDENT WILL RANK WITH WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN AS SAVIOR OF COUNTRY.

Mayor Curley, speaking over Station WNAC at 2 p. m. on the regular Monday afternoon broadcast from City Hall, said in part as follows:

Friends of the Radio Audience.

The City of Boston, in conjunction with the Standard Oil Company, has just extended a greeting to Wiley Post, who has completed a flight around the world in the shortest time that it has ever been made in the history of the world—a flight around the world that required but a little more than seven days and eighteen hours in the monoplane "Winnie Mae."

It was an exceeding pleasure, on behalf of the citizens of Boston, to present him, at the Statler Hotel, with an enduring token of the affection, esteem, love and admiration that we hold for him because of his courage and skill and his singular contribution in directing the attention of the entire people of America to the perilousness of our present position in the matter of invasion by the air. When we consider that this plane, costing perhaps less than $3,500, completed in about seven days and eighteen hours a 25,000-mile journey around the world, we have some realization of the perilousness of our position with the longest undefended coastline of any nation in the entire world, and the necessity of a more courageous and intelligent viewpoint upon the part of the people of America in the matter of national defence from the standpoint of supremacy in the control of the agencies of the air.

However, it is but one of the problems of the people of the United States, yet one that I am confident will be solved through the courageous and intelligent leadership of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. I recall that as Assistant Secretary of the Navy under the administration of the late lamented Woodrow Wilson, that there were times when he caused a little uneasiness for his superiors by his insistence on slashing red tape in order to secure results, and I am inclined to believe that his judgment more than any other made possible the ash-barrel campaign with high explosives to end the scourge of the undersea boats. And with a knowledge of how important naval work and naval defence is I believe he can be relied upon, before his terms have expired, to give to America that degree of protection in the air that is essential if the liberty we have been privileged to enjoy for 150 years is to continue.

Business Losses.

I did not propose talking today on the question of national defence or aviation. I did intend to say just a word on the changed outlook in America, and how that outlook is going to affect every individual in America. We might just as well face the fact clearly. The business concerns of the United States all lost money for the years 1930, 1931, 1932 and a goodly portion of 1933. This was due in large measure to the system of price cutting that prevailed and to the system of utilization of women and children in industry and to the system of substituting inferior articles and selling them in competition with superior articles. Under the new deal as outlined by President Roosevelt a change has taken place during the last sixty days. Persons with commodities to dispose of are finding it possible to come to an agreement as to a price that will net a reasonable return and at the same time permit the particular class of industry affected to place in operation the recommendations of President Roosevelt's Advisory Board, in the matter of shorter hours and a living wage.

How necessary this is must be apparent to every individual when you consider that at the beginning of this year more than 12,000,000 men were unemployed in the United States, and when you consider that this 12,000,000 represented one-quarter of the entire working male population of the United States, and if we allow three dependents for every individual that is not working, it represents in the vicinity of 36,000,000 persons in the United States without any visible means of support and with rather limited prospects of work.

A reduction in the working hours of the people of the United States from a 45 and a 48 hour week to a 40-hour week is the equivalent to about a 16 per cent opportunity for increased employment for those who are without work in America, but represents only a small portion of the real return that is reflected in the increased volume of expenditures by those who have returned to work, plus those who now realize for the first time in four years that they need no longer fear the loss of their positions through a depression in the particular industry in which they are employed. This psychology of fear has been the hardest thing to overcome during the depression in the United States but I believe we are gradually overcoming it and it is absolutely essential that this be done.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

MAYOR CURLEY AND BOSTON CITIZENS PAY HIGH HONOR TO NOTED AVIATOR, WILEY POST — FETE HIM FOR ACHIEVEMENT IN ROUND-THE-WORLD FLYING — GUEST OF STANDARD OIL COMPANY AT LUNCHEON WHERE CITY'S GIFT OF HANDSOME CLOCK IS PRESENTED BY THE MAYOR.

At the luncheon given by the Standard Oil Company to Wiley Post, in the Georgian Room of the Hotel Statler, on Monday, August 21, Mayor Curley spoke as follows:

Mr. Toastmaster, Honored Guest, Ladies and Gentlemen.

I desire at this time to express in behalf of the citizenship of Boston my sincere appreciation for the great courtesy and assistance given by the officials of the Standard Oil Company in the extension of welcome to the distinguished and honored guest of the day, Wiley Post.

It is but one of the many notable contributions that this great corporation and its farseeing officials have made to the well-being of America and the American nation. Their contribution in the field of industry has perhaps been excelled only in the field of humanitarian and professional endeavor both in medicine and surgery. They have made life just a little sweeter by their contributions to the sick people of the entire world. They have contributed most generously to art, science and literature, but yet I sometimes wonder whether we have a just appreciation of the vast contribution in their encouragement of aviation. No individual with the exception of those who have been privileged to take a flight can have a true appreciation of what an important part aviation may some day play in the preservation of the American liberties.

With the longest undefended coastline, on either the Atlantic or Pacific Coast, of any nation in the world, with a combined coastline greater in area than the entire coastline of Europe, the United States should occupy first place in the field of aviation as a measure of national defence and a guarantee of the continuance of American liberties to the people who live under the Stars and Stripes.

COMPANY'S CONTRIBUTION.

I had the privilege yesterday afternoon of riding in a plane three years old from Maine to Boston, and we made the journey of 160-odd miles in one hour and forty-five minutes. Some eight weeks ago it was my very great pleasure and privilege to witness the opening of a new line of planes to operate between New York City and San Francisco and to make the journey in better than 180 miles an hour, or in eighteen and one half hours from New York City to San Francisco. It gives one an appreciation and a realizing sense of how important it is that America occupy first place in the matter of aviation.

A group of planes flying over any portion of any country at night makes it an impossibility for the anti-aircraft to do any damage, and if, as a consequence of the contribution of the Standard Oil Company of this tour of the United States being made by this daring, this courageous American aviator, it results in the awakening of the people of the United States to that character of national defense program which will give first place in aviation then it will be of equal importance to the Rockefeller Standard Oil program which resulted in the ending of the plague and hook-worm in the South.

I recall two years ago, as Mayor of Boston, greeting Post and Gatty, who had just completed a flight around the world that scrapped that great work of Jules Verne "Around the World in Eighty Days" and reduced it to a little more than eight days, and now we find the honored guest of this occasion here to receive the greeting of his friends in Boston after completing a journey around the world in a little better than seven days. This outstanding performance has brought the entire world into just a little closer contact and perhaps made all realize in some measure how dependent each portion of the world and the people of the world are to one another. I regret exceedingly that that other great American who was with us two years ago, Admiral Byrd, after he had completed a flight to the Antarctic, is not with us on this occasion, but he has sent an able representative, however, who is to accompany him on his next trip. Wiley Post starting out with the hope of reducing the number of days and hours in which a flight might be made around the world, in the little plane, "The Winnie Mae," typified the courage that was necessary to make that flight. With accommodations for but one individual and behind his seat a tank holding from three hundred to five hundred gallons of gasoline, or in other words death at his elbow, the roar of the motor, the tension and the vibration, we marvel how any individual could stay awake long enough to fly to Indo-China, across Siberia to distant Alaska, completing a journey in record-breaking time. I don't suppose anyone in the wide world can visualize the thoughts of this man in charge of the "Winnie Mae." He completed the flight around the world, brought added glory to the flag of his country and added honor to that section of the United States where he first saw the light of day.

Of the many places he has visited, or will visit, we want him to take with him a memento of our admiration and love, a distinctly Boston product, a clock made by an old Boston firm, the firm of Bigelow, Kennard, the works of which were put in by an old and reliable Massachusetts concern, the Waltham Watch Company.

GIFT PRESENTED.

It represents not two white elephants, but two green elephants—Irish elephants—and upon the heads of which is supported a pagoda. It recalls a little incident which occurred in the office of the Mayor recently. We had a visit from the Consul-General from China to the United States, and, in conformity with custom, I requested that he sign the Guest Book, which he did with these words: "May God speed you and Heaven guide you." Then I said, "Where did you get that expression; why, that is an old Gaelic expression 1,500 years old?" and he answered, "China was in existence 4,000 years before Ireland, where did the Irish get it?" Three weeks later we had a visit from a distinguished individual from Turkey, and when he had finished writing in the book, I called to his attention what the Consul-General from China had written, and he said, "That is singular, I wonder where the Chinese got this saying as it has been common in Turkey for 6,000 years."

And so to you, honored guest, we are presenting a symbol that expresses our affection, love and esteem, a symbol that typifies a Massachusetts industry, that devotes to that industry the highest of talents that have ever entered into the manufacture of any product. We are giving it to you with a realization that the pagoda which is being upheld by the heads of the elephants will remind you of your travels into China and through Siberia. The face of the clock with the word "Waltham" on it will recall to your mind to the end of time the many pleasing friends that you have won by your indomitable courage, through which you have written most illuminatingly upon the pages of the history of our common country.

FRAUD RED TAPE'S EFFECT.

I was fearful last week that the construction program to be carried on by the states and subdivisions of the states in conjunction with the Federal Government, and which represents a 70 per cent contribution by the states and subdivisions of the states and a 30 per cent contribution by the Federal Government, that it would fail of its purpose because of the red tape involved and because of the length of time that must elapse before actual construction work might start. We were all cheered within the last seven days with the announcement from Washington that more than seven hundred million dollars has already been allocated for work throughout the United States.

In our own section a new post office in Cambridge, a new post office in Boston adjoining the South Station, representing $3,500,000, and a huge housing project in East Boston representing about three and one-half millions of dollars additional, and then the program of state construction contributed to by the Federal Government and representing several millions of dollars additional, and by the time that this program is in operation and has employed its maximum number of men, then the programs as outlined and adopted by the cities and towns will come in to supplement the work of the Federal Government.

Just consider, if you will, what it means. It means $700,000,000 placed in actual circulation immediately. It means $3,000,000,000 contributed by the Federal Government and $7,000,000,000 raised by the cities and states, or a total of about ten billion dollars. Now, it has been estimated that a live dollar will circulate ten times in thirty days, and this will mean the equivalent of $100,000,000,000 put into circulation within the next two years.

When we consider that the highest output in the United States in any single year, where the value of all of the goods manufactured, raised or mined, including the value of all the crops that were raised, and coal, minerals and oil, and all of the goods that were fabricated in industry of every character totaled about $90,000,000,000, and that was in the most prosperous year in the history of the country, 1928, you get some appreciation and some realization of what is meant by putting $100,000,000,000 in circulation, plus that which is already in circulation, in a period of two years. It means, in my opinion, the greatest era of prosperity ever known and to those who are opposed to the policy of the President it is well for them to recall, under the speeding up process and mass production that has been in operation in America during the last quarter of a century, people would enjoy a great measure of prosperity for seven months of the year but in most cases were aided by public and private charities to avoid starvation for the remaining five months of the year.

NEW DEAL NECESSARY.

The new deal was absolutely essential if the American Republic was to be preserved. Historians will some day write the name of Franklin Delano Roosevelt beside those of Washington and Lincoln as the savior of his country, because the success of the new deal is now assured. People are more interested today in economics than they are in the political attributes of any individual or the political opinions of any candidate for office; they are interested in that character of program that will make possible a fairer distribution of the created wealth of this country of ours among the 128,000,000 people who inhabit the United States.

The new deal may mean less millionaires but if it makes less millionaires it will likewise mean less poorhouses, less paupers, less mendicants and it will mean a larger measure of happiness in the home and a more complete measure of prosperity in the land, based on the realization that under the American flag the fullest possible measure of economic justice ever enjoyed by people in the world is the lot of the people of the United States of America.

So this work must go on and everyone must do his part to insure success. It will bring a little more leisure and how we occupy that leisure is one of the most important essentials in connection with the new deal program. If we occupy this leisure for the development of mind and body and a more intimate and intensive knowledge of our government and ways and means of preserving it and ways and means of permitting the people to enjoy in fuller measure the fruits of liberty and equality that is ours it will be a blessing until the end of time.

MAYOR CURLEY REJOICES THAT FEDERAL GOVERNMENT HAS APPROVED BIG EAST BOSTON BUILDING PROJECT. SEES GREAT BENEFITS FROM PROMISED INCREASE IN EMPLOYMENT.

Mayor Curley, on August 18, expressed great satisfaction upon learning that the Federal Public Works Administration has given its tentative approval of a $3,500,000 loan to the Neptune Gardens, Incorporated, of Boston, which proposes to erect 760 residential units in two-story brick row houses and three-story apartment buildings in the neighborhood of the World War Memorial Park, East Boston.

This project will put at work immediately over a thousand men.

Mayor Curley expressed further satisfaction upon learning that the Federal Government had allocated $3,700,000 for a parcel post building in Boston. He said that if these projects can be commenced at once and are supplemented by the program of the City of Boston, calling for expenditures of approximately $23,000,000 for public works, that the national recovery will be given a great impetus and great strides made along the road for a speedier return of greater prosperity.

The business interests of the country are getting solidly behind the President in his program for more employment. If the unemployed can be put to work at once and money thereby placed in circulation we will soon be on the high road to still better times and the end of the depression.

The keynote of the entire program of the President is speed. All red tape and delay must be set aside and employment afforded the people. If this is done, in cooperation with the business concerns of the country who are adopting the code of the N. R. A., it will mean more wages, more employment and more prosperity.

The President is to be congratulated upon his foresight and vision in connection with his program for immediate public works construction by the Federal Government and the states and cities of the country.

We in Boston are doing our utmost to cooperate with the President in his splendid program. The Mayor stated that he is doing his utmost to cooperate in this connection and that he has already filed with the proper authorities an application for a loan for the Huntington avenue subway, which will place 3,000 men at work, and hopes to secure an immediate approval of this project so that work may commence forthwith.

The Mayor stated that he has today filed with the Emergency Finance Board of the Commonwealth an application for a loan of $3,000,000 for necessary sewerage construction work, which will give employment to approximately 500 men per month for thirty-six months.

As soon as the necessary papers can be prepared applications will be made for the remainder of the public works program of the city so that many more thousands of men may be given employment.

It is to be hoped that the Federal Government in addition to giving its approval to the East Boston housing project and to the post office construction work, will also give its approval to the Cape Cod canal improvement, which is so essential for the proper use of the canal and which will give thousands of men employment.

It is apparent that the Federal Government proposes that pursuant to the provisions of the National Recovery Act, employment be afforded to as many people as possible within the earliest possible time.

All governmental agencies should cooperate without delay in helping to bring about the elimination of unemployment and the diminution of the necessity for public welfare relief by the cities and towns of the country.

The announcement from Washington of a general program of public works, supplemented by similar programs by states, cities and towns, should end the fear that persons who are still employed have been obsessed with thorough uncertainty as to the soundness of the recovery program. The immense sums that have already been put in circulation and that will be added to each day should speedily be reflected by prosperity in every line of business activity.

Truly, President Franklin D. Roosevelt has worked a miracle in the restoration of faith and the inspiration of confidence, based upon the solid foundation of work and wages for the people of America for the present and future.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

BOSTON, August 9, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—An emergency condition exists at the Theodore Parker School that must be remedied at once. Upon investigation I find that all the framing throughout the entire building is so eaten by fungus that it is totally unsafe to put a child in it.

In view of this condition I respectfully request your permission to award to P. J. Cantwell & Son, a contractor who is doing some work here at this time on a repair job, the work of renovating this building as is necessary before school opens, in a sum not to exceed $6,500. This is an emergency measure that will not permit of delay. Your approval is respectfully requested.

Respectfully yours,

WM. W. DRUMMEY,
Superintendent of Construction.

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, August 16, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—The Trustees of the Public Library of the City of Boston respectfully request your permission to award a contract, without advertising, in the sum of $4,500 to the E. Stanley Wires Company.

The work, which consists of the replacing of broken roof tile and of the repointing of leaking roof joints, is of such a nature that it is impossible to predetermine the extent and location of the necessary repairs as a basis for competitive bidding.

The E. Stanley Wires Company is an outstanding contractor in the field of tile roof repair.

The sum of $4,500 was allotted to this work in the 1933 Library Department budget.

Respectfully,

THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON,
by JOHN L. HALL,
President.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

Boston, August 15, 1933.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Your permission is respectfully requested to the award of a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Baker, Matz & Co., 15 Zamora street, Jamaica Plain, on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; and also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve $1,000.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Acting Commissioner of Public Works.

Boston, August 16, 1933.

To His Honor the Mayor.

Your approval is respectfully requested to the award of a contract, without advertising, to Matthew Cummings Company, 43 Tremont street, Boston, for constructing sewerage works in private land between Wilder street and Normandy street, Dorchester, at an estimated cost of $3,300.

The proposed sewer work is in the property on which the Cummings Company is constructing the Jeremiah E. Burke High School and, in our opinion, it is not advisable to have another contractor in there while Cummings' work is going on. The unit prices agreed upon are fair and reasonable, and it is to the city's advantage to have the work done in this manner.

Yours respectfully,

C. J. CARVEN,
Acting Commissioner of Public Works.

Boston, August 16, 1933.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Your approval is respectfully requested to the award of a contract, without advertising, to C. J. Maney Company, of 50 Congress street, Boston, for constructing sewerage works estimated to cost $9,000, and for laying water pipes estimated to cost $4,500, in the southerly sidewalk (a portion of which is called Shrewsbury road) of the park boulevard now being built under contract by this firm for the Park Department, between Centre street and the West Roxbury Parkway.

The original plans of the Park Department did not include a sidewalk on this park road, but the officials of that department having decided to install them, it is advisable to do this underground work before the sidewalks are built, in order to provide facilities for the abutting property which will be developed and built upon.

The unit prices agreed upon are fair and reasonable, and because of complications which may arise, we consider it inadvisable to have any other contractor on the ground while the Maney Company is at work on the park roadway.

Yours respectfully,

C. J. CARVEN,
Acting Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Boston, August 18, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Gibby Foundry Company, East Boston, for furnishing to the Sewer Division:

Four 7-foot 6-inch by 8-foot tide gates and frames with complete fittings at a price of $2,400 for the lot.

The following prices were received: Gibby Foundry Company, $2,400; McCulloch Manufacturing Company, $2,596; Barbour-Stockwell, $2,716.

As there are existing patents on these tide gates, which are held jointly by the Gibby Foundry Company and the McCulloch Manufacturing Company, no advantage would accrue by publicly advertising the same.

that the school be retained on a two-session basis, as follows:

The history of the one-session school day in the Boston elementary schools opens with the notable example of the Prince District, which flourished from 1878 until 1906, as the only one-session school in our City. In 1906, by vote of the School Committee, the Prince School was organized on a two-session basis to correspond with all the other elementary schools.

Since that time, every appeal for one-session has been most carefully investigated and in the years between, as petitions have come in, pupils have been allowed to take luncheons from home, and luncheon attendants have been provided where distances seemed too great; but there never has been any yielding to a shortened program with early closing, except in one instance—the William McKinley School—where neighboring conditions necessitated a one-session school. The proximity of the one-session schools in Brookline interfered with the school attendance at the William McKinley, and the necessary travel by the pupils through one or more busy street intersections, namely, Aubudon Road and Brookline Avenue, and Beacon and St. Mary's Streets, made it imperative that the school be established on a one-session basis. These conditions do not prevail in the Agassaz District.

There is a tendency at present to lengthen, not to shorten, the school day. Private schools all across the country, established as Country Day schools, hold children for longer hours and give them opportunity for supervised play and supervised study. With a change like this going on in private schools where there is money to pay for the lengthened day with its supervision—why, at this time should we shorten the day of the public school pupil except to meet a real emergency? We may well remember that the reports of the Massachusetts Safety Council show that the largest number of accidents to children occur on Saturdays or after school hours.

It is a pedagogical fact that in the lower grades the child's capacity for work is limited to a few hours. If he has had a luncheon or recess, he will go on until 12:00 o'clock with renewed vigor; if then he has another hurried luncheon, he is not ready to do much in the way of school requirements, in the afternoon. On the contrary, if he goes home for a good meal, he returns ready for the afternoon's program.

Dr. F. H. Richardson of the New York State Department of Health, writing in the Elementary School Journal, page 13 Volume 8, says—

"In lower grades child's capacity for work is exhausted in three hours or less. To urge him to work thereafter is ineffective."

In the same volume Dr. Frank Van der Bogart of Schenectady writes that the "Supervised School Luncheon and the proverbial pint of milk are poor substitutes for a wholesome noon-day meal," and Dr. James A. Keenan, Director of School Hygiene, in the appended letter agrees with educational and medical findings on the value of a break and a wholesome meal at mid-day.

In conclusion; the Board of Superintendents is of the opinion that the two-session organization should be continued in the Agassiz District, and in all six-grade districts because

1. The younger children need a hot luncheon and a break in the middle of the school day.

2. The continuous program from 9:00 to 1:30 is too great a strain upon the physical strength of the child and results in fatigue which eventually interferes with his progress.

3. The number of accidents in which children are injured or killed is reported as greater in the hours after school and on Saturdays.

Following is the communication from the Director of School Hygiene, Dr. James A. Keenan, to Assistant Superintendent Mary C. Mellyn:

It is my desire to substantiate the statement "that the continuous program from 9:00 to 1:30 is too great a strain upon the physical strength of the child and results in fatigue which eventually interferes with his progress," because it would be necessary to concentrate into four hours of instruction the regular five-hour program.

If the curriculum of our other schools included only four hours, and if there were available adequate facilities for the serving of a substantial nourishing lunch at a low cost under the direct supervision of the Department of School Hygiene, no great danger to the health of the children would result. Furthermore, there are no facilities in the Agassiz school for serving food. There are only two available rooms measuring about 40 by 26 feet, wholly inadequate in size for so large a number of children.

Since the adoption of Daylight Saving Time, the children are out of school at 2:30 Standard Time, which allows them considerable time to be exposed to sunlight, as does the fifteen-minute recess morning and afternoon, and the recess hour at noon.

Under perfect conditions, a one-session school with a more limited curriculum than is practised in Boston, might be desirable as a health promoter.

The Winchester Road Portable has been a one-session school from 9:00 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. for several months past. After inspecting the children and observing their height and weight as compared with the normal standards, I feel that these children have not benefited as far as their health is concerned by this arrangement. On the contrary, a cold lunch, consisting of a few sandwiches which is what these children eat at noon, does not appeal to me as a health promoter.

This Winchester Road Portable was made a one-session school at the time that Center street was closed.

It is recommended by the Department of School Hygiene that the school be placed back upon its regular schedule—two sessions.

The reports were accepted and ordered spread upon the records.

TRANSFER OF APPROPRIATIONS

The following communication was presented:

City of Boston—Department of School Buildings.

July 13, 1933.

School Committee City of Boston, 15 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen:—

On July 10, 1933, the School Committee forwarded to the Board of Commissioners of School Buildings, the following proposed order:—

ORDERED, That of the amount appropriated at the meeting of April 3, 1933 (see pp. 45 and 46) "to provide for the cost of alterations and repairs of school buildings, and for furniture, fixtures and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing schoolyards, during the financial year January 1 to December 31, 1933," the sum of $6,364.44 is hereby transferred to the appropriation for "Administration Expenses of the Department of School Buildings in connection with the alteration and repair of school buildings, and for furniture, fixtures, and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing schoolyards during the financial year January 1 to December 31, 1933."

"In explanation of the foregoing, the Chairman stated that the Superintendent of Construction has asked that the item for "Trucking and Expressage"—Item 16 in the detailed estimates for alterations and repairs included in the appropriation order passed at the meeting of April 3, 1933 (see minutes p. 45)—be reduced to $3,635.56, and that the balance be used to provide for the following additions to the detailed estimates for administration expenses in connection with alterations and repairs, as spread upon the records of the meeting of June 19, 1933:

Salary of chauffeur from July 1..	$732.50
Salary of laborer from July 1....	704.00
Purchase of truck.....	925.00
Purchase of metal garage and work connected therewith.....	359.00
Reserve	3,643.94

Total$6,364.44"

The Commissioners have voted to approve same. The explanation attached to the proposed order explains the purpose of the same. It is believed that money will be saved by the Department purchasing a truck and doing its own trucking.

Respectfully yours,
Board of Commissioners of School Buildings

City of Boston—Department of School Buildings

July 13, 1933.

School Committee City of Boston, 15 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass.
Gentlemen:

In accordance with the provisions of Chapter 351 of the Acts of 1929, the Board of Commissioners of School Buildings voted to approve the following proposed orders, submitted by the School Committee to this Board under date of July 11, 1933, viz:

ORDERED, That of the amounts appropriated by the School Committee under date of July 22 1932 (see p. 155), the following amount is hereby transferred to the 1933 item of school accommodations listed below:

FROM

Item 13, 1932—Robert Gould Shaw District, West Roxbury: Construction of four-classroom addition to Randall G. Morris School.....$20,000.00

TO

Item 10, 1933—Robert Gould Shaw District, West Roxbury: Construction of four-classroom addition, second story on original building, Randall G. Morris School, interior to be finished at a later date.....$20,000.00

ORDERED, That of the amounts appropriated by the School Committee under date of July 30, 1930 (see pp. 207-208), the following amount is hereby transferred to the 1925 item of school accommodations listed below:

FROM

Item 51, 1930—Charles Sumner District, Roslindale: Construction of thirteen classroom elementary school building on Poplar Street, corner of Dale St.... $600.00

TO

Item 9, 1925—Minot District, Dorchester: Land and construction of eight classroom unit (kindergarten and grades I to III) of twenty-four classroom intermediate school (Item 31, 1924 as amended May 18, 1925) $600.00

ORDERED, That of the amounts appropriated by the School Committee under date of July 30, 1930 (see pp. 207-208), the following amount is hereby transferred to the 1929 item of school accommodations listed below:

FROM

Item 51, 1930—Charles Sumner District, Roslindale: Construction of thirteen-classroom elementary school building on Poplar Street, corner of Dale St. $25.00

TO

Item 27, 1929—Henry Grew District, Hyde Park: Land for kindergarten and twelve classroom building $25.00

The last two orders were necessary to satisfy bills for expenses incurred by the Law Department and chargeable to the Department of School Buildings, due to litigation in a land taking.

The Board of Commissioners of School Buildings also received the following proposed order:—

ORDERED, That to provide for the cost of alterations and repairs of school buildings, and for furniture, fixtures and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings and for improving existing schoolyards, during the financial year January 1 to December 31, 1933, the sum of $20,000.00 is hereby appropriated, in addition to the sum appropriated on April 3, 1933.

ESTIMATES

The following is the detail for alterations and repairs covered by the foregoing order:

Alterations, Dorchester High School for Boys.....	$10,000.00
Repairs in yard of Martin Milmore School.....	5,000.00
Alterations at Hilltop School.....	1,500.00
Reserve, Major Educational Items for the following.....	3,500.00
Removal of equipment from Cottage Place School and fitting up room in Comins School for kindergarten.
Removal of equipment from Grant School and setting it up in Wendell Phillips and Peter Faneuil Schools.
New kindergarten room in David A. Ellis School and making certain changes adjacent to sanitariums, Morrison Building.
Total	$20,000.00

In relation to this latter order the Board of Commissioners of School Buildings report as they did under date of April 3rd when the School Committee made its original appropriation for repairs and alterations of school buildings for the year 1933, that the sum allocated for the purpose by appropriation of the School Committee this year is entirely inadequate. We have exhausted every effort through conference and representation to convince the School Committee that a larger part of the 91 cents per $1000. of valuation allowed by law for the repair and upkeep of our school buildings and school yards, should be appropriated than has been done this year.

The Superintendent of Construction has recently made a most careful survey and tabulation of the necessary repairs for existing school buildings and school yards and has reported his findings to the Superintendent of Public Schools under eleven different heads which show outstanding needs at an approximate cost of $600,000. This sum of course is in addition to the amount appropriated by the School Committee at an earlier date this year for alteration and repair items.

The appropriation of $20,000. enables us to do only three items of that list.

The miscellaneous items on the list forwarded to the Superintendent of Schools to be communicated to the School Committee, totals $305,070. There is an additional request of money for painting of schools in the South End and South Boston, amounting to $35,000. Items for plumbing $119,500; heating $11,500; electrical work $7,800. Also a request for money for fire escapes amounting to $20,000 and for fire curtains and asbestos stage equipment which the Department thinks imperative, for 33 schools, amounting to $40,000.

It was called to the attention of the School Committee early in the year that many of our school yards were in very bad and dangerous condition. The whole yard of the Martin Milmore School has dropped two feet. A large amount of money could be spent there as caissons are desirable in the opinion of the engineers who have studied this yard and now find that the $5000. allotted for this work will not enable us to do it in the best way. The school yards are an important part of the school plant and must be given more attention in the future than in the past, especially in view of the large use thereof for summer playground purposes.

While we approve the foregoing order for $20,000. we close this report with a request that the School Committee within the time allowed by law, make further appropriation of monies for repair and alteration purposes in addition to the sums already appropriated. We all know that prices are advancing. The taxpayers should have the benefit of as low a price as possible to do the work that must some day be done. For the School Committee not to appropriate any money for new buildings this year and to refuse to appropriate sufficient money to make necessary repairs within the amount allowed by law to be appropriated by the School Committee, in the opinion of the Board of Commissioners of School Buildings is unjustifiable.

The Superintendent of Construction and the employees of this Department will furnish you in detail any information that you may desire in relation to the above.

Respectfully yours,
Board of Commissioners of School Buildings,
By Richard J. Lane,
Chairman.

The accompanying detailed estimates in the budget on file show the ranks and salaries of all permanent and temporary personnel in actual employment on January 1, 1933, separated for each school department and activity. The vacancies reported by the Superintendent of Schools as at January 1, 1933, are shown separately as are the expansion items recommended by the Board of Apportionment and approved by the School Committee. The allowance for supplies for each school, department or activity is recorded. These detailed estimates contain approximately three thousand items exclusive of totals and afford the opportunity of studying school costs in great detail as they present a collection of facts properly organized and classified for presentation and discussion. Classification by ranks and by salaries of all permanent and temporary personnel enables the School Committee and its officers to give information on salaries of teachers and others which is being sought constantly by boards of education, educational associations and other agencies throughout the country.

I recommend the passage of the

TABLE SHOWING DECREASE IN ALL APPROPRIATIONS, 1933

	General School Purposes and Special Items	Alteration and Repair of School Buildings, Furniture, Fixtures, Etc.	New School Buildings, Lands, Yards, Etc.	Totals
1 Appropriations for 1932...	$15,702,924.80	$1,200,000.00	$506,368.29	$17,409,293.09
2 Appropriations for 1933...	14,095,946.24	989,260.84	124,938.56	15,210,145.64
3. Decrease in approp., 1933.	$1,606,978.56	$210,739.16	$381,429.73	$2,199,147.45

The foregoing table shows that the total amount appropriated last year for maintenance and for new school buildings was $17,409,293.09 and that the scheduled appropriations for 1933 for the same purposes amount to $15,210,145.64, a decrease in appropriations of $2,199,147.45, apportioned as follows:

Decrease General Purposes and Special Items	$1,606,978.56
Decrease Alteration and Repair of School Buildings, Furniture, Fixtures, etc.	210,739.16
Decrease New School Buildings, Lands, Yards, etc	381,429.73
Total Decrease	$2,199,147.45

This decrease in appropriations ($2,199,147.45) in the year 1933 as compared with the year 1932 is due to the reduction in salaries of all school employees which took effect on April 21, 1933, to savings in the maintenance appropriations and to the fact that no appropriations are contemplated for the construction of new school buildings. Of the total savings as represented by the decrease in appropriations, viz., $2,199,147.45, I estimate that $1,381,000 is due to the reduction in salaries and $818,147.45 to other savings. The school committee, therefore, has reduced its appro-accompanying order appropriating the sum of $5,740,446.24, being the amount necessary in addition to the amount ($6,591,500) appropriated "on account" at the meeting of April 10, 1933, and also in addition to the amount ($1,764,000.00) appropriated "on account" at the meeting of June 19, 1933, to provide for the maintenance of the Boston Public Schools covering the cost of administration, instruction, supervision of instruction, promotion of health, custodians' services, fuel and light, supplies and incidentals; and the cost of sundry other services and expenses, exclusive of the item "Alteration and repair of school buildings, and for furniture, fixtures, and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing schoolyards." A total of the appropriations for the year for the purposes mentioned is, therefore, $14,095,946.24 ($6,591,500.00 + $1,764,000.00 + $5,740,446.24). priations for 1933 as compared with 1932 by approximately 13 per cent.

It is my opinion that this reduction of about 13 per cent in school budgets is substantially greater than the reductions made in the city or county budgets. We must also bear in mind that for the current financial year and up to and including April 20 school employees had made voluntary contributions for the relief of the unemployed and needy to the amount of $278,109.83. Adding this sum, viz., $278,109.83, to the decrease in appropriations, viz., $2,199,147.45, gives a total of $2,477,257.28, which relieves the tax rate for the current year by approximately $1.40.

Respectfully yours,
ALEXANDER M. SULLIVAN
Business Manager.

The detailed estimates of the cost of maintenance of the public schools, exclusive of the item "Alteration and repair of school buildings, and for furniture, fixtures, and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing school yards," call for appropriations as follows:

That to provide for the maintenance of the public schools covering the cost of administration, instruction, supervision of instruction, promotion of health, custodians' services, fuel and light, supplies and incidentals; and the cost of sundry other services and expenses for the financial year 1933, exclusive of the item "Alteration and repair of school buildings, and for furniture, fixtures, and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing school yards," the following sums are hereby appropriated for the purposes hereinbefore stated, in addition to the sums appropriated on April 10, 1933, and June 19, 1933, "on account"; and be it further ordered that the expenditures during said financial year shall be substantially in accordance with the accompanying detailed estimates.

SUMMARY OF APPROPRIATIONS

Appropriations "on account" on April 10, 1933	$6,591,500.00
Appropriations "on account" on June 19, 1933	1,764,000.00
Final appropriations	$5,740,446.24

Total Appropriations for Maintenance, Exclusive of "Alterations and Repairs, etc." $14,095,946.24

The Chairman summarized the decrease in appropriations by reading the last two paragraphs in the foregoing communication of the Business Manager.

The Business Manager stated that the total decrease in appropriations of $2,199,147.45, referred to in his preliminary statement in the budget becomes now $2,179,147.45 as a result of the additional appropriation of $20,000 for alterations and repairs of school buildings which the School Committee passed at meeting of even date.

The question came upon the acceptance of the estimates and the passage of the order making appropriation in the sum of $5,740,446.24, the sum which, added to the appropriations on account which have been made, gives the total appropriation of $14,095,946.24.

The estimates were accepted, and the order making appropriation in the sum of $5,740,446.24 was passed by the following vote, such sum being, as previously stated, in addition to the appropriations on account of $6,591,500 made at the meeting of Apr. 10, 1933, and $1,764,000 made at the meeting of June 19, 1933.

It will mean that hereafter no men will be admitted to the examinations for the Elementary School, Class A Certificate, which is the certificate that covers the rank of submaster, unless they are at the time of examination in permanent Boston service; except that those men whose names appear on the 1932 Eligible Lists as holders of the Elementary School, Class A, Certificate shall, up to the date of establishment of the new plan, namely, December 31, 1933, have the privilege of re-examination, with the proviso that certificates granted upon such re-examination, shall expire December 31, 1933. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

DAMAGES ASSESSED.

The Mayor has approved the following vote of the Board of Street Commissioners:

Voted, That in the matter of Rowe Contracting Company, petitioners for damages occasioned their estate by the widening and construction of Centre street, under the order of the Street

Commissioners and Mayor of October 9, 1931, and by the extension and construction of Walter street, under the order of May 4, 1932, after consultation with the Law Department, and on its advice, the Board assesses the petitioner's damages as follows: Centre street, $49,125.50 flat; Walter street (highways making of), $6,393.50 flat, and consents that the Corporation Counsel agree to judgment in said case on the terms herein stated.

LIBRARY PACKED AS DEPRESSION CONTINUES.

As the curve of business goes down, the curve of reading goes up! To those cities tempted to chop off the budgetary appropriation for libraries as the first move in a program of economy, this report from the American Library Association Bulletin may be interesting:

More than a million new readers have found their way into libraries in cities of over 200,000 population in the last two years, and the number of books borrowed from them has reached the unprecedented high of 157,000,000—more than 26,000,000 over figures for 1929.

While these figures are indicative of the increase in reading throughout the country, they do not tell the whole story, for they represent only 44 libraries. Reports received by the American Library Association indicate that the per capita demand for books is equally great in smaller libraries.

Expenditures for library service in the cities noted increased 5 per cent during the two-year period; the number of books available increased 10 per cent; the number of registered readers, 19 per cent; and the number of books borrowed, 20 per cent.

SAND, CINDERS AND SALT IN DULUTH.

About 385 miles of sidewalk are sanded every year and about 250 miles of streets are snow-plowed and sanded. Ordinarily, flat grades are not sanded, this work being confined to steep grades where dangerous ice conditions exist. During the past season the maintenance department used about 500 cubic yards of cinders, 500 cubic yards of sand, and 5 tons of calcium chloride on the streets.

The use of salt, or sodium chloride, has been discontinued entirely, because of its injurious effect on concrete walks and pavements. The action of salt is not clearly understood, but it is much more active during cold weather than in summer, and is apparently due to the formation of crystals after penetrating the surface, the force of which disintegrates the concrete. Calcium chloride does not seem to be entirely free from this difficulty, but is much less active than sodium chloride.

RURAL TEACHERS' SUPERVISION.

Improving instruction in rural schools through promoting the efficiency and professional growth of teachers is the most important function of supervision in connection with the rural school movement. In the accomplishment of this purpose supervisors use different means and procedures usually designated as supervisory measures, according to the United States Office of Education. Among those found particularly successful in rural communities are: County-wide teachers' meetings, circular letters, group conferences, visitations, individual conferences, and help rendered by teachers to colleagues.

PITTSFIELD FIRST CITY TO ADOPT WELDING SOCIETY BUILDING CODE.

Pittsfield, Mass., is the first city in this country to make formal adoption of the building code proposed by the American Welding Society to make available the advantages of welding in the construction of buildings in municipalities.

RECREATION, ADEQUATE AS TO KIND AND AVAILABILITY.

Although the ratio of park acreage to population has been used as the simplest measure of the extent to which cities provide areas for the recreation of their people, it is by no means an accurate basis for determining this. If most of the total acreage is in one large park, if the parks are poorly distributed, or if they do not provide various types of recreation facilities, the park system may be inefficient even though the acreage is large. The efficiently planned park and recreation system will involve balanced relationship and well-distributed location of several types of properties, namely, children's playgrounds, neighborhood playfield parks, neighborhood parks, reservations, boulevards, and parkways.

CHICAGO TRAFFIC POLICE IN YEAR-LONG DRIVE.

Chicago traffic experts have promised a 50 per cent decrease in deaths from motor-car accidents, as a result of a week-by-week drive now in operation by Commissioner Russell of the Police Department to enforce the city traffic code. The drive, an outgrowth of the National Safety Congress and Chicago Safety Week recently held in Chicago, is expected to prove a valuable educational feature for drivers, pedestrians and policemen.

CALLS FOR UNITED RALLYING OF PUBLIC EFFORT IN SUPPORT OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S RECOVERY PROGRAM — MAYOR CURLEY, IN RADIO BROADCAST FROM CITY HALL STATION, SAYS TO PUBLIC, "THE PRESIDENT NEEDS YOUR HELP — RALLY AROUND THE GREATEST PRESIDENT THIS NATION HAS KNOWN SINCE THE DAYS OF LINCOLN AND WASHINGTON."

Mayor Curley, speaking over WNAC, at 2 p. m., on August 28, said in part as follows:

We have some appreciation of the difficulties which confront the President of the United States in his great effort to restore industrial prosperity and provide opportunity for the many millions of unemployed in America to once more return to work. The last session of Congress was notable in that it practically abdicated the greater portion of the powers conferred upon it by the Constitution and transferred to the President of the United States power such as had never been accorded or enjoyed by any President in the history of this nation. As a consequence of the abdication of powers, while in substance we continue as a democracy, we are in reality a dictatorship and this condition was essentially necessary because of the conditions confronting the President of the United States upon the assumption of office on the fourth day of March in the present year, with every banking institution closed, with more than twelve million men without employment or prospect of employment, with faith destroyed, with hope gone, with courage vanished — that was substantially the condition that confronted him, and yet what has taken place since the fourth of March has been in the nature of a miracle in America.

Agriculture has been aided, the most important essential of all for a recovery and a return to normal conditions. Where one in every four is dependent for their livelihood and one in every three of the remaining three-quarters derive their existence as a consequence of the prosperity of agriculture, it may truly be said that one half of the people of this country are dependent upon the prosperity of agriculture. We have witnessed as a consequence of the recommendation of the President almost a complete revolution in the fields of agriculture. We have witnessed the cotton planters of the South ploughing back into the soil the growing crops. We have witnessed the growers of grain restricting the amount of acreage they would plant and we have witnessed in the last seventy-two hours what no one believed possible prior to the coming of Roosevelt, a final decision arrived at by the Grain Conference in Europe in respect not only to the growth of grain but to the exportation of grain. This must inevitably result in prosperity for the farmer, the reflex of which will mean prosperity in every portion of the entire nation and ultimately throughout the world.

Banks Reopened.

The banks, which were closed upon the fourth of March when the President assumed office, are in the main open and operating today, and through the guarantee of bank deposits in a certain measure confidence is once more being restored to the people of America and once more they are placing their money on deposit in the banks rather than in the mattress. Money has been made available in abundance and the credit of the nation is greater today than it ever was. Prices of securities have advanced materially, and many hundreds of thousands of men employed in the white-collar class have gone back to work.

Labor is hopeful and may well look with complacency upon the adoption of the N. R. A. program with its ultimate shorter working week and shorter working day. The shorter working week and the shorter working day is inevitable in America provided we are to safeguard the people from becoming public charges and losing their self-reliance and self-respect, which is the greatest asset of a pioneering people. Industry is once more looking forward with confidence and courage and there is every indication that the old system of price cutting, the system of sweating in industry of women and children in order that a cheaper grade of material might be turned out, and a system of payment of starvation wages reflected in a high death rate and impaired condition of the health of the worker gives every indication of passing away. The best way to serve humanity and our common country is to purchase from concerns that are assisting the President's policies to insure the success of the N. R. A., having for its purpose the restoration of the constitutional guarantee of equality of opportunity.

ALL CITIZENS URGED TO DO THEIR PART IN N. R. A. MOVEMENT TO BRING BACK PROSPERITY—MAYOR CURLEY DELIVERS ADDRESS AT RALLY ON BOSTON COMMON IN CAMPAIGN TO REVIVE INDUSTRY AND RESTORE NATIONAL PROSPERITY.

Mayor Curley, speaking at the N. R. A. rally on Boston Common, spoke in part as follows:

The two most prosperous years in the history of the United States were 1927 and 1928.

The total value of all goods taken from the earth in the form of minerals and ore, with the agricultural products and the goods fabricated industry, reached the huge total of eighty-seven billions of dollars, and in 1928 it represented ninety billions of dollars. During these most prosperous years exports and imports nearly balanced, the total value of exports being slightly less than five billions of dollars and of imports about four and one-half billions of dollars.

The figures relative to imports, however, fail to tell the true story for the reason that in 1927, seventeen hundred branch organizations, all controlled by American industrial leaders, were operating in foreign countries and engaged largely in the manufacture of parts which were permitted entry to the United States free of duty in many cases. The fabricating of the parts into the finished commodity was done in America, but the creation of parts was largely the work of underpaid workers in foreign countries. So that it may be truly said that anyone familiar with the true condition of affairs industrially throughout the world could easily have foreseen in 1928 what was inevitably to occur in later years.

The very cornerstone of American prosperity that had been built up through the mass production system during the development of the so-called machine control age was utilized by the industrial leaders to enhance their profits while destroying the very cornerstone of American prosperity. The agencies of production in our own country have been so increased during the years succeeding the declaration of the World War that through mass production and the speeding-up process, America was enabled to produce in a period of seven months the entire requirements for a full twelve-month period. It was inevitable, under this system, that the great mass of workers suffer a loss of employment for a period of five months each year.

STOCK MARKET CRASH.

When the debacle in the stock market occurred in 1929 it was difficult for the citizenship of America to appreciate the true seriousness of the conditions as they affected the entire people of the nation. In 1930 the ranks of the unemployed were swollen to the extent of three and one half million. In 1931 the number had increased to more than seven millions of men, and in 1932 the number reached an estimate of twelve millions of men. Allowing three dependents for every worker, coupled with the worker himself, this made a total of forty-eight millions of persons required to depend upon public or private charities for their existence. As a result of the draining upon private charities, substantially every one of these agencies found themselves unable to meet their obligations, and the huge burden, as a consequence, was shifted upon the states and subdivisions of the states of the Union.

During all this trying period the officials in charge of governmental affairs nationally seemed incapable of dealing with the situation, and permitted the condition to grow worse each day until upon the fourth day of March, 1933, when the present President of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt, took the oath of office to which he had been elected, it was estimated that there were in the vicinity of thirteen millions of men without employment in the United States, and immediately upon assuming office a bank holiday was declared, with every banking institution in the entire country closed.

No more serious condition ever confronted the people of the nation in the history of our country, and with a true appreciation of the terrific seriousness of the situation, the President of the United States, upon taking the oath of office, appealed to Almighty God for direction and guidance and divine protection for the people of the nation.

It was evident to every thoughtful citizen that the capitalistic system which had served so admirably for such a long period of years had outlived its usefulness and that a new system was necessary if the nation was to be preserved from Bolshevism, Communism and chaos. With supreme courage the President of the nation devised a program, the most daring ever submitted to a free people in the history of the world. He requested extraordinary powers which Congress granted, abdicating in large measure even its power of veto over his acts and making of him in reality a dictator of the affairs of the nation. It was the most remarkable exhibition of confidence in an individual ever displayed in the history of our country and yet to the minds of every student of government it was necessary for the preservation of our country.

In every American city the taxpayers were obliged to raise huge sums of money to provide for those without employment and with no prospect of employment, and breadlines were to be found in substantially every community in the entire country. Vast sums were authorized upon recommendation of the President to stabilize the banks, the railroads and the great industrial enterprises of the nation. These initial measures were supplemented by recommendation of a construction program with an authorization of three and one-half billions of dollars by the Federal Government and a plan whereby a sum more than twice as great would be raised by the states and subdivisions of the states, or a total expenditure for public construction in order that work and wages might be possible for the people, to the amount of more than ten billions of dollars.

FEAR PSYCHOLOGY DESTROYED.

The immediate result of this courageous declaration and departure was the destruction of the psychology of fear, with which the American people had become obsessed, and which affected not only those who were without employment but those who still were at work and who were living in constant dread that their turn to become recipients of public or private charity might come next and who as a consequence had adopted the policy of hoarding and purchasing only what was absolutely necessary.

In all probability the great construction program upon which the nation proposes to embark will not be in full and complete operation for a period of from one to six months, but that the needs of the American people be provided for during this period of time the National Recovery Act was adopted. The National Recovery Act has for its purpose the creating of an opportunity for work through a shortening of working hours of the week and the working days of the week of the people of the nation.

How necessary legislation of this character is will be appreciated when we consider that as a consequence of the increase in the acreage devoted to agriculture and the general adoption of automatic machinery in industry and the practical closing of European markets because of financial distress abroad, that all of the requirements of the American nation can be provided in a period of seven months, and unless the hours of work and the days of work are lessened, we will be confronted permanently not only with depression but with the necessity for the expenditure of vast sums of money for the protection from starvation of those who, due to circumstances beyond their own control, are unable to provide for themselves and for their dependents.

The movement represents the most radical of departures in the conduct of the affairs of the nation and yet its success is so vital to the salvation of the individual citizen and his family and the nation itself that it is clearly the duty of every individual to support the President of the United States in the great work which he has undertaken of restoring prosperity and opportunity to the people of our country. We must either stand behind the blue eagle of the N. R. A. and restore prosperity or we must join forces behind the buzzard of despair, with which the nation has been obsessed during a period of four full years. The question for us to determine is how best we can serve the people of our country during the period of depression.

That group of individuals in America who always extracts profits from the sweating of the bodies of women and children in industry have flooded our markets with goods not only of inferior quality but which have been fabricated by women and children paid a wage insufficient to provide for their necessities. It is clearly our duty to safeguard the interests of the nation by placing our seal of disapproval upon every enterprise or concern that fails to display the blue seal of the N. R. A.

RESTORING PROSPERITY.

The adoption of this policy would speedily result in a lessening of hours of labor of the workers in America, thereby compelling the employment of more persons and providing the measure of relief that is so essential to the restoration of prosperity and the preservation of American standards as we understand them. There is no middle course for any citizen to follow who is interested in the welfare of the nation and its people. This choice lies between being a supporter of the blue eagle or a supporter of the buzzard. The program as adopted by President Roosevelt, carried to fruition, will mark an end of the sweating of women and children in industry. It will mark an end to the payment of starvation wages. It will mark an end of seasonal unemployment. It may mean less millionaires in America, but it must inevitably mean greater happiness and greater prosperity in every home in America and a larger measure of patriotism in the land.

The consummation of the ideals that are presented by the Roosevelt program should serve as an incentive to every individual interested in America, in his own family and in his fellow man to do his part for the success of the movement.

If all will cooperate, success is assured. Failure can only mean not one more winter of depression and misery for the American people but perhaps more than one winter and the loss of the liberties so long enjoyed by the people of the nation.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Public Works Department for the following construction work:

A surface drain of 12-inch earthen pipe and one catch-basin in Crockett avenue, between Hill Top street and 476 feet northerly, in the Dorchester district, at an estimated cost of $2,000.

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch earthen pipe, a surface drain of 12-inch, 15-inch and 18-inch earthen pipe in Park Boulevard (south side), between Shrewsbury road and Winchendon road, in the West Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $9,500.

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch earthen pipe, a surface drain of 10-inch and 15-inch earthen pipe and six catch-basins in Delano park, between Poplar street and Clarendon avenue, in the West Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $4,000. Surface drain (northwest side) between Poplar street and Clarendon avenue; sanitary sewer (northwest side) between Clarendon avenue and 86 feet northeasterly; surface drain (southeast side) between Clarendon avenue and 199 feet northeasterly; sanitary sewer (southeast side), between Clarendon avenue and 241 feet northeasterly.

BROADCAST BY MAYOR CURLEY.

Now there remains one very important adjunct for the preservation and success of the great program upon which President Roosevelt has embarked, namely, the Public Works Program. This is divided into three parts: First, the stabilization of credit; second, the N. R. A., creating opportunities for the employment of more persons in America, and third, the wherewithal by which those persons may be employed. Boston, in common with every other city in the country, has compiled a program of public works and submitted that program to the various agencies for consideration. Perhaps it is a bit unfortunate, and yet perhaps it is necessary, that a certain amount of red tape must be wound around every governmental project, as a matter of protection of the people's money, but I sometimes wonder if we have not wound too much red tape around public projects. The City of Boston has compiled a program representing $23,500,000 with a view to restoring opportunity for employment for about ten thousand persons direct in the city and about one half that number indirect who will be engaged in the fabrication of the particular materials used in these projects.

FIRST LOCAL PROJECT.

For example, our first project is today being heard at the State House before a special committee appointed by the Governor, and by the engineer representing the Federal Government, and a special commission to supervise this work appointed by the Secretary of the Interior, which represents but one of the many stages that this project has to receive approval from before we can actually put picks and shovels into the hands of the men and permit them to start working. For example, we estimated that eight and one half millions of dollars will be required for the extension of what is known as the Huntington Avenue Subway, from the present terminus at Copley square to a point in the vicinity of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

We first had a meeting of the Metropolitan District Commission, which is made up of the Mayors and the Chairman of the Board of Selectmen of each of the cities through which the Boston Elevated operates. We held the meeting and passed upon the merits of the project. A vote of a majority of one was necessary to adopt the project and at the meeting a sufficient majority was obtained and then it was submitted to the Boston City Council for their approval. After the Council had given approval it was then submitted to the Directors of the Boston Elevated Railway. This matter was under consideration by the Directors in 1925 and every year since then and each year they turned it down. This year they saw fit to favor it. We then appealed for action to the State Board and by the commission of three appointed by the Government and we were informed that we must file plans and specifications and estimates and unit costs. We proceeded to work on that and submitted, the same at the hearing today and we have no means of determining what will be the final outcome.

Of course it is expected that the stockholders of the Boston Elevated will protest against any character of expenditure, no matter how beneficial it may be, that will impair the return on their money which is invested in the Elevated. You will recall, that in 1920, when the Legislature came to their rescue, that their stock was selling at $23 per share. Since that time it has sold at $90 a share and the average price has been $72, with a guarantee dividend of 5 per cent, notwithstanding the fact that there has been a deficit of one million dollars each year for the past three years, so that they may be expected to appear in opposition for the purpose of preventing impairment of their income.

When the subway bill has been approved by these bodies it is sent to Mr. Gow, the Federal Engineer, for his approval. After Mr. Gow's approval has been obtained, it must receive the approval of the President's commission of three. Then it must be submitted to the Governor and Council and in the event of their approval it must then be referred to the Secretary of Interior.

Specifications are drawn up and the contract is advertised, making forty-five additional days. We are trying to cut the red tape to provide work for three thousand men for three years. The hearing is on now at the State House, at the Gardner Auditorium, and I would like to have everybody listening in who is in favor of the N. R. A. and wants it to be a success, to attend that hearing this afternoon. It will last until 4 p. m. and everyone is urged to attend and record themselves in favor of the proposal that will give Boston a great boulevard in place of the present Huntington avenue, and provide work for three thousand men for three years.

The President needs your help. Rally round the greatest President this nation has known since the days of Lincoln and Washington, the Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

LIFE GUARD COMMENDED FOR L STREET RESCUE.

As the result of the heroic rescue from drowning accomplished by one of the Park Department life guards, the chairman of the Park Commission, William P. Long, has publicly commended the young man for his gallantry.

The heroism approved with public commendation was the act of Robert Donovan, who rescued Elizabeth Everett and her aunt, Mrs. Lillian Sinclair, of 560 East Eighth street, South Boston, from drowning at L Street Bath House on August 24. The women were stricken with cramps and were rapidly being carried under when their cries of distress were heard. Under the serious handicap of adverse weather and a strong undertow, Donovan went to their rescue and with difficulty brought both to shore where they were finally revived and sent to their homes. The rescue was one of the most thrilling and dramatic that have occurred on the bay in years.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

W. H. Ellis and Son Company have been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for extending fender pier at Warren Bridge, from August 24 to September 28.

The Merion Construction Company has been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for building sewerage works in Gordon avenue, from Stony brook to Austin street, Hyde Park, from August 12 to September 16 (thirty-five days).

PERMANENCY OF EMPLOYMENT FOR WORKER WITH REASONABLE RETURNS FOR LABORS ONLY SOLUTION OF OUR PRESENT TROUBLES, MAYOR CURLEY TELLS AUDIENCE AT LUNCHEON TENDERED GENERAL HUGH JOHNSON, AT HOTEL STATLER, DURING VISIT OF N. R. A. HEAD TO BOSTON.

Mayor Curley delivered the following address at the N. R. A. luncheon tendered to Gen. Hugh Johnson at Hotel Statler on August 30:

The special session of Congress called by President Roosevelt, immediately after assuming office, was notable for the most important measures of legislation enacted into law; namely, the Agricultural Relief Act, the Federal Securities Act, the Glass-Steagale Banking Act, the Railroad Coordinator Act and the act over-riding the gold payment clause in contract obligations.

In the opinion, however, of President Roosevelt, the most far-reaching and important measure of legislation enacted is the Industrial Recovery Act. The National Industrial Recovery Act, in Section 1, has for its purpose the promotion of the general welfare through the organization of industry for cooperative action among trade groups and for the maintenance of united action of labor and management under adequate supervision, with the elimination of unfair competitive practices to the end that the productive capacity of industry be utilized to its fullest capacity and to increase consumption of industrial and agricultural products by increasing purchasing power, reducing unemployment, improving labor standards and rehabilitating industry and conserving natural resources. Section 2 provides for public works and construction projects, without which the restoration of industrial prosperity may be long delayed.

This great measure of legislation is essentially necessary for the protection of every element of American life and for the preservation of our national existence. The act in substance is an affirmation of the great truth known to students of government but disregarded by both capital and labor in most instances, namely, that the prosperity of the employer is dependent upon the prosperity of the worker, and that industry, to succeed, must find purchasers for the goods produced and the only way in which this is possible is through permanency of employment of the worker with a reasonable return for his labors. In other words, the crux of the entire Act may be summed up in two words,—work and wages.

That a reduction in the number of working hours and working days of the week is necessary is admitted by all, and that a minimum wage for the protection of legitimate industry from unfair competition is essential, no one can deny. Mass production and the speeding up process coupled with increased acreage by the agriculturalists, has made possible a production by the American people nearly 50 per cent in excess of their powers of consumption and with foreign markets limited in their purchasing power, there is no alternative for the American people if they desire to end bread lines, soup kitchens, public and private charitable agencies and general unemployment, misery and discontent in the nation than to support whole-heartedly the courageous and timely program as recommended by President Roosevelt and adopted by the national Congress.

The success of Section 1 of the Act is dependent in large measure upon the success of Section 2, namely, the public works and construction program. The Federal Government has arranged to contribute 30 per cent of the total cost of public projects or a total of about three billions of dollars. The appropriation by the states and subdivisions of the states of the remaining 70 per cent would make a grand total of ten billions of dollars. This huge sum applied for the employment of labor would represent a purchasing power that would foundation the work of Section 1 and that would speedily restore prosperity to the nation.

No more humane or courageous measure of legislation has ever been presented in the history of any country from the beginning of time and as we hope for the future of our nation and desire to aid ourselves and our fellow man, I ask everyone in the name of humanity and for the preservation of America and its institutions to stand whole-heartedly with President Roosevelt for the success of the policies and program that he has drafted.

Obstructionists and slackers are always in evidence in connection with every great movement and it is clearly our duty as citizens of the Republic to refuse to patronize any concern that fails to support the NIRA movement. The American eagle of hope has been the symbol of the nation from the beginning. Let no man exchange it in this trying hour for the buzzard of despair. The path of duty is clear and if all will walk in that path we shall speedily emerge from the valley of despair to a new, better and a brighter day than has ever been previously known in the history of this nation.

It is an exceeding pleasure upon this occasion to congratulate the American nation upon the choice of an eminently able, capable and brilliant commander of the forces of the national recovery, General Hugh Johnson.

LOCATION OF STREET.

The Mayor has approved the following vote of the Board of Street Commissioners:

Voted, That the location, direction, width and grade of the private way, in the Brighton district, designated as Glendale terrace extension, as shown on a plan approved in writing by the Board of Street Commissioners, and on file in the office of the Street Laying-Out Department, be, and the same hereby are, approved.

WATER INCOME DIVISION CREATED.

The Mayor has approved the following changes in the Water Service, Public Works Department:

Boston, August 24, 1933.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Chapter 27, section 33, of the Revised City Ordinances, provides that the Commissioner of Public Works may create such divisions of the Public Works Department as he may find necessary for its proper conduct.

From the organization of the Public Works Department to date the Water Division has functioned in an engineering and financial capacity.

In later years the work of the Income Branch of the Water Division, said branch collecting approximately $4,500,000 to $5,000,000 yearly, and the maintenance of the water meter system, has grown to such an extent that a new division, to be known as the Water Income Division, should be created, said division to control the collection of all water revenue, to install and maintain all water meters, etc.

I respectfully request permission to create the Water Income Division, to be separate and distinct from the Water Division, as provided for in the above-mentioned chapter of the Revised City Ordinances, and recommend that the salary of the Division Engineer of said division be $6,000 (less 15 per cent reduction), as provided for in Chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances.

Mr. James A. McMurtry, Engineer-in-Charge of the Income Branch, has spent practically the last twenty years in supervising the installation of the meter system of the City of Boston, and also the collection of all revenue, and, subject to civil service confirmation, I respectfully recommend that his rating of Engineer-in-Charge of the Income Branch be changed to Division Engineer, Water Income Division, with an increase in salary of from $4,000 to $6,000 (less 15 per cent reduction) per year.

Also that Patrick G. Finnerty, with the rating of Deputy Superintendent of the Income Branch, be made Superintendent of the Water Income Division with an increase in salary from $3,500 to $4,000 (less 15 per cent reduction) per year, his duties being to supervise the activities of meter readers, mechanics and laborers in said division.

Also that Daniel M. Sullivan, District Engineer of the Water Division, be promoted to Division Engineer of the Water Division with an increase in salary from $3,300 to $6,000 (less 15 per cent reduction) per year.

Also that the vacancy now existing as Division Engineer in the Bridge and Ferry Division be filled by the promotion of Leo B. Reilly, Principal Assistant Engineer, to be Division Engineer in said division, at $6,000 (less 15 per cent reduction) per year.

DEAR SIR,—I want to thank you personally and in behalf of my company for the many fine courtesies extended to Wiley Post during his recent visit to Boston.

The reception was a complete success from beginning to end, and your message to us at the luncheon on Monday must be added to the never-ending list of oratorical treats in the fostering of which you have no peer.

I want you to know that we feel we are a better organization because we heard your talk. In fact, we think so much of it, may we take the privilege of asking you for a copy of this eloquent speech as we would like to have some of our organization who were unable to attend the luncheon benefit by it.

CONTRACTORS ON CITY WORK MUST COMPLY WITH THE N. I. R. A. CODE.

A circular, as follows, was directed to all department heads requesting that all contractors bidding upon work to be performed for the city by the various departments of the municipality be required to comply with all the provisions of Federal Act, H. R. 5755, known as the National Industrial Recovery Act, and all codes established, agreements entered into, and licenses granted thereunder.

CIRCULAR NO. 24.

To Department Heads.

GENTLEMEN,—In view of the many inquiries which have been made as to how department heads may best comply with the requests contained in Circular Letter No. 23 issued by me on August 7, 1933, wherein I requested that "All contracts let in the future, however, will be subject to the provisions of the code," I am herewith publishing a clause prepared by the Corporation Counsel which should be inserted in all future contracts in lieu of specified hours of labor or wages to be paid under the code. This general clause is deemed advisable in view of the fact that many crafts and industries may be omitted from department contracts by inadvertence or lack of knowledge of the existence of the same and, further, because of the fact that during the life of the particular contract the code agreement may vary or change.

"The contractor agrees to and shall comply with all the provisions of the Federal Act, H. R. 5755, known as the National Industrial Recovery Act, and all codes established, agreements entered into and licenses granted thereunder, or by authority of the same. The contractor further agrees that any violation or breach of the aforesaid provision shall render the entire contract null and void and that the decisions of the commissioner on the question as to whether or not the contractor has so violated or breached the contract for failure to comply with the provisions hereof shall be final and binding upon the contractor. Upon the determination by the commissioner that the contractor has violated or breached the aforesaid provision, the commissioner may order the bonding company to forthwith proceed to complete the contract in accordance with all the provisions of the same and if within a reasonable time the said bonding company does not so proceed, the commissioner may complete the contract in any way he deems advisable for the City's best interest and look to the bonding company to make good any loss sustained by the City because of the breach made by the contractor."

Wherever the word "commissioner" is used in the above clause, the proper title of the head of the department should be substituted if a commissioner is not in charge of the department.

MAYOR MOURNS PASSING OF LOUIS K. ROURKE.

Mayor Curley, on August 23, issued the following statement in connection with the death of former Superintendent of Construction of School Buildings, Louis K. Rourke:

The sad announcement that former Commissioner of Public Works and former Superintendent of Construction of the Department of School Buildings has passed away adds one more to the list of men of prominence in the political life of Boston who have died within the past week.

All of these men were outstanding figures in their particular field of activity and typified in the highest measure the traits which make for worthwhile success in life—character, honesty and ability.

As Commissioner of Public Works for the City of Boston Louis K. Rourke, fortified with splendid experience in South and Central American countries, brought to this office unusual attainments that made possible the development of a municipal department in which authority was centralized and economy and efficiency of administration of the highest type was made possible.

His services as Superintendent of Construction in the Department of School Buildings was most notable and unquestionably resulted during his service in the saving of many hundreds of thousands of dollars to the taxpayers of Boston.

During his service as an official of the City of Boston, by his exemplary conduct and by his grasp of administration, he established standards that should prove invaluable to every branch of the municipal service.

In behalf of the citizenship of Boston I extend to his widow in her bereavement my sincere sympathy.

MY DEAR MAYOR,—I and the members of the New Zealand party were so delighted with our visit to Boston and the very satisfactory arrangements made for the comfort and enjoyment of our stay there that we felt we could not leave without expressing to you our heartfelt thanks for all your kindness to us and the facilities which you placed at our disposal and which contributed so largely towards the pleasure of our sojourn in Boston.

We all very greatly appreciated the luncheon which you tendered in our honour and the souvenirs which you presented to us. We take back with us the happiest recollections of our all too brief stay in your great city and of the many friends we had the privilege of making there.

I hope to send you in the course of a few days an album of views of New Zealand, the Paradise of the South Pacific, which I trust you will accept with the compliments of Mr. Masters and myself.

With kind regards,

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 268.

A trial board consisting of Captains McKinnon, Claflin and Casey, having heard by reference a complaint made by Mathew Killen, captain commanding Division 18, formerly of Division 12, against George H. Haskell, patrolman, Division 6, formerly of Division 12, for alleged violations of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge 1: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification: In that on the fifteenth day of July, 1933 (Police Day), the said Patrolman George H. Haskell did fail to properly patrol his route, in that he did enter, on or about 3:55 a. m., an automobile that was parked on M street, at Independence square, and further that this automobile was owned by the said Patrolman George H. Haskell, who was assigned to the route where he was found,— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all evidence as presented finds the said Patrolman George H. Haskell guilty as charged. The Trial Board realizes that a failure by a police officer to properly patrol his route contributes greatly to the impairment of the service and believes that a violation of this kind should be punished by a substantial period of punishment duty. In the case of Patrolman Haskell, however, the Board has taken into consideration the high recommendation of his former commanding officer and the excellent record of the said Patrolman Haskell in the department, which includes one commendation in General Orders for intelligent and effective police duty performed on September 19, 1931, and therefore respectfully recommends that he be reprimanded in General Orders."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman George H. Haskell be reprimanded in General Orders.

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 269.

Deputy Superintendent Martin H. King is hereby appointed Superintendent of Police, to take effect Monday, August 28, 1933, at 7:45 a. m.

LAND AND BUILDINGS FOR SCHOOLS

ORDERED, That the Board of Assessors is hereby further notified that under the appropriations made by the School Committee in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 314 of the Acts of 1926, it shall be necessary to raise by taxation during the financial year 1933, the sum of $124,938.56 for the purpose of constructing and furnishing new school buildings, including the taking of land therefor, and for school yards and the preparing of school yards for use and for the rent of hired school accommodations.

Maintenance of the Boston Public Schools	$13,829,913.47
Land and buildings for schools	124,938.56
Total	$13,954,852.03

Chairman: This order is the main purpose of our meeting here tonight, to certify to the Board of Assessors the amount to be raised by taxation for school purposes, and I think it appropriate and proper to point out that since 1927, the reduction in school expenses as reflected in the amounts raised by taxation, approximates six million, six hundred thousand dollars. In 1926, we raised by taxation for all school purposes, exclusive of interest and sinking fund charges, $20,566,000. In 1927, we raised by taxation, $18,507,000. The following year, $19,045,000. The following year, $18,308,000. In 1930, we raised $20,038,000. In 1931, $19,128,000; 1932, $16,150,000, and this year, $13,954,000, which I think properly reflects the work which the School Committee has done during this year and the years preceding, between 1926 and 1933.

Business Manager: Mr. Chairman, I believe that the amount to be raised by taxation in 1933 is the lowest in a period of nine years.

Chairman: Yes, as evidenced by the facts—the lowest amount certified to be raised by taxation in nine years.

Question came on the passage of the three orders notifying the Board of Assessors of appropriations made by the School Committee for the current financial year and certifying the amount to be raised by taxation in 1933, totaling $13,954,852.03.

The three orders passed, the four members present voting in the affirmative.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The order laid over at the meeting of July 13, 1933, amending various sections of the rules and regulations relative to the establishment of residence requirement for teachers, was taken up and passed.

The Committee adjourned.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, August 14, 1933.

Special meeting of the City Council in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President McGRATH in the chair and all the members present, except Coun. Barker, Curtis, Gleason, Hein and Norton.

The meeting was held pursuant to the following call:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 9, 1933.
To the Members of the City Council.
Gentlemen,—You are hereby requested to assemble in the City Council Chamber, City Hall, on Monday, August 14, 1933, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of taking action on a proposed loan for the reduction of taxes under chapter 307 of the Acts of 1933, on a proposed loan for public welfare under chapter 159 of the Acts of 1933, and on such other appropriation orders as may be, or have been, submitted to your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.
Placed on file.

LOAN FOR TAX RATE PURPOSES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 14, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Under the provisions of chapter 307 of the Acts of 1933 municipalities are authorized to borrow for the relief of the current year's tax rate sums not exceeding the excess cost represented by the difference between budget appropriations in 1929 for public welfare and soldiers' relief and similar appropriations in 1932. Since the Board of Assessors is rapidly approaching the point where a definite declaration of the tax rate will be possible, I feel that it is desirable for the city government to take action at this time in the manner provided by law. The first step in the machinery established in chapter 307 is the passage by a two-thirds vote of the City Council of an order fixing the amount to be borrowed. Subsequently, this order must receive the approval of the Emergency Finance Board of the State.

On the basis of information received from state officials, it is now evident that the shrinkage in the city's share of receipts from corporation, income and gasoline taxes to be distributed by the state, plus the increase in the Elevated Railway deficit, will mean the imposition of an additional tax burden this year on the taxpayers of the city of approximately $3,800,000. In my opinion this additional burden should be offset if possible, and I therefore have decided to recommend to your honorable body that, under the provisions of chapter 307, an amount closely approximating this increased burden be borrowed. I submit herewith an appropriation order providing for the borrowing of $3,500,000 for the relief of this year's tax rate. Approval of this order by your honorable body will mean a reduction in this year's tax rate as against that of last year of at least $2.50.

The legislative act in question permits municipalities to borrow either from the state or from any outside sources. If borrowings are made from the state, however, the act provides that the State Emergency Finance Board shall exercise direct control, until all loans have been repaid, over the budget appropriations of the cities involved. Since Boston is the only municipality in the Commonwealth which is now required to secure legislative approval of its annual budget, I am not anxious to take any step which will place the city under further domination by the state. It is my purpose, therefore, in the event the amount provided in the accompanying order be approved by all agencies concerned, to negotiate with sources other than the state for the borrowing of the desired amount.

I respectfully recommend adoption by your honorable body of the accompanying order. Since, under the provisions of our City Charter, this order requires two readings with an interval of fourteen days between each reading, I recommend that the first reading be given the order today in order that an early declaration of the tax rate may be possible.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 307 of the Acts of 1933 the sum of $3,500,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated for utilization by the assessors as an estimated receipt in fixing the Tax rate of the current year, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount, the same to be issued outside the limit of indebtedness.

Referred to Executive Committee.

APPROPRIATION FOR INTEREST REQUIREMENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 14, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—At the request of the City Auditor I submit herewith a supplementary appropriation order in the amount of $721,198.60 to provide for the estimated interest requirements on city debt over and above the amount provided in the original budget. When the annual appropriation bill was submitted to your honorable body considerable uncertainty prevailed in connection with the interest rates the city would be required to pay during the year on temporary loans in anticipation of taxes. Because of this uncertainty in interest rates, it was deemed advisable to defer the computation of the appropriation necessary for such charges until such time as an intelligent estimate could be made. In the opinion of the City Auditor this time has arrived, and at his request I recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Auditing Department, August 10, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—You are respectfully requested to submit an appropriation order to the City Council for City Debt Requirements, F5, Interest, in the sum of $721,198.60. This amount is necessary to provide for the interest due on temporary loans negotiated and the interest due on long-term debt issued this year.

Very truly yours,
RUPERT S. CARVEN, City Auditor.

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of January, 1933, of performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year upon the City of Boston, or the departments or officers thereof, and to meet the obligations for interest on debt, the respective sum of money specified in the table hereinafter set forth be, and the same is hereby, appropriated, to be expended for the objects and purposes herein-after stated, that the same be raised by taxation upon the polls and estates taxable in the City of Boston, and that all orders relating to appropriations, taxes and the interest thereupon apply to the taxes herein provided for.

City Debt Requirements.

5. Interest	$721,198.60

Referred to Executive Committee.

TEMPORARY LOAN IN ANTICIPATION OF TAXES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 14, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—At the request of the City Treasurer, I am submitting herewith an order authorizing a $10,000,000 extension of the amount the city may borrow in anticipation of taxes for the current year. Of the amount already authorized by your honorable body, namely, $35,000,000, approximately $32,000,000 has been issued, leaving an available balance of approximately $3,000,000 until taxes begin to be paid.

In view of existing conditions, it is highly questionable whether this balance will be sufficient to meet the temporary borrowing needs of the city for the remainder of the year. In order to provide for any contingencies which may arise, the City Treasurer deems it wise, as a precautionary measure, to secure the additional authority covered by the attached order. The additional authorization requested will not be used unless absolutely necessary. I therefore respectfully recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Treasury Department, August 14, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Sir,—I respectfully request that you ask the City Council, at their meeting to be held today, for authority for an additional temporary loan in the amount of $10,000,000.

Of the $35,000,000 in temporary loans authorized this year, the City Treasurer has issued, to date, $31,976,000, leaving an unexpended balance of $3,024,000 to be issued.

It is estimated that the $10,000,000 temporary loan, authority for which is hereby requested, will fully meet the City of Boston requirements for the balance of this year.

Respectfully yours,

A. F. SWAN, Acting City Treasurer.

Ordered, That to provide temporarily money to meet the appropriations for the financial year 1933, the City Treasurer issue and sell, at such times and in such amounts as he may deem best, notes or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston not exceeding ten million dollars in the total, in anticipation of the taxes of the current municipal year; that all such notes or certificates of indebtedness be dated the day the money for the same is received, be made payable with the interest thereon within one year of their date from the taxes of the year 1933, and bear interest from their date until the same are made payable at such rate as the City Auditor, the City Treasurer and the Mayor may determine.

Referred to Executive Committee.

LOAN FOR PUBLIC WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, August 14, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Under the provisions of chapter 159 of the Acts of 1933, the city is authorized, in cases of emergency, to exceed the appropriation limit fixed in this act for the maintenance appropriations of city departments. In the Public Welfare Department an emergency now exists requiring the making of an appropriation as provided under this legislative act. In the budget item F-9, Care of Dependents, there have been included in the budget of the current year, appropriations totaling $6,525,190. In addition, there have been made available the voluntary contributions made by city, school and county employees up to April 21st of the current year, totaling $744,869.41, or a grand total available for dependent aid disbursements of $7,270,059.41. Actual expenditures under this item during the first seven months of the current year have been $6,592,325.72. A comparison of these last two amounts makes it evident that by the end of the current month all available appropriations in the item will be exhausted.

It is estimated that the total expenditures for the year under this item will amount to approximately $11,000,000, or an amount $3,800,000 in excess of the total appropriations which have been made available up to date. Since the disbursements under this item are vitally connected with the health and welfare of thousands of our citizens, I feel that it is absolutely necessary that immediate arrangements should be made to provide the amount necessary for the balance of the year. Acting, therefore, under the provisions of the Legislative act previously mentioned, I submit herewith an appropriation order providing for the raising of $3,800,000 to meet the estimated requirements of the Public Welfare Department for the balance of the year. I respectfully recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your honorable body.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 159 of the Acts of 1933 an emergency appropriation of $3,800,000 be, and hereby is, made, to be expended under the direction of the Overseers of Public Welfare for relief of the needy and the unemployed, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount, the same to be issued outside the limit of indebtedness.

Referred to Executive Committee.

RECESS.

The Council voted, at 2.30 p. m., on motion of Coun. DOWD, to take a recess subject to the call of the chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President McGRATH at 3.15 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on order for supplementary appropriation of $721,198.60—that same ought to pass.

President McGRATH—The Chair will appoint to represent the Council at the funeral of Hon. Martin M. Lomasney, Councilors Fitzgerald, Green, Ruby and Lynch, and the Chair.

Coun. GALLAGHER—I move the Council adjourn to meet in two weeks from today.

ASTOUNDING ACTION OF STATE EMERGENCY FINANCE BOARD IN REJECTING PROPOSED HUNTINGTON AVENUE SUBWAY STUNS CITY OFFICIALS AND UNEMPLOYED CITIZENS WHO HAD HOPED FOR WORK AS RESULT OF UNDERTAKING — MAYOR CURLEY SUGGESTS MEMBERS RESIGN AS OBSTRUCTIONISTS TO PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S RECOVERY PROGRAM — THREE THOUSAND OR MORE VETERANS AND FAMILIES REMAIN BURDEN TO CITY AS RESULT.

Following the action of the State Emergency Finance Board, appointed by Governor Ely, in rejecting the proposed Huntington Avenue Subway, Mayor Curley issued the following statement:

The rejection by the State Emergency Finance Board, appointed by his Excellency the Governor, of the proposed Huntington Avenue Subway, was as great a shock to me as it will prove to be to the unemployed service men of the World War, who, to the number of three thousand, looked eagerly forward to an opportunity for employment upon this construction project.

The bland assertion of the chairman of the Board that Boston would be limited to $10,000,000 rather than $19,000,000, the limit established by the National Government authorities, was rejected by me for the reason that no single proposition in the entire list as compiled and made public was so meritorious, nor would provide opportunity to a larger number of men as the Huntington Avenue Subway construction work.

I informed the chairman that his Board, having seen fit to reject the Huntington Avenue Subway project, which would provide employment for more than three thousand men, and upon which work would start within sixty days provided action by the various bodies created to pass upon these projects was expedited, made it useless for me to present any other request. Section 2 of the National Recovery Act had for its purpose the foundationing of the entire act through providing work on public projects for a large portion of the unemployed of the nation and final approval of the Huntington avenue proposal would, in addition to providing work for three thousand of the unemployed, result in a reduction of the cost of the operation of soldiers' relief to the extent of more than two millions of dollars.

Meaning to City.

The final approval would have reduced the number depending upon the city for existence more than ten thousand and would have added more than $350,000 each month to the purchasing power of the people of Boston, which would be reflected in increased business in every establishment, thereby making a certainty the employment of additional help.

I have no means of determining the reason for the rejection of this project until I receive official notification in writing from the chairman of the Emergency Finance Board. I informed the Board when it was announced that the Huntington Avenue Subway project had been rejected that in my opinion the best service the Board could render the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the City of Boston would be to immediately resign and unless they do I consider it clearly the duty of the Governor to remove them, since this is no time to continue in a position of responsibility, clothed with powers, a group of men who refuse to act in sympathy with the President of the United States in his great work to restore industrial prosperity in the nation.

The demand for the Huntington Avenue Subway is in no sense a new proposition. Governor Fuller in 1925 approved the resolve providing for an investigation and report on the construction of a subway under Huntington avenue and Stuart street by the Division of Metropolitan Planning and the Transit Department (chapter 35, Resolves of 1925). The Joint Board said, "There is no question in our minds that the Huntington avenue district is in need of transit relief."

Since that time various boards, such as the Division of Metropolitan Planning, the Trustees of the Metropolitan Transit District, the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company and the Transit Department have reported in favor of a subway in or adjacent to Huntington avenue as a part of every comprehensive plan suggested. This was known as Route 1 on the plan of the Division of Metropolitan Planning and contemplated a rapid transit line starting in East Boston, thence via the old East Boston Tunnel to Bowdoin square, thence via a new connection between Bowdoin square and Park street, thence by a new subway from Park street across Boston Common, under Stuart street and Huntington avenue, to South Huntington avenue.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

BOSTON'S TAX RATE FOR 1933 FIXED AT $32.80 BY BOARD OF ASSESSORS WITH MAYOR CURLEY'S APPROVAL—THIS ACCOMPLISHED DESPITE MOST RADICAL REDUCTION IN ASSESSED VALUATIONS—RATE $2.70 LOWER THAN IN 1932, LARGEST REDUCTION IN HISTORY OF CITY—VALUATION FIXED AT $1,780,000,000 OR $110,085,000 LESS THAN 1932.

Mayor Curley when informed on August 31 by the Board of Assessors of their action in fixing the tax rate for 1933 at $32.80 per thousand of valuation issued the following statement:

Despite the most radical reduction in assessed valuations in the city's history, it is my pleasure to inform the owners of real and personal property in the city of a $2.70 reduction in the tax rate for the current year as compared with that of 1932. The assessed valuation of the city for 1933 as determined by the Board of Assessors is $1,780,000,000, a reduction of $110,005,000 from the total of valuations fixed in 1932. This reduction is the largest to be made in the history of the city, exceeding by approximately $40,000,000 the reduction made last year by the assessors. The valuation figure determined by the assessors for 1933 is the lowest figure to prevail since 1923, and also represents an approximate reduction of $200,000,000 from the total of valuations fixed in 1930, the first year of my present administration.

FAVORABLE FACTORS.

An analysis of the various items and elements entering into the administration of this year's rate discloses the following favorable factors which have materially assisted in lowering this year's tax burden:

Reduction in maintenance appropriations for city, school and county departments.....	$6,561,568 33
Municipal tax rate relief loan.....	3,500,000 00
Federal welfare relief grants.....	1,994,457 31
Increase in estimated departmental revenues.....	934,359 86
Reduction in pension accumulation fund requirements.....	502,339 00
	$13,492,724 50

The following unfavorable factors have offset in part the favorable effect of the items indicated in the previous table:

Decrease in receipts from gasoline tax.....	$1,484,396 52
Decrease in income tax receipts.....	1,311,774 75
Increase in city debt requirements.....	834,373 08
Decrease in corporation tax receipts.....	386,781 94
Absence of special old age assistance item.....	325,000 00
Increase in state tax and assessments.....	187,590 15
Decrease in estimated receipts from auto excise tax.....	175,000 00
Deficit in operation of the Boylston Street Subway Extension.....	77,699 83
	$4,782,616 27

The reduction indicated in the Maintenance Appropriations for city, school and county departments may be attributed to the salary and wage reduction of 5 per cent, 10 per cent and 15 per cent ordered under date of April 21, personnel savings through the nonfilling of vacancies, and the elimination of positions wherever possible, curtailment of nonessential departmental activities, taking advantage of favorable market prices by anticipating departmental needs for equipment, supplies and materials, and by improved purchasing methods.

Under the provisions of chapter 307 of the Acts of 1933 the Emergency Finance Board of the state has authorized the city to borrow $3,500,000 for the relief of this year's tax rate. To offset this loan it is estimated that the city will receive during the three subsequent fiscal years approximately $6,000,000 as its share of the receipts from the taxing of dividends of domestic corporations, the method devised by the Legislature for the liquidation of loans authorized under chapter 307.

CONGRESSIONAL AID.

The action of Congress in enacting legislation providing for the disbursement from the Federal treasury to local communities throughout the country of grants representing $1 for every $3 disbursed for public welfare has made possible an approximate reduction of $2,000,000 in the determination of the tax rate of this year. This amount covers the allotment to the city on the basis of its welfare and relief disbursements for the first half of the current year.

The increase in estimated departmental revenue is due, first, to the additional revenue which has accrued to the city through the legalization of the sale of beer, and second, because of estimated increased reimbursements by the state for public welfare and soldiers' relief disbursements.

The reduction in Pension Accumulation Fund Requirements is made possible by the enactment upon petition of the Mayor of chapter 243 of the Acts of 1933. Under the provisions of this act the term for the raising of the Pension Accumulation Fund fixed in the original Retirement Act has been lengthened, thus permitting a reduction in the amounts to be included annually in the tax levy for this purpose.

According to certificates received by the assessors from the Commissioner of Taxation, the city's share of revenues to be disbursed by the state in November for the corporation, income, and gasoline taxes, will be $3,182,953.21 less than the amount received in 1932.

The increase in city debt requirements may be attributed largely to the increase in the amount of temporary loans which it has been necessary to borrow this year in anticipation of taxes, together with the abnormal interest rates charged on such loans by the banking interests of the city.

In last year's tax levy a special item for old age assistance was shown, because of the fact that up to May 1 of last year the state reimbursed municipalities for the full amounts expended for old age assistance. This year the state is reimbursing municipalities on the basis of one third of approval disbursements, and the estimated amount to be received under this head has been included in the estimated departmental receipts of the Public Welfare Department.

STATE TAX INCREASED.

The increase in state tax and assessments may be directly attributed to the increase in the city's share of the Boston Elevated Railway operating deficit. The city's share in this deficit for the current year was $1,791,226.02, or approximately $600,000 in excess of that of 1932.

The actual assessments by the city during the first five months of the current year for the auto excise tax were $152,000 less than during the similar period in 1932. Because of this fact, a falling off in revenue from this source of $175,000 is estimated during the entire year. This reduction has been caused by a falling off in the number of motor vehicles registered, and also by a weakness in the auto excise tax law which provides that receipts from this tax shall be disbursed to the municipality in which vehicles are registered. Since automobile insurance rates are lower in neighboring communities than in Boston, a large number of cars owned by Boston residents are registered each year outside the city limits in order to take advantage of the lower insurance rates.

Under the provisions of chapter 394 of the Acts of 1930 the city is required to raise this year by taxation approximately $77,700, this amount representing the rental on the Boylston Street Subway Extension which the Elevated Railway was unable to meet from operating revenues.

The following table indicates in comparative form the various items entering into the determination of the tax rates for 1932 and 1933:

* Included in city income for 1933.

In fixing the tax rate for 1932 an overlay equivalent to 2 per cent of the net requirements was used. This year in view of the marked falling off of real estate values and the number of petitions for abatement pending before the State Board of tax appeals, it has been deemed wise to use an overlay amounting to 2½ per cent of the net requirements.

SUBWAY LONG SOUGHT.

In 1926 the Legislature passed an act providing for an investigation by a special commission consisting of the chairman of the Department of Public Utilities, the chairman of the Transit Department and a member of the Board of Trustees of the Elevated on the question of purchasing certain elevated structures used by the Boston Elevated Railway Company. This commission reported that before these structures should be eliminated certain rapid transit extensions should have the precedence as follows:

1. Changes in Governor square.
2. Station at Charles and Cambridge streets.
3. Huntington avenue extension from Jamaica Plain and Brookline Village to Park Street Subway.

The first two have been completed.

In December, 1926, the Division of Metropolitan Planning recommended a subway under Huntington avenue connecting with the Tremont Street Subway at Broadway and extending via the Tremont Street Subway and East Cambridge Viaduct to Lechmere square.

On December 16, 1930, at the first meeting of the Metropolitan Transit Council, composed of all the Mayors and Chairmen of the Boards of Selectmen in the Metropolitan Transit District, it was voted that the Council petition the Legislature to construct two new rapid transit routes, being designated as Route 1 and Route 2. Route 1 provided for a subway from South Huntington avenue to Stuart street; thence along Stuart street and Columbus avenue and under Boston Common, with a new connection between Park street and Bowdoin square; thence by the present East Boston Tunnel with new construction to Day square, East Boston.

Under chapter 306 of the Acts of 1932 the city was authorized to construct the Huntington Avenue Subway from Gainsborough street to Park street. This act was accepted by the City Council and approved by the Mayor, but was not accepted by the Directors of the Boston Elevated Railway Company.

On December 7, 1932, the Trustees of the Metropolitan Transit District and the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, sitting jointly in accordance with the provisions of chapter 47 of the Resolves of 1932, recommended that the Metropolitan Transit Council petition for legislation to provide for two new Routes 1 and 2, Route 1 being the Huntington Avenue Subway above referred to.

The Legislature of this year enacted chapter 366 of the Acts of 1933, being an act enabling cities and towns to secure the benefits provided by the National Industrial Recovery Act. Part two of this act authorized the construction of a subway to be connected with or to be an extension of any existing subway. This legislation was accepted by the City Council of Boston on August 7, approved by the Mayor on August 8, and accepted by the Board of Directors of the Boston Elevated Railway Company on August 10.

WOULD BENEFIT MANY.

The number of people residing contiguous to this proposed extension is approximately 100,000, or about the same population as the cities of Cambridge, Lynn, Lowell and Somerville.

General Manager Dana of the Boston Elevated Railway Company advises that the running time from the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital to Park street, which actually takes forty-four minutes because of traffic congestion, will be reduced to twenty-six minutes, a reduction of about 40 per cent.

The need for improved rapid transit for the Roxbury, Jamaica Plain and Brookline districts, and the employment of thousands of men are not the only purposes to be served by the proposed subway. A serious problem has been created recently by the new Worcester Turnpike, which is rapidly nearing completion. A huge volume of motor traffic will be thrown into Huntington avenue, and it is only a matter of a few months when traffic conditions will become even worse on Huntington avenue than they were in Governor square before the completion of the recent subway extension at that point.

There can be no free flow of traffic along Huntington avenue unless the reservation containing the tracks and poles is removed. The Board of Street Commissioners has statutory authority to compel the Elevated Railway Company to remove the reservation and bring the tracks down to street grade, all at the expense of the Elevated Company. This change would cost the Elevated Company at least two hundred thousand dollars, a waste of money if the subway were later constructed, and while the removal of the reservation would be an improvement it would only partly solve the problem, as nothing short of the removal of the cars as well as the reservation would permit free traffic flow along this important highway. Thus, in addition to providing greatly needed rapid transit facilities and employment for several thousand men, the proposed subway would mean the elimination of traffic obstructions on the surface of Huntington avenue and result in an excellent thoroughfare connecting the Worcester Turnpike and the city proper.

PUBLIC WELFARE DEPARTMENT RALLIES TO ATTACK BY EMERGENCY FINANCE BOARD WHICH CHARGES WASTE, ETC., IN LETTER TO MAYOR CURLEY—DEPARTMENT HAS PERFORMED GREATEST PUBLIC RELIEF WORK OF ANY CITY IN COUNTRY—EVERY POSSIBLE MEANS TAKEN TO ASSURE JUSTICE AND WORTH OF EACH CASE AIDED—BOARD DECRIES LOOSE AND IRRESPONSIBLE AND BASELESS ASSERTIONS IN FACE OF FACTS.

Officials of the Public Welfare Department, on September 6, issued the following statement in reply to a letter addressed to Mayor Curley by the State Emergency Finance Board:

In the last year and one-half the Public Welfare Department of the city has been subjected to a series of unfair and unfounded criticisms and attacks. The statement yesterday of the Emergency Finance Board that "Welfare expenditures of Boston should have had, and must have in the future, greater scrutiny" is evidently a continuation of this attempt to besmirch the record of a municipal department which is credited throughout the country with having performed the greatest public relief work ever accomplished.

The language of the State Board would make it appear as though the Public Welfare Department was disbursing public moneys in a most wasteful manner. It is difficult to understand what degree of "greater scrutiny" can be demanded than the system which has been in operation in the Public Welfare Department for a considerable period of time. Applications for relief are investigated in the field by a corps of approximately two hundred investigators and visitors. Every bank in the city is circularized with questionnaires to determine whether applicants for relief have any financial assets. Cases on the rolls are being constantly checked and rechecked. Every able-bodied male beneficiary is required not only to work for the relief granted but is also required to report at district offices on days when not officially assigned to work. All children of working age in families receiving relief are also required to report to the district offices. Close contacts with private agencies are maintained in order that no duplication of relief payments may exist. Every possible avenue of investigation is followed in order to make certain that those awarded relief are justly entitled to assistance and help from the city.

The fact that there has been no appreciable reduction in the monthly disbursements of Public Welfare relief should not be taken as an indication that fraud and inefficiency are present in the administration of this department. Employment and pay roll statistics for the state clearly indicate that Boston has not shared in the improvement of industry as have Worcester, Fall River, Lawrence and other municipalities. As a city of diversified industries Boston has naturally lagged behind municipalities where one industry is predominant. This being so, how can it be expected that a marked reduction in Boston's welfare disbursements should result? If employment and wages are not available to the people of a community there is only one recourse and that is relief from the Public Welfare Department.

In view of the marked upward trend of prices the present scale of allowances in the Welfare Department cannot be said to be extravagant or exorbitant. The following schedule, representing the third reduction in allowances during a period of fifteen months, indicates the basis on which relief allowances are figured at the present time:

Families consisting of seven or over.....	$15 00
Families of six persons.....	13 00
Families of five persons.....	12 00
Families of four persons.....	10 00
Families of three persons.....	9 00
Man and wife.....	7 00
Single man or single woman.....	4 00

Out of these allowances the recipient must pay rent, light, and purchase food supplies. Any reasonable-thinking citizen will admit the above schedule of allowances provides merely for the bare existence of the persons receiving aid. Would the members of the Emergency Finance Board advocate a further reduction in this schedule of allotments? Would they insist on depriving those who are in need, through no fault of their own, of the bare necessities of life?

The records of the Public Welfare Department indicate, while in recent months there has been a tendency for the number of new applications to fall off, nevertheless, the number of reapplications, that is, those persons who were once on the rolls and who were dropped because of securing temporary employment, have increased. Because of this fact there has been no appreciable reduction in the case load of the department. Municipal officials are not responsible for existing industrial conditions, but they are responsible for alleviating want and suffering in the community. Boston's record in this respect has been outstanding and no biased or disparaging criticism will cause the present administration to change its welfare and relief policies.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S N. R. A. PROGRAM GREATEST POSSIBLE BOON TO LABOR IN COUNTRY, MAYOR CURLEY TELLS AUDIENCE IN LABOR DAY BROADCAST, DURING EXER- CISES ON BOSTON COMMON.

Mayor Curley, speaking at Labor Day exercises, over Station WNAC, on September 4, said in part as follows:

President Moriarty and Friends of the Radio Audience.

What President Moriarty has said is true. This is a great day for organized labor but it is in my opinion even a greater day for humanity and for the United States of America.

When we consider the progress made by organized labor in a period of just a little more than a half-century and when we appreciate what the future will unfold to organized labor in the half century that is immediately ahead of us, we have some realization and we have a higher appreciation of just what this necessary and potential asset to American life and living means not only in the present but must mean in the future.

A little over a half-century ago a small group of men, many from our own City of Boston, established the organization of labor for the protection of the rights of the worker. We were emerging from a condition of serfdom and yet the conditions as they affected labor were a little better than the serfdom that obtained before the close of the Civil War. It required some great outstanding agency in the world to clothe with that dignity and that character that was necessary to give standing to organized labor and remained for the head of the Catholic Church, that distinguished and scholarly and truly great spiritual leader, Pope Leo XIII, in an encyclical more than forty years ago, given to the world, to direct the attention of the world to the responsibility not only of the employee but of the employer. Through that encyclical he pointed out the necessity for cooperation for a better spirit of justice and a broader spirit of human kindness, understanding, character and dignity which became in part the chief asset of organized labor in the United States and throughout the entire world.

When we consider the struggles and the vicissitudes and the suffering borne by representatives of this great organization working solely for the welfare of humanity, finding opposition not only in the ranks of the employer but not infrequently in the ranks of its beneficiaries, the workers in America, finding not infrequently a venal judge and being harassed in the event of strike by the organized forces of society, not only by the police and by the strike breakers but by the militia and still carrying on, and then consider what has taken place in the last six months and try to visualize if you will, just what the future has in store; truly a new deal not for organized labor alone but for humanity, is dependent upon the success of the N. R. A. program as enunciated by the President of the United States.

When we consider that in Great Britain alone ten million women are employed at gainful occupations and more than half of the entire number in industrial pursuits and then consider that Great Britain in population represents one third of the population of the United States then we may understand what the competition of women in industry as against men has grown to in the last twenty-five years in the development of the machine age. When we consider that in the United States nearly three million children under sixteen years of age are employed in industrial occupations thereby creating a competition between man labor and when we consider that by one courageous act of the President of the United States in our day has won for humanity the great fight which organized labor and every thoughtful citizen believed was necessary to the continued existence of America, in a single day ending child labor and ending in large measure the competition of child and woman labor outside of the hours of the daytime in industry.

When we consider this contribution alone, plus the project of a shorter working day and a five-day week, will provide sufficient additional opportunities to take up the slack and make possible opportunities of employment for the nearly eleven million men who are today without employment in the United States of America, we have some appreciation of our own individual responsibility and duty.

There will be found a certain element in every section of the country opposed to the N. R. A. There will be found that powerful financial group that regard the individual in industry as they regard a nut or a bolt or a washer in a machine, simply a necessary part that when it ceases to serve and function properly is to be thrown upon the social scrapheap and abandoned.

The program of Roosevelt gives courage, hope and inspiration and confidence to the heart of every American and should result in an added measure of happiness in the home and a larger and more complete measure of patriotism in the land.

If it is possible through the support of the N. R. A. to end the flooding of American markets with prison and pauper made goods, if it is possible through the N. R. A. program to end the competition of child labor, and of the labor of women at night in industry, and if it is possible through the N. R. A. to end industrial disputes, to end the savagery of the strike and of the lockout and the misery and the brutality of the blacklist and if through the N. R. A., under the inspired leadership of Franklin D. Roosevelt, we can proclaim to the world that child labor will not be permitted in America, that the sweatshop will no longer be allowed to rear its ugly head in America, that the guarantee of liberty and equality of opportunity in America for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness is to be the lot of the American people through the N. R. A. it is clearly the duty of every American to patronize only those establishments that abide by the provisions of the N. R. A. and stand ready to hold up the hand of Franklin Delano Roosevelt in the greatest economic and social program ever inaugurated in the history of America.

We revere the memory of the sainted emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, for his destruction of the slavery of the black man. The success of the N. R. A. will mean that the world will honor and revere the name Franklin D. Roosevelt as the emancipator of the child and woman in industry.

MAYOR CURLEY PAYS GLOWING TRIBUTE TO THADDEUS KOSCIUSZKO, POLISH HERO, AT DEDICATION OF WAR VETERAN POST'S DEDICATION OF COLORS—ADDRESSES GATHERING AT FANEUIL HALL CEREMONIES.

Mayor Curley, speaking at the dedication of post colors of the Thaddeus Kosciuszko Post 2091, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at Faneuil Hall, on September 3, said in part as follows:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen.

It is an exceeding pleasure to come here and extend the greetings of the city to a group that represents an element in the life of America that has never contributed a traitor to any cause and whose sons and daughters have been most patriotic in every crisis—the Polish people in America.

One of the real sources of regret to me was my inability to accept of the tender made to me during the present year by the President of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt, to represent the United States Government at Poland. As to the necessity and wisdom of that step, I have only to point out to you that never in the history of the American nation has a greater crisis ever been in evidence than during the past four years.

From the first day of November, 1932, to the first day of May, in 1933, one thousand American cities were forced into a condition of insolvency through inability to meet their obligations. Three states of the Union found it necessary to repudiate maturing obligations for the first time since the Civil War. The number of cities verging on bankruptcy was about one hundred a week during the month of May and during the month of June. At the Congress of Mayors held in Washington, when a visit was made to the White House, Mayor Hoan of Milwaukee stated that there were only two major cities solvent in the entire United States—the city of Milwaukee and the City of Boston. Since that time the treasurer of the city of Milwaukee departed with about $500,000 cash, which was in the treasury of that city, so that if his statement was correct, there is only one city in the United States solvent at the present time—the City of Boston.

I trust you will appreciate my position. The people of Boston had honored me for a third of a century. That was a long period of time—more than thirty-three years in high and honored office. They had elected me on three occasions as Mayor of the city and I am now serving my twelfth year as Mayor. Every honor I have enjoyed in life may be traced to the generosity and wisdom of the citizenship of Boston. I would be remiss in my obligation and unfaithful to my trust if I left them in the hour of trial, when 125,000 men, women and children were dependent upon the public treasury for their very existence.

APPRECIATED POLISH AMBASSADOR TENDER.

I have a profound appreciation of the importance of the post tendered me by the President of the United States and I have a realization of the seriousness of the situation which at present confronts the people of Poland. With Russia on one side proclaiming Bolshevism and with the Nazis on the other side and Poland in the center there is no telling what the future has in store for that section of the world. Whatever the future holds in store, I am quite certain that the people of Poland, by fortitude and by courage and by adherence to high ideals under most trying circumstances, should have the sympathy and support of the entire world.

Persons of Irish blood and extraction are accustomed to regarding the seven centuries of persecution suffered by the people of Ireland as the greatest endured by any persons or nation in the history of the world, but it is only necessary to read the history of Poland to get some realization that great as have been the sufferings of the people of Ireland they are as nothing when contrasted with the sufferings of the people of Poland, and through it all, like the Irish, they have remained true to two great ideals, the ideals of country and faith, and if ever people by fortitude, courage and adherence to ideals have merited the confidence and good will of the people of the world it is the people of Poland.

We in America like to conjure with the names of Kosciuszko and Pulaski. Sometimes I wonder if the people of America know anyone of Polish distinction besides Kosciuszko and Pulaski. Their contribution was notable. They were the men who assisted in teaching the elements of discipline and of organization and of military tactics to the untrained yeomanry who had rallied with Washington for the establishment of the American Republic.

I sometimes wonder if we do not overlook that even greater contribution that the pure womanhood of Poland and the hardy manhood of Poland have made to our great common country. Go up to the western part of our own Commonwealth, that fertile section of New England, the Connecticut Valley, and you will find great tobacco farms and onion farms among the most profitable, occupied by the Polish people, who have taken them over when other citizens found it impossible to run them profitably. They have made this possible by intelligence and thrift and by the hardest character of labor.

LOYAL TO COUNTRY.

It was a most pleasing sight on coming to the platform on my entrance into the hall to find so many men wearing the uniform of Uncle Sam. I recall coming to this hall during the period of the World War to a reception tendered the Polish citizens of Boston, and there were some people who were fearful that the division of Poland engineered by Anne of Austria and Catherine of Russia and Prince Frederick William that they might be disloyal. I heard one of the leading citizens of Boston at that meeting inform the gathering how honored they should be that they lived in a free country and it was a very great pleasure to follow him and tell him that the Polish people enjoyed liberty and were schooled in the arts and sciences and literature and all that makes for the progress of the people before we enjoyed them in the United States of America. They had progressed in arts, sciences and literature until the greedy rulers of Europe saw fit to divide a happy, prosperous country and bring ruin and misery to a prosperous citizenship. While they destroyed the great Republic of Poland they never have been able to destroy the courage, character and spirit of the Polish people.

Out of the World War came a new Poland, made possible through the leadership and courage of the lamented war-time President, Woodrow Wilson, who at all times had been a friend of Poland.

I can recall a meeting in Tremont Temple during the World War, a meeting to arouse sentiment addressed by that great leader of the Polish people, Paderevski, and I can recall him bringing that vast audience to its feet not once but ten times with his force of oratory, with his proclamation of the rights of Poland, and the suffering and the wrongs endured by the people of Poland. I can recall one of the most interesting stories that ever came to my attention, the story of the lifting of the siege of Vienna by John Sobieski, venerated and honored in every section of Europe because he did that which everyone believed impossible, defeating and decimating an army of 700,000 with less than 40,000, his rallying cry being "Not for our glory, O Lord, but for Thine," that has ever been the inspired slogan of the Polish people.

No one can foretell what the future has in store for the Polish people. In our own country the prospects were never brighter. They have those inherent traits that made for progress, thrift, sobriety, industry. So long as they maintain those homely virtues, so long will progress be assured in our own country. What the future has in store on the other side of the ocean there is this to be said, the American people learned during the World War that there was one element of the population that could be relied upon to do its part without fear of a traitor, the Polish people. I was asked to go to Black Rocks Plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Company, near Buffalo, New York, and speak to the Polish people during the World War. They were fearful here that the Polish people might be disloyal during the period of the war. I arrived there on a Sunday morning and from my room in the hotel I heard martial music. I went downstairs to see what was the occasion and saw a large body of marching men in bright new uniforms, and upon inquiry I was informed that it was a regiment of Polish citizens, 1,200 in number, who were outfitted from head to foot with uniforms provided by the Polish women and men of the city of Buffalo. I came back here and told the leaders of the Red Cross movement and the other organizations, "You need have no fear of the Polish citizens; they are the most loyal to be found in America." It was a natural position for them to occupy because, through all of the persecution and all the oppression such as no people have suffered in equal measure with the people of Poland, they never once deviated from the great ideals of faith and country.

God grant in his infinite mercy and wisdom and justice they may continue to adhere to these ideals, and that peace, progress and prosperity may be the lot of every Polish citizen throughout America and the world.

COMMISSIONER EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Police Headquarters.

DEAR MR. COMMISSIONER,—In behalf of my brother Harry and myself I wish to thank you and each and every member of the Boston Police Department for their kind expressions of sympathy, and for their wonderful aid and cooperation during the recent loss of our dearly beloved father.

You are in command of the most wonderful police unit in the world and my brother and myself shall never forget the fine spirit of all concerned. Their actions and demeanor have certainly helped to lighten our burden.

Very gratefully yours,

ARTHUR J. CROWLEY.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 273.

Sergt. Ibrí W. H. Curtis of the Police Commissioner's office having arrived at the age of sixty-five years and having performed faithful service in the Police Department for thirty-nine and three-twelfths years, it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that the said Sergeant Curtis be retired from active service and that his name be placed upon the departmental pension roll with pay at the rate of twelve hundred and fifty (1,250) dollars per annum (payable monthly), said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired, previous to a fifteen per cent reduction in pay, which went into effect, April 21, 1933.

Note.

By chapter 121, Acts of 1933 (having to do with reductions in pay), provision is made for the retirement for those in a non-contributory system, at half of the rate of compensation received before such reduction.

General Order No. 274.

Patrolmen John F. Petitti and Edward F. Shea, both of Division 6, are commended in General Orders and each given two days' additional vacation for meritorious police duty performed on August 22, 1933, in connection with the pursuit and capture of three persons whose suspicious actions in an automobile attracted the attention of the officers while cruising on the division.

The officers gave chase in which Patrolman Shea discharged his revolver in an attempt to halt the car, which was finally overtaken and the three occupants arrested. Upon searching the car, a revolver and a supply of bullets were found. Upon further investigation it was found that the car had been stolen in Lynn, Mass., and it developed that these men were fleeing from a holdup of a drug store on Division 9, where they had fired a shot at the proprietor. All three were on parole from the Shirley School.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the alert and effective police duty performed by these officers in the capture of these desperate characters.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 275.

Patrolmen Robert J. Dalton and Edward R. Brabazon, both of Division 6, are commended in General Orders for their prompt and effective assistance rendered on August 22, 1933, in connection with the capture of three persons who were attempting to escape in a stolen automobile and who were being pursued by Patrolmen Petitti and Shea in a cruising car.

The commissioner is glad to recognize this excellent cooperation given by the officers in assisting in the capture of these desperate characters, which reflects credit on the department.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

DEPARTMENT HEADS TO GET NEW BUDGET FORMS FOR ESTIMATES. CONFERENCE ON TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, TO INAUGURATE CHANGE.

Upon September 6, the Mayor issued the following statement and circular:

The budget estimate forms for 1934—distribution of which was commenced today by the Budget Department—reflect a distinct departure in size and form from the estimate sheets used in prior years. The old forms because of their size were very cumbersome and unwieldy. The use of a long-carriage typewriter was necessary if the sheets were to be typed and it was most difficult to prepare clear carbon copies. Because of this fact many departments prepared their estimates in long hand. The new forms have been reduced in size so that they may be typed in any standard typewriter. Sufficient space has been allowed for the various item estimates so that the preparation of carbon copies will present no serious problem.

On the old forms departments were required to list departmental expenditures for the three years prior to the year for which estimates were submitted. This information will no longer be required from the departments. Instead, forms indicating the expenditures of five prior years will be prepared annually in the Budget Department. As the estimate forms for the new year are returned by departments, these prior year forms will be attached thereto. Departments will be required, in the preparation of their explanatory budget letters, to use bond paper of the same size as the estimate forms. In this manner all the information pertaining to departmental estimates (the estimate forms, data of prior year expenditures, and explanatory letters) will be kept together. Space has been provided on the new forms for the signature of department heads, thus fixing direct responsibility upon these officials for the submission of budget estimates.

A conference of department heads and budget officials will be held in the City Council Chamber on Tuesday, September 12, at 1 p. m., at which time the Budget Commissioner will explain in detail the changes which have been made in the forms and the procedure which will be followed in the preparation of budget estimates for 1934. This conference has been arranged owing to the fact the old forms, which have been discontinued, have been in use, with minor modifications, since the adoption of the segregated budget system in Boston in 1916.

CIRCULAR LETTER NO. 25.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

BOSTON, September 5, 1933.

To the Heads of Departments, including County Officials.

GENTLEMEN,—The forms to be used in the preparation of departmental budget estimates for the year 1934 are now available, and may be obtained at the office of the Budget Commissioner, Room 47, City Hall. These forms should be secured at once and preparation of budget estimates for the new fiscal year started immediately.

Departmental estimates are to be returned to the office of the Budget Commissioner in accordance with the following schedule:

1. Departments whose estimates are $100,000 or under must submit their estimates on or before October 2, 1933.

2. Departments with budget estimates between $100,000 and $1,000,000 must submit estimates on or before October 16, 1933.

3. Departments with estimates in excess of $1,000,000 must submit their estimates not later than November 1, 1933.

It is my earnest desire that the above schedule be strictly followed by department heads in the submission of their departmental estimates.

The form in which the budget estimate sheets for 1934 have been prepared is distinctly different from that of former years. Because of this change, it has been deemed desirable to hold a conference of department heads and budget officials in the City Council Chamber at 1 p. m. on Tuesday, September 12, 1933. At this conference the Budget Commissioner will describe the new forms and instruct those officials present as to the proper methods of procedure in preparing departmental estimates. Because of the importance of this conference, it is desirable that every department be represented.

The salary and wage reductions which were ordered under date of April 21, 1933, are effective until December 31, 1933. The Legislative Act (chapter 121 of the Acts of 1933) authorizing these reductions provides that "the Mayor taking office on January 1, 1934, may, by executive order, continue in effect" the schedule or reductions now existing. Because it is impossible to predict at this time just what action may be taken by my successor in the office of Mayor, department heads are instructed to prepare two sets of Schedule A forms, one set to reflect the basic cost of departmental personnel, that is, every position to be estimated at the salary and wage rates prevailing before April 21, 1933, and the other set, to reflect the reduced cost of departmental personnel, that is, every position at the salary and wage rates now prevailing. In short, departmental heads will be required to prepare three sets of estimate forms for 1934, one set covering general budget items, and two sets, covering personnel items.

While the responsibility for the preparation of the 1934 budget will devolve upon the Mayor taking office on January 1, 1934, nevertheless, I feel it incumbent upon me, in view of existing conditions, to point out to department heads the necessity for using the utmost care in the preparation of departmental estimates. Every departmental head should make an individual intensive study of the needs of his department to the end that reductions and savings over the allowances for 1933 may be affected wherever possible.

In view of the fact that higher prices for equipment, supplies, and materials, will undoubtedly prevail in 1934, it is desirable that all department heads confer with the Superintendent of Supplies during the preparation of their estimates to the end that intelligent estimates may be prepared.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MUST ADVERTISE CONTRACTS.

His Honor the Mayor approved the following orders after a conference with the Corporation Counsel, City Auditor and the Superintendent of Construction of the School Buildings Department and has advised the Superintendent of Construction of the School Buildings Department that it will be inadvisable in the future in existing contracts, provided they will permit of delay, to make additions to existing contracts in the future since the interests of the city are best concerned by public advertising and competitive bidding:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request permission to award, without advertising, in the sum not to exceed $1,250 collapsible gates and grilles in the Hyde Park High School, in ten locations, to P. J. Dinn & Co. of Boston.

This installation is at the express request of the Superintendent of Schools. The gates are to be used during afternoon and evenings when the Evening Centers meet, under the Extended Use of Schools. They are to cut off certain portions of the building from those who frequent the hall and gymnasium and to save damage to the building. Similar work done at an earlier date on the Washington Irving Intermediate School cost $1,550.

Respectfully yours,

WM. W. DRUMMEY,
Superintendent of Construction.

Approved.

JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully ask permission of your Honor to issue an order of change, making an addition in the sum of $13,500, to the contract to P. J. Cantwell & Son, for the erection and completion of the addition to the Robert Gould Shaw School, Mt. Vernon street, West Roxbury.

This amount is necessary in order to pay for the construction of foundations and walls of a future addition to this building as requested by the Superintendent of Public Schools.

By having the work done at this time while the other construction is going on, the department will be in a position to make a saving which could not be done otherwise.

All this work has been checked by the architect and this department and the price has been found to be reasonable, and I hope this request will meet with your Honor's approval.

Respectfully,

WM. W. DRUMMEY,
Superintendent of Construction.

Approved.

JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

The above contractor is at work constructing a retaining wall at the above school and because of the dangerous condition of the remaining portion of the wall I make this request.

The above cost is in accordance with unit prices in the original advertised contract

Respectfully yours,

WM. W. DRUMMEY,
Superintendent of Construction.

Approved.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

All of this work has been checked by this department and the prices have been found to be reasonable, and I hope this addition will meet with your Honor's approval.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT NEEDS OUR HELP—CITIZENS WANT WORK NOT DOLE, MAYOR CURLEY SAYS IN N. R. A. RADIO BROADCAST FROM CITY HALL STATION—URGES ELIMINATION OF POLITICS BECAUSE THE WELFARE AND VERY EXISTENCE OF MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN, AS WELL AS NATION, IS AT STAKE—CALLS FOR WORK AND WAGES AS PANACEA FOR PRESENT ILLS.

Mayor Curley spoke, on September 11, over Station WNAC, as follows:

The President of the United States, Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt, has inaugurated a program for recovery which is most revolutionary in character. Congress has abdicated all of its powers, so that the President of the United States today occupies in substance practically the same authority and the same powers that are exercised by Benito Mussolini of Italy and Hitler in Germany. This has been found necessary to meet the most extraordinary situation that confronted the American people in the history of the nation.

When President Roosevelt assumed office on the fourth of March, this year, he found every bank closed, he found that during the period from 1930-32 more than five thousand banking institutions had closed their doors, thereby removing from circulation nearly three and a half billions of dollars of the money that business required with which to function, in addition causing the loss of the savings of a lifetime of countless American families. He found industry paralyzed and, according to the authoritative statement of the President of the American Federation of Labor, more than twelve millions of men without employment. It became necessary to embark on a most unusual program.

The agencies of production had so increased in America as a consequence of the necessity for providing for the requirements of the nations with which America was allied during the World War that it was possible in industry to fabricate the entire requirements of the nation for a twelve-month period in seven months. It was likewise necessary in order that the allied nations might be fed that the agricultural areas be extended, with the result that somewhere in the vicinity of 40 per cent more than it was possible for the American people to consume was annually raised in agriculture in the United States. As a consequence of these abnormal conditions, as a consequence of the policy of America's leading industries of establishing branch offices in foreign countries, which were organized to the number of 1,700 by 1928 and, further, as a consequence of the speeding-up process in industry, and as a result of the system of mass production, and as a consequence of the exploitation of women and children in industry, the opportunity for continuity of employment for the ordinary worker has each year been growing less. It became necessary not only to favor and advocate but ultimately compel the adoption of the five-day week and the six-hour day; also it will be necessary, to some extent, to control the operation of automatic machinery.

Public Works Program.

Now then, with a view to supplementing his program, a public works program was inaugurated and recommended by President Roosevelt. Under the provisions of the public works program the Federal Government would contribute to the amount of three billions of dollars to the cities and towns, it being understood that the cities and towns would contribute seven billions of dollars in addition, or a total of ten billions of dollars. In only one state in the Union, so far as I am able to ascertain, has a separate commission been created to supervise the expenditures of the Federal Government. In our own state a commission was appointed by Governor Ely, known as the State Emergency Finance Board, and provided similar authority was taken by other states, it would in substance destroy, vitiate and invalidate the splendid and courageous program of construction that is required to foundation the first provision of the N. R. A. The chairman of that Board announced that his allotment to Boston would be but ten million dollars as against nineteen million dollars to which Boston is entitled under the provisions of the Federal Recovery Program.

With a view to providing work at the earliest possible moment in order to relieve the city of the large public welfare expenditures which has averaged one million dollars a month for the past year and a half, the City of Boston, through its lawfully constituted departments, made investigation and decided that the most necessary improvement from the standpoint of public convenience and public weal and from the standpoint of providing employment for the largest number of persons was the extension of the Huntington Avenue Subway from Copley square to a point in the vicinity of Tremont street. It was estimated that this work would represent an expenditure of eight and one-half millions of dollars and would provide employment for three thousand men for a period of two years, paying the men from $5 to $15 per day according to the work assigned.

MAYOR CURLEY PAYS GLOWING TRIBUTE TO POSTMASTER-GENERAL JAMES A. FARLEY AT LUNCHEON IN HIS HONOR UPON DEDICATION OF NEW POST OFFICE BUILDING — MAKES ADDRESS AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WHERE NOTED FEDERAL OFFICIAL IS FETED — ASKS FOR SPEEDING UP OF UNITED STATES MAILS.

Upon September 9, at Chamber of Commerce luncheon given to Postmaster Farley, Mayor Curley spoke as follows:

Mr. Toastmaster, His Excellency, Honored Guests, Members of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Ladies and Gentlemen.

It is an exceeding pleasure, as Mayor of Boston, to accept in behalf of the citizenship of Boston, this beautiful monument symbolic of the progress of the American nation, and to greet here in historical Boston a most worthy representative of our own illustrious first Postmaster-General,—Benjamin Franklin.

Singular as it may appear, the present Postmaster-General and the distinguished, scholarly and kindly Franklin have many traits in common. Both are interested in a better service for the people. Both rank high in the field of diplomacy. To the memory of Franklin Boston has dedicated within the last ninety days the first and most important municipal printing plant to be found in the entire nation, as a lasting memorial to him, on the site of the spot where his print shop stood in the City of Boston.

COMPARED WITH FRANKLIN.

No individual in the history of the world, with the possible exception of the great and many-sided Italian, Leonardo da Vinci, is comparable to our own Benjamin Franklin. Leonardo da Vinci, renowned as a painter, who gave to the world the Mona Lisa; the inventor of the wheelbarrow; inventor of the freight crane, without which shipyards would be lacking in that very essential for the carrying on of their activities, and industrial construction would lag. Leonardo da Vinci, who gave to the world the canal system, that has contributed so materially to the progress, happiness and prosperity of mankind in every land in the world. Our own Franklin, printer, inventor of the stove, in which some commodities could be burned. Franklin, the greatest contributor of all to the science of the control of electricity; Franklin, to whom we owe so much in our day for the convenience and prosperity, through the control of water power and through the development of electrical energy in every section of the entire world.

Notwithstanding all of these activities of his, although limited in education, he was equally great in the field of diplomacy. However, there is one attribute lacking in the honored guest of today, which Franklin possessed. Franklin was a great lover, and there was no land in the world to which he limited his activities. The honored guest of today, however, differs in this respect from the great philosopher in that his activities and his energies are devoted to one sweet woman, who has an opportunity about once a year to see him due to the exactingness of his office.

Franklin, in his day, laid down a set of rules for the government of the Post Office Department that were so pliable and yet so accurate that regardless of the incompetency of postmasters the Post Office Department would continue to function, regardless of the change of postmasters, every time the administration changed, four years in the case of Republicans and eight years in the case of Democrats, the department will continue to serve most admirably all of the people.

His Excellency the Governor, in his talk referred to Rothschild, in the carrying of news of the defeat of Napoleon at the Battle of Waterloo. When we look back to the days of the pony express riders in America, we have not made much progress in the rapid delivery of mail until the last ten years. Recently, on my return from a trip to Europe, when we were 650 miles from America, in mid-ocean, an airplane was catapulted from the deck of the ship and delivered mail in the city of Chicago twenty hours before the ship reached New York. This is some indication of the progress made in the transportation of mail. With the development of railroad trains, and with the development of the airplane, and with a man of the unusual attainment of the present Postmaster-General, it is not unreasonable to expect that a letter mailed in Brookline on a Tuesday may be delivered in Boston Saturday.

SPEED POSTAL DELIVERIES.

I am wondering if the time has not arrived in the history of our country, when we might undertake the courageous experiment for the more speedy delivery. Certainly, no one wanted a speedy delivery of mail under the four years of Hoover, for every mail contained a bill or a notification of the closing of a bank, but under the leadership of the industrious, capable and humane Roosevelt, we will all work together because it will mean either the receipt of a dividend, or a notification to go back to work. Under those circumstances, I am wondering, if, with the multiplicity of his duties, the Postmaster-General cannot find time to devote just a little thought and a little energy and investigation to the extension of that system of rapid delivery that has so admirably served the people of Boston for so many years, the pneumatic tube system. It would reduce the number of vehicles operating on the streets, and would make for speedy delivery, and it would represent one great forward step in the delivery of mail in America.

In addition to rendering a great service as Postmaster-General, he is rendering an equally great service in restoring to the people of America the liberty they were deprived of twelve years ago, when the Eighteenth Amendment was adopted. He leaves here and goes to Maine this afternoon. It has been said, "As Maine goes, so goes the Nation." Maine was the first state to speak in the Presidential election, and it spoke in no uncertain terms when it was carried for Franklin D.

Roosevelt. As a consequence of the visit to Portland by Farley, it will be our privilege to learn on Tuesday morning that Maine has joined the ranks of the progressive and thoughtful states of the Union, that desire to restore once more liberty to people, and a higher standard of morality for the boys and girls, the future women and men of America.

BROADCAST BY MAYOR CURLEY.

In the construction of the Governor square extension of rapid transit facilities it was possible for the city to reduce the expenditures of soldiers' relief from an estimated amount of $900,000 to about $350,000, and this low ratio continued from June, in 1930, until October of 1932. In October, 1932, the work was completed and within six weeks a great many men found it necessary to apply for aid, through the Soldiers' Relief Department, because of their inability to obtain work elsewhere, so that at the present time the expenditures for soldiers' relief instead of running on a ratio of $350,000 for a full twelve-month period, will run pretty close to one million dollars for the full year. It will be possible for the city to reduce in Soldiers' Relief Department alone the expenditures $700,000 each year, or during the period of work, to save about one and one-half millions of dollars as a result of providing employment for three thousand men, for two years. It would be possible, through the 30 per cent contribution made by the Federal Government to effect a saving of two and one-half millions of dollars and in addition to that materials are today about 10 per cent lower than in 1928 and an additional one million dollars might be saved, or a total of about $5,000,000 on an $8,500,000 expenditure.

APPEAL TO GOVERNOR.

I have appealed to the Governor to intercede with the Board and to have the Board reverse its judgment and I am asking everyone who is listening in on the radio to write to Governor Ely and demand he either remove or confer with that Board and induce them to reverse their judgment on this necessary work.

Now then, one of our morning papers, with a view to throwing a smoke-screen, quoted ad libitum from a report of the Municipal Research Bureau upon which report the Board based its decision, and which report was drafted by a young man serving in the capacity of secretary who was imported here from St. Louis two months ago and who has to be escorted around the city so that he will not get lost. They flayed and criticized our Public Welfare Department. Let me say to you, friends of the radio audience, the City of Boston is the only major city in the United States that has met every humanitarian and every financial obligation during the entire period of the four years of Hoover depression and last six months of semi-uncertainty, and that we have not been parsimonious with persons who made application to the Public Welfare Department. We have given aid first and investigated later, in order that no needy family might go unaided for any period of time. I ask these self-constituted advisers, how much would they cut families receiving aid from the present allotments already low and which is as follows:

Families of seven or over.....	$15 00
Families of six persons.....	13 00
Families of five persons.....	12 00
Families of four persons.....	10 00
Families of three persons.....	9 00
Man and wife.....	7 00
Single man or woman.....	4 00

Out of these allowances the recipient must pay rent, and light and purchase food supplies. Any reasonable thinking citizen will admit these schedules of allowances provide merely for the bare existence of the persons receiving aid. Would the members of the Emergency Finance Board advocate a further reduction in this schedule of allotments, as has been hinted at in the Boston Herald in their leading editorial this morning? Would they insist on depriving those who are in need through no fault of their own of the bare necessities of life upon the recommendation of an imported agent in the employ of the Municipal Research Bureau, who has to be escorted around Boston to avoid being lost in his passing between the Municipal Research Bureau's office and his place of abode.

WELFARE DEPARTMENT LOAD.

The records of the Public Welfare Department indicate while in recent months there has been a tendency for the number of new applications to fall off, nevertheless the number of reapplications, that is, those persons who were once on the rolls and who were dropped because of securing temporary employment, have increased. Because of this fact there has been no appreciable reduction in the case load of the department. Municipal officials are not responsible for existing industrial conditions, but they are responsible for alleviating want and suffering in the community.

Boston's record in this respect has been outstanding and no biased or disparaging criticism will cause the present administration to change its welfare and relief policies. It is true that there has been some indication of a return of prosperity in certain sections of the country and in certain sections of our own Commonwealth. This has been notable in the textile manufacturing industry and the shoe industry but in Boston there has been no great appreciable gain in employment. As a consequence of the Citizens Conservation Corps and the reclamation work, seven hundred single men of Boston were assigned to that work and through that work have been in a position to aid dependent relatives in the city.

There is only one way to foundation and save the Roosevelt program for recovery and that panacea is as old as civilization itself. Everything else has been tried and in the end it is necessary to revert once more to the unfailing remedy of work and wages. We want work and wages for the people of Boston and within thirty days after we receive final approval on the Huntington Avenue Subway extension it will be possible to put three thousand men to work, mostly veterans who served the nation with fidelity, courage and honor and who are entitled to consideration during the present hour of crisis. We owe it to these men and to their families. We owe it to our city to make certain that there will be no further delay and the recommendation for the extension of the Huntington avenue extension be allowed at once so that an opportunity for work and wages with the added opportunity through the distribution of the receipts that will come as a consequence of the work provided for additional thousands in business establishments. The three thousand men at work would be the equivalent of an increase in the purchasing power of the city of $350,000 in a single month. Now, $350,000 to the retail establishments of Boston might mean the difference between success and failure and the employment of clerks and salesmen in large numbers. This is our opportunity. The duty is clear. Let us demand that there be no further delay and that politics be eliminated when the welfare and the very existence of the men, women and children of Boston are at stake as in the present instance.

SUCCESS OF N. R. A. WILL MAKE PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT EMANCIPATOR OF AMERICAN CHILDREN — MAYOR, WITH LEADING CITIZENS AND SCHOOL CHILDREN, INAUGURATES "BUY NOW," "BUY IN SEPTEMBER" PROGRAM TO AID RETURN OF PROSPERITY TO NEW ENGLAND — BIG PARADE STIRS ENTHUSIASM.

With Mayor Curley leading and prominent citizens joining in, thousands of citizens of Boston and children from the public and parochial schools of the city united, on Boston Common, in pledging themselves to make the N. R. A. movement a complete success, with a "Buy Now," "Buy in September" rallying work, that the country may as soon as possible return to prosperity and happiness. All over the city public business was suspended and a half-holiday declared that the event might be made notable and successful. Throngs lined the streets along which the N. R. A. parade passed and thousands of others gathered at the Parkman Bandstand for the exercises and addresses and for the final pledges. At the bandstand Mayor Curley spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Friends,

There has been a greater spiritual element in the administration of the present President of the United States than in any other administration in the history of our country and this was but natural. At no time in the history of America has there been a longer period of depression, greater suffering among the people or a more hopeless outlook than during the last four years and when the leader of our nation took the office on the fourth day of March his address on that occasion was most significant. It expressed the realization and the appreciation of the fact that without the aid of Almighty God there was no hope for relief for the American people, and so he asked in his inaugural message the guidance of Almighty God for himself and the aid of Almighty God for the relief of the American people.

It is fitting that exercises of this character under those circumstances should be opened up by one who represents Almighty God in a great religious faith. He was a little late in arriving here and the chairman, as a consequence, was unaware he was on the platform, so I am going to give way to the Director of the Parochial Schools in the City of Boston, representing his Eminence, William Cardinal O'Connell, the Reverend Richard J. Quinlan.

No man in the last half-century in the life of America has given in greater abundance of service and of the essentials of patriotism than William Randolph Hearst, publisher of the chain of American newspapers, the Boston Evening American and the Boston Sunday Advertiser. In inaugurating this great meeting here for the purpose of buying goods in September and giving preference to American made goods, he has inaugurated the character of campaign that is necessary to foundation in part the great work in which the President of the United States is engaged for the regeneration of industry and for the creating of opportunity for the people of America. I rejoice that the school children of Boston and the teachers who educate the children have been invited to come here and are here in such goodly numbers, for we are all part and parcel of a great movement that marks an epoch in the United States of America. The whole world rejoiced when, through the leadership of the sainted and late lamented emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, the shackles were stricken from the black man without the loss of state to the Union or star to the American flag. The work of Lincoln in America had its reflex in every nation in the whole world and the ending of black slavery in America meant the immediate ending of black slavery throughout the world but there came into the life of America, upon the ending of black slavery a new slavery that good women and men have combated without any great measure of success for a long period of years, that is, slavery that was the accompaniment of the development of the so-called machine age in the life of America. This slavery, which absorbed in industry the wasted bodies of women and of little children, absorbed and wasted and sweated those bodies to build up dividends for the wealthy owners of mills and of factories throughout the country. The fight has gone on for nearly a half-century for the emancipation, if you will, of children and women in America; the fight to end the absorption and destruction in industry of future women and men of America. It has been an unsuccessful fight almost to the present hour, but under the leadership of our great President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, it is an absolute certainty that child slavery in America will be wiped out this year.

So I ask everyone here, more particularly the children, to recite after me the Blue Eagle Pledge:

"THE BLUE EAGLE PLEDGE."

"I promise, as a good American, to do my part for the N. R. A. I will buy where the Blue Eagle flies. I will ask my family to buy in September and buy American-made goods. I will help President Roosevelt bring back good times."

Now, having made that pledge, each and every one of your own free will, let us consider briefly just what that pledge embodies and what the fulfilment of that pledge may mean to the United States of America. The markets of America, for nearly a quarter of a century, have been flooded with the pauper and the prison made goods of the countries of Europe, and strange to say we have developed a desire to buy what we are pleased to term imported articles, unmindful of the fact that they represent in a single year of prosperity more than four and one-half billions of dollars and every single dollar of foreign made goods that is purchased in America means so much less opportunity to the American people to find profitable employment in American industries located in America. We buy them, why? We buy them first because of the fetish of the import, and we buy them second because they are a little cheaper than American-made goods, thus overlooking the fact that we are only depriving some good women and men of the opportunity for a livelihood when we buy these goods.

So let us stick to that end of the pledge wherein we should give preference in every case to the goods made in America and let us have the sale of convict and pauper made goods in America end.

All you children have heard about the sweatshops. I wonder if you know what a sweatshop is? Well a sweatshop is a place where women and children are employed in crowded quarters lacking in every convenience that is essential to the health, paid a starvation wage for turning out a cheap product to be sold to the people of America. The sweatshop could not exist if we had had adequate labor laws and they were honestly enforced in America and President Roosevelt has inaugurated legislation which will allow the boys and girls to continue at school until they are sixteen years of age instead of sweating them and killing them in industry in America. By allowing the boys and girls to continue at school the President will provide increased opportunities for the eleven or twelve million men that are without work in the United States of America. By restricting the employment of women at night in industry, added opportunities will be provided and by reducing the number of working days to a five-day week, by reducing the number of working hours to six hours rather than eight per day, and by controlling in some measure the speeding up process in America we will be able to provide work for the eleven million or more men that are without employment in America at the present hour.

In our own city we find the obstructionists; you will find them everywhere, mostly the banking element, who have proven that as business administrators they are the poorest of any group in America. We had an opportunity within the last week to provide work for three thousand men for three years building a subway under Huntington avenue. The work was necessary and would have improved the transit facilities of the residents of Roxbury, Jamaica Plain and Brookline and provided work for men at the rate of from $5 to $15 per day for two years for service men who have served our nation in the hour of crisis. A committee appointed by the Governor turned down the proposition. I want everyone here to write to the Governor and demand that he either remove that commission or make that commission pass the order for the building of the subway to put the men back to work. Surely the men that responded to the call of country in the hour of national crisis should not be made beggars in the hour of peace. They only ask for work and wages. In God's name let us provide it.

If I appointed a commission and they had acted on a proposition of that character without first consulting me and if they turned down what I believed was right they would get their blue envelope immediately. Now, the Governor appointed that commission. Let him inform that commission as to its duties. Either reconsider their action and approve the order that will take three thousand soldiers out of the ranks of the unemployed and put them to work or remove the commission. It is simple. These are extraordinary times. We are not living in ordinary humdrum days. We are living in a period of evolution that borders almost on revolution in every country in the world and the best way to preserve peace, contentment and happiness in the home and patriotism in the land is to give the people employment. That is all they want. President Roosevelt recognizes it; let us as good American citizens stand by President Roosevelt to end child labor and provide work and wages for every man that is willing to work in the American nation.

FATHER QUINLAN'S ADDRESS.

Rev. Richard J. Quinlan, Director of the Parochial Schools in Boston, spoke as follows at the N. R. A. celebration at the Parkman Bandstand on Boston Common:

Mr. Chairman, His Honor the Mayor, Friends and School Children of the Public and Parochial Schools of the City of Boston.

It is an exceeding pleasure to be here today with you and more particularly as a representative of his Eminence, William Cardinal O'Connell, to join in these exercises in honor of the N. R. A. movement and "Buy in September Movement" and to assist in some measure with the children in an effort to bring about peace and happiness in the United States. Our great President has in mind not only the restoration of prosperity to the American people of this day, but he has in mind the restoration of happiness to the many generations of people that are to follow. It has been well said that in the last analysis the welfare of the child is the highest of all human endeavor and the measure of all human achievement.

We all enter this life to give and to contribute to the happiness of future generations and if we analyze every great movement we will find that its basic and fundamental purpose is to promote the happiness of our people, and so we ask the younger generation, you boys and girls who are gathered here today, to uphold the hands of our great humanitarian President, who is trying to do so much for the welfare of this great land of ours. As I look into your faces I see there the picture of hope and I realize that this great movement to restore prosperity to our country cannot fail, and so I pledge today in behalf of the children of the parochial schools of the Archdiocese, and I believe that I am voicing the sentiment of every real American boy and girl, for the success of the President's movement to restore prosperity, that our country may once more become a land of equal opportunity and justice that may prevail in the relations of man and man and neighbor and neighbor.

URGES RESTORATION OF WAGES TO POST OFFICE EMPLOYEES AT DEDICATION OF NEW BUILDING — MAYOR CURLEY POINTS TO NEED OF THIS AS ONE OF ESSENTIALS TO SUCCESS AND PROGRESS IN 1934.

Mayor Curley, at the dedication of the new Federal Building, in Boston, spoke in part as follows:

Mr. Postmaster, Right Reverend Monsignor Habertin, Postmaster-General, Honored Guests and Fellow Citizens.

It was an axiom of the Greeks that the structural progress of the people might be as easily determined and was as plainly discernible in the character of their public construction as in the written word, and in this splendid monument to the service of the American people, we are exceedingly fortunate in the choice of an architect in the designing of the building, one of international fame and reputation in his chosen field of activity, and who in the designing of this structure has lived up to the fame and distinction so long accorded him, Ralph Adams Cram, of Boston.

I sometimes wonder if the Post Office Department of the United States might not be classified as the eighth wonder of the world. It is notable in all branches of the public service in that it continues to serve with a higher order of efficiency regardless of the coming and going of Postmaster-Generals and of Postmasters. This is only natural for the reason that the First Postmaster-General of the United States was a citizen of Boston and laid out a course of conduct that made it an impossibility for his successors to err in the administration of that high office — our own beloved Benjamin Franklin.

It is an exceeding pleasure on an occasion of this character to have with us the Postmaster-General of the United States, and the General-in-Command of the Democracy, the Honorable James A. Farley. It was fitting that the General be assigned when the original corner stone of the old Victorian structure, that formerly reposed on this site, none other than the saviour of the Union, General Grant, was designated to lay the corner stone.

His Excellency Judge Morton and our beloved United States Senator David I. Walsh have referred to the dignity of the structure and to the appointments, and to the duty that every citizen owes to the Federal Government, for its contribution to Boston, in the way of a post office. I sometimes wonder, however, if back of it all, the most important element in the promotion of efficiency, in the promotion of economy and in the proper conduct of this great service to the American people, is none other than the clerks and carriers, who carry on the work of the Post Office Department. It is a branch of public service where the most exacting of requirements are essential for appointment. A man must not only be physically perfect, but he must be pretty nearly mentally perfect, in order to pass successfully the examination for clerk or carrier. Personally, I believe the most comforting news that has come to the American people and to the men of the postal service was the announcement of the Postmaster-General ending the furlough system for men in the Postal Service.

I anticipated, with every forward looking American, the early return of the saving wage to the people of America, under the splendid leadership of that courageous, humane and broad-visioned President of the United States, Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

I can imagine no greater joy that would come to the heart of the Postmaster-General than an announcement early in 1934 of the restoration of the customary wage to the men in the Postal Service. So with an appreciation of how fortunate America is in the choice of a Postmaster-General, with a realization of the joy that must come to the heart of Judge Morton in the successful culmination of a fight extending over a period of twenty-one years for a modern post office building, in which the courts may be housed in Boston, and with an appreciation that every citizen of Boston contributes in some measure to the ultimate end in which we are all so greatly interested, it becomes my very great pleasure, as Mayor of Boston, to present to the Postmaster-General, on this occasion, a key to the City of Boston; a key that is unique in that it not only conveys the heartfelt appreciation of his great leadership and service, but, in addition, it symbolizes more than any ever manufactured the importance of the part played by him in the restoration of liberty to the American people, in that the handle serves a dual purpose, — it not only removes the cap but also withdraws the cork.

It is an exceeding pleasure to present it to him, and trust that it may bring to him and his the pleasure that is a natural accompaniment of an instrument of this character.

PRAISES WELFARE WORKERS FOR HEROISM.

His Honor the Mayor issued the following for the press:

BOSTON, September 11, 1933.

WALTER V. MCCARTHY, Executive Director, Overseers of Public Welfare.

DEAR SIR, — I desire to call the attention of your Board to the meritorious conduct of two of the Welfare workers assigned to the Airport, namely, Myles McDonough, 498 Sumner street, East Boston; Peter Benerdinelli, 43 Chelsea street, East Boston, who, at the risk of their own lives, jumped in from the bulkhead near the Wood Island side of the Airport and saved a young boy from drowning.

MAYOR CURLEY SEEKS SPACE FOR TRAFFIC BUREAU.

Mayor Curley, on September 13, addressed the following communication to Police Commissioner Hultman:

DEAR MR. COMMISSIONER,—Referring to your letter of September 11, in which you discussed the matter of space in the police headquarters building occupied by the Traffic Commission, your letter does not deny that there is ample unoccupied room in the headquarters for the Traffic Commission even though you desire to use the space at the present time occupied by the commission for police purposes.

Upon mature reflection you will appreciate that it is a serious matter to find suitable quarters for a large city department. I am informed that the Traffic Commission occupies at the present time five offices, and I know of no suitable location where this department could be established on or before October 1.

If, as it is commonly understood, you desire to have the office of the Superintendent of Police and certain of his auxiliaries moved to the space now occupied by the Traffic Commission, would it not be possible that the Traffic Commission could occupy the space to be vacated?

In the interest of economy, I think it would be well to make a survey of the building and see if suitable space cannot be arranged for the Traffic Commission.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

Said highway and the land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken, is bounded and described as follows:

Southeasterly by Vermont street, forty feet; southwesterly by the southwesterly line of said extension of said Perham street as hereby laid out, by two measurements, four hundred eighty-two and 73-100 feet and one hundred six and 50-100 feet; northwesterly by Lasell street, forty feet; and northeasterly by the northeasterly line of said extension of said Perham street as hereby laid out, by two measurements, one hundred seven and 62-100 feet and four hundred eighty-three and 34-100 feet.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

CITY COLLECTOR REFUTES STATEMENT AS GROSS MISREPRESENTATION OF FACTS, THE CHARGE THAT $1,493,579.84 OF 1931 TAXES WERE UNCOLLECTED — CHARGE MADE BY EMERGENCY FINANCE BOARD.

I was astounded upon reading the newspapers Wednesday the report of the Emergency Finance Board wherein it was stated that $1,493,579.84 of the 1931 real estate taxes of the City of Boston were uncollected. This was a gross misstatement of the actual facts.

The actual amount of real estate taxes actually unpaid on that date was $1,144,796.76, but under the statute, I, as collector, am credited with the collection of that amount, inasmuch as $479,502.94 of this amount was purchased by the city at the tax sale which was held three months ago on June 6 and 7, and the balance, $665,293.82, is added under the statute to previous tax title accounts.

Therefore it is readily seen that the actual outstanding taxes for 1931 amount to only $335,804 and consists of personal and poll taxes only. This amount represents one half of 1 per cent (.538%) of the entire 1931 tax warrant, amounting to $62,292,571.61.

Boston's record of collections in recent years compares most favorably with the record of collections in most of the cities of the Commonwealth.

The collection of taxes for the year 1932 in the City of Boston has been most gratifying, as contrasted with other cities in the United States. The total tax levy for the year 1932 was $67,582,640, on which there is outstanding or uncollected at the present time, $9,699,991.43, which is 14.349 per cent as against a much greater uncollected average in the major cities of the United States.

Following table shows clearly the excellent record of Boston in the matter of tax collections when compared with eleven of the largest cities in the Commonwealth.

MAYOR RENEWS BATTLE BY APPEAL TO GOVERNOR ELY FOR HUNTINGTON AVENUE SUBWAY WORK APPROVAL BY EMERGENCY FINANCE BOARD.

Mayor Curley addressed the following communication to Governor Ely on September 13:

HON. JOSEPH B. ELY,
Governor.

YOUR EXCELLENCY,—The Boston City Council, under date of September 11, 1933, adopted an order, copy of which I here submit. This order, adopted unanimously by the Boston City Council, represents the wishes, so far as I have been able to ascertain, not only of the majority of the citizenship of Boston, but of service men's organizations generally.

The reconsideration of the action taken by the State Emergency Finance Board with reference to Huntington Avenue Subway and approval of this project would, as has been pointed out many times, be a substantial contribution to the Recovery program of President Roosevelt.

The people are in need of work, and they want work not dole, and action in conformity with the order adopted by the City Council would make work possible.

Trusting that as a consequence of your intercession with the State Emergency Finance Board they will reconsider their action, thereby permitting of the employment within thirty days of three thousand men, I beg to remain,

Sincerely,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

VETERANS SUPPORT MAYOR TO GET HUNTINGTON AVENUE SUBWAY WORK.

Whereas, The Emergency Finance Board in its wisdom having seen fit to reject the proposal for an extension of rapid transit facilities in Boston; and

Whereas, The construction of this rapid transit facility would provide employment for three thousand men for a period of three years; and

Whereas, There are many thousands of service men at present without work; be it therefore

Resolved, That we, the members of the Massachusetts Department of American Legion, hereby respectfully request his Excellency Joseph B. Ely, Governor of Massachusetts, to arrange a conference at once with the Emergency Finance Board and recommend to that Board that the subway facilities be extended from Copley square to Gainsborough street at a cost not to exceed $6,000,000, since in our opinion the adoption of this revised program would serve a most necessary and useful purpose at the present hour, since, in addition to improving rapid transit facilities, it would provide employment within a period of sixty days for not less than three thousand men and permit of their continuing at work for a period of three years.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 277.

Patrolmen James A. Redington, Harry F. West, Thomas F. Stone, Joseph F. Dever and Francis C. Coleman, all of Division 10, are commended in General Orders for prompt and efficient police duty performed on June 14 in connection with the arrest of four persons who had committed several breaks on Division 10. While on premises to serve a warrant on a man for assault and battery, Patrolman Redington observed several bars of chocolate of a brand sold in chain stores which aroused his suspicion. He thereupon arrested one of the men on suspicion and returned with Patrolmen West and Stone and arrested the others who were still sleeping.

After a period of questioning by Patrolmen Joseph F. Dever and Francis C. Coleman and Patrolman Redington, these men admitted several breaks on the division and one also admitted carrying a revolver, which was found under a pillow.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the alert and prompt action taken by these officers on this occasion and, in addition, Patrolman Redington is given two days' extra vacation.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 278.

Ernest W. Outhet, a signalman in the Police Signal Service of this department, having performed faithful service for twenty-five and seven-twelfths years, having made application to be retired from active service,—the Medical Board provided for by section 18 of chapter 521, Acts of 1922, having certified that the said Signalman Outhet is physically incapacitated for useful service in the Police Signal Service of this department,—it is, therefore, hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that the said Signalman Outhet be retired from active service in the Police Department under the provisions of chapter 402, Acts of the year 1904 (accepted by the City Council, December 27, 1917), as affected by chapter 387 of the Acts of 1930, and his name placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate of one thousand and fifty (1,050) dollars per annum; said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired, previous to a 15 per cent reduction in pay, which went into effect, April 21, 1933.

Note.—By chapter 121, Acts of 1933 (having to do with reductions in pay), provision is made for the retirement of those in a noncontributory system, at half of the rate of compensation received before such reduction.

The retirement of Signalman Outhet, as herein provided, will take effect at 7.45 o'clock a. m., Wednesday, September 13, 1933.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 279.

Whereas, It appears that Patrolman Alfred E. Metcalfe of Division 10 has performed faithful service in the Police Department for eleven and one-twelfth years and that the Medical Board, provided for by chapter 521 of the Acts of 1922, has certified that the said Patrolman Metcalfe is physically incapacitated—it is the judgment of the Police Commissioner that the said Patrolman Metcalfe is permanently physically incapacitated for useful service in the Police Department on account of injuries received in the actual performance of duty as a police officer; therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That, with the approval of his Honor the Mayor, the said Patrolman Metcalfe be retired from active service in the Police Department under the provisions of chapter 353, Acts of the year 1892, as amended by chapter 6, Acts of the year 1920, and chapter 387, Acts of the year 1930, and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate of one thousand and fifty (1,050) dollars per annum, said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired, previous to a 15 per cent reduction in pay, which went into effect, April 21, 1933.

NOTE.—By chapter 121, Acts of 1933 (having to do with reductions in pay), provision is made for the retirement of those in a noncontributory system, at half of the rate of compensation received before such reduction.

The retirement of Patrolman Metcalfe, as herein provided, will take effect at 7.45 o'clock a. m., Wednesday, September 13, 1933.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 280.

A trial board, consisting of Captains McKinnon, Lewis and Fallon, having heard by reference a complaint made by Thomas F. Casey, captain, Division 10, against Colin F. MacKinnon, patrolman, Division 10, for alleged violation of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Absent without leave.

MacKinnon did absent himself from the 5.45 p. m. roll call without permission of his commanding officer and did continue such absence until 10.30 a. m., August 23, 1933,—has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board accepts the plea of guilty made by Patrolman Colin F. MacKinnon and respectfully recommends that he be ordered to perform 105 hours' punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding and recommendation of the Trial Board, and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Colin F. MacKinnon perform 105 hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridge and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.11 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.

VETO OF ANNUITY TO JOSEPHINE MARTIN.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, August 14, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit without my approval order adopted by your honorable body under date of July 31, 1933, providing for an annuity under the provisions of chapter 182 of the Acts of 1930, as amended by chapter 241 of the Acts of 1930, the same to be allowed to be paid to Josephine Martin, widow of Frank L. Martin, late member of the Fire Department and who died on December 1, 1931.

The report as submitted by the Corporation Counsel, based upon the report received from Dr. John G. Breslin, is conclusive and permits of no other action than a veto of the order adopted by your honorable body.

Sincerely,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

August 14, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—You have submitted to me for my opinion and advice the following order of the City Council:

"Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 182 of the Acts of 1930, as amended by chapter 241 of the Acts of 1930, an annuity of $1,600 be allowed and paid to Josephine Martin, widow of Frank L. Martin, a member of the Fire Department, who died December 1, 1931, on account of injuries received in the performance of his duty; said annuity being made up of allowances as follows:

For the widow, Josephine Martin, so long as she remains unmarried, $1,000 per annum.

For each of the following-named children, during such time as he or she is under the age of eighteen or over said age and physically or mentally incapacitated from earning, $200 per annum.

Francis Martin, born July 17, 1925; Eugene Martin, born February 19, 1928; Eileen Martin, born May 17, 1931; and the payments to date from December 2, 1931, and to be charged to the appropriation for Fire Department, Pensions and Annuities."

Before the widow and children of a deceased member of the Fire Department may be entitled to an annuity under the provisions of chapter 182 of the Acts of 1930, as amended by chapter 241 of the Acts of 1930, it must be definitely established that the fireman died as a result of injuries received in an accident in the course of his employment.

I have examined all the medical reports in this case and in every instance a very serious omission is made in these reports. Doctor Riley reports that a fall sustained by the deceased fireman was the direct cause of a mass which ended in his death and that said fall occurred on May 7, 1931. Doctor Bailey, Acting Medical Examiner, accepting the report of Doctor Riley, sustains him in his conclusions.

I have had an investigation made by a member of my own medical staff and he reports to me that Lieutenant Martin entered the hospital on May 6, 1931, a day before the alleged fall, and was examined for some internal disorder. An X-ray taken on May 6, 1931, disclosed the fact that Martin the day before the alleged accident or fall was suffering from a tumor in the pelvis and a diagnosis made on the following day, May 7, 1931, disclosed "a retro-peritoneal sarcoma." In other words, my own investigation disclosed that Martin entered the hospital on May 6, claiming that he was not feeling well, and submitted to an X-ray examination which showed that he was suffering from a cancerous tumor. All this occurred prior to the date of Martin's alleged fall. It is, therefore, absurd for any physician to contend that Martin died as a result of a tumor received from a fall on May 7, 1931, when as a matter of fact the tumor existed prior to that date and was disclosed by an X-ray examination made on May 6, 1931.

I must advise you, therefore, that Martin did not die from injuries received in an accident in the course of his duties but that his death was the result of a tumor or sarcoma which existed for some time prior to May 7, 1931, the date of the alleged accident. I, accordingly, advise your Honor that as a matter of law you must refuse to give your approval to the order of the City Council.

Very truly yours,

SAMUEL SILVERMAN,
Corporation Counsel.

Placed on file.

MARTIN M. LOMASNEY PARK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, August 15, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith for your approval an order to name the new waterfront park now under construction in the vicinity of Charles and Nashua streets, Martin M. Lomasney Park.

This park and bathing beach at the Charles river will unquestionably be of immense benefit from a health and recreation standpoint to the residents of the West End of Boston and it represents what is perhaps the final achievement of a life devoted by the Hon. Martin M. Lomasney to the improvement of the district in which he was born and spent his life. This list of such improvements, in which he had a great part, ranging from the Charles River Basin and Dam to the widening of Cambridge, Charles and Nashua streets, is too long to be recounted in a communication of this kind, but it seems to me to be particularly fitting that this park which is almost entirely due to his industry and influence should bear his name.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Board of Park Commissioners be hereby authorized and requested to name the waterfront park now under construction in the vicinity of Charles and Nashua streets Martin M. Lomasney Park.

On motion of Coun. FITZGERALD the rules were suspended and the order passed under suspension of the rule.

EAR-PHONES, CITY HOSPITAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, August 28, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith communication received from Dr. James W. Manary, Acting Superintendent of the Boston City Hospital, relative to providing ear-phones for the patients at the hospital in order that they may be able to listen to radio programs during their illness, the same constituting a reply to order adopted by your honorable body on July 31, 1933.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Hospital Department, August 4, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—At a meeting of the Board of Trustees held today, a notice was presented from the City Clerk, transmitting order of the City Council whereby the trustees are requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide ear-phones for the patients at the hospital in order that they may be able to listen to radio programs during their illness.

It was voted that when plans are under consideration for the new Surgical Pavilion, the architect will be requested to consider the advisability of ear-phones in this building.

Yours sincerely,

JAMES W. MANARY,
Acting Superintendent.

Coun. KELLY—I wish to rise at this time and ask unanimous consent to make a statement relative to one of the Mayor's messages.

President McGRATH—There is no objection.

Coun. KELLY—Approximately two years ago I introduced an order, and the Council went on record unanimously favoring the installation of ear-phones in the surgical wards, in the wards where the trustees thought it advisable, so that patients at the City Hospital who were forced to stay there for treatment could have a little of the comforts of home, without bothering any of the patients who might be sick. I am glad to see that the Mayor of Boston two years later has accepted one of Councilor Kelly's requests. The only trouble between Kelly and the Mayor is that he was two years late, as usual.

Placed on file.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Hospital Department, August 4, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—At a meeting of the Board of Trustees held today, a notice was presented from the City Clerk, transmitting order of the City Council whereby the Mayor is requested to consider the advisability of requesting the trustees of the Boston City Hospital to air-condition, refrigerate, a section of one of the new hospital buildings.

Yours sincerely,

DRINKING FOUNTAIN, BUCKLEY PLAYGROUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, August 28, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith communication received from Park Commissioner Long relative to the installing of a drinking fountain in the Father Thomas F. Buckley Playground, the same constituting a reply to order adopted by your honorable body on July 31, 1933.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, August 5, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to install a drinking fountain in the Father Thomas W. Buckley Playground.

Rev. Father Thomas W. Buckley Playground is one of the playgrounds in the city which is entirely covered with granolithic. The installation of a fountain which might be used for drinking purposes, but, in my opinion, would be abused to such an extent that it would be out of commission inside of a week, would necessitate the ripping up of this granolithic, and the department would have to restore same, which would make the cost of installing this drinking fountain considerable.

I regret exceedingly I have no funds available at this time for this purpose.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

Long relative to the restoring of floats on the Dorchester beaches, the same constituting a reply to order adopted by your honorable body on July 31, 1933.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to restore the floats on the Dorchester beaches.

Under date of May 3, I wrote your Honor, relative to floats on the beaches, a copy of which I inclose, which is self-explanatory.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

City of Boston,
Park Department, May 3, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to furnish Tenean Beach with a float for the coming bathing season.

I regret exceedingly to inform you that the Park Commission deems it very inadvisable to place a float at this beach. We are removing all floats from the beaches, for the reason that a number of serious accidents have taken place, where persons have dived off at low tide and received permanent injuries.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

TENNIS COURTS, DORCHESTER PARK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 28, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith communication received from Park Commissioner Long relative to the installing of tennis courts in Dorchester Park, the same constituting a reply to order adopted by your honorable body on July 31, 1933.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, August 5, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to install tennis courts in Dorchester Park immediately.

I regret exceedingly to inform you the department has no money available for this purpose. To install additional courts in Dorchester Park, which is very ledgy, would entail quite some expense for blasting and grading.

I regret these conditions exist, as it would be a great pleasure to build these courts if the money were available.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

REPAVING OF STREETS IN WARD 15.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to repave with smooth paving the following streets in Ward 15:

Arcadia park, Arcadia street, Auckland street, Baker avenue, Barry street, Bellevue street, Bird street, Bodwell street, Barry park, Bowdoin street, Bentham road, Blakeville street, Bay street, Columbus place, Cedar place, Cameron street, Clarkson street, Coleman street, Church street, Columbia terrace, Claybourne street, Corona street, Charles street, Corwin street, Cassnet street, Clayton street, Dakota street, Ditson street, Dickens street, Duncan street, Drayton avenue, Downer court, Davidson avenue, Dever street, Draper street, Dahlgren street, Estes avenue, Everton street, Ellet street, Ellsworth street, Fenno place, Fenton place, Fenton street, Freeman street, Freeport street, Fernald terrace, Fox street, Glendale street, Glen street, Geneva avenue, Greenbrier street, Greenmount street, Glover place, Granger place, Greenwich street, Granger street, Harbell terrace, Highland street, High street, Hecla street, Holiday street, Homes avenue, Howe street, Hendry street, Hamilton street, Inwood street, Iowa street, Juliette street, Josephine street, Kimball street, Kane street, Levant street, Leonard street, Lyon street, Linden street, Leedsville street, Longfellow street, Leroy street, Mt. Everett street, Mt. Ida road, Marie street, Montello street, Maryland street, Melvin street, Minton street, Norton street, Navillus terrace, Orchardale street, Olney street, Oakley street, Payson avenue, Percival street, Potosi street, Puritan street, Rill street, Richfield park, Richfield street, Ridgewood street, Robinson street, Roach street, Savin Hill avenue, Shepard street, Stonehurst street, Speedwell street, Stanley street, Saywood street, Trull street, Tovar street, Trent street, Taylor terrace, Ware street, Whittemore terrace, Westwood street, Wilrose street, Westville street, Westville road, Williams park.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I feel called upon at this time to introduce an order asking the Mayor of Boston to repave approximately one hundred and twenty streets in Dorchester which need repaving. The reason I am introducing this order at this time, Mr. President and members of the Council, is because the Mayor of Boston saw fit a week ago to order the street that I have the honor of living on, Topliff street, repaved. I agree with him that Topliff street needs repaving. It is a thoroughfare, and it certainly needs repair just as much as these other one hundred and twenty streets that I have enumerated. But I claim that behind the order to his Public Works Commissioner to repave Topliff street is a sneaky and underhanded meaning. His idea is to embarrass the speaker in whatever contest he may be in this coming November, whether it be city-wide or local, and to attempt to arouse the residents of the other one hundred and twenty streets that need repairing against Kelly. Two years ago he attempted to sneak out on the radio twelve hours before the people of Ward 15 were to vote, and attempt by lies and insinuations to discredit Councilor Kelly. Two years ago the councilor invited the Mayor of Boston by registered letter, a copy of which was printed at that particular time, and the return receipt for which I have now in my possession, if he had any good reason, as a public servant, why Councilor Kelly should not have a second term, to come out before the public of Dorchester as a $20,000 a year public servant and tell the people there why I should not be re-elected. After the expenditure of $30,000 and a sneaky, underhanded speech, the people of Ward 15 went to the polls and allowed me the privilege of carrying every one of the fifteen precincts for re-election, something that was unheard of in that section of Dorchester. The Mayor of Boston was once referred to by a very prominent man in this country as crooked and tricky. I could go a step further, but I want to be a gentleman here. I have some respect for the people that I have the honor of representing, and I think the Mayor of Boston should stop operating in the dark, attempting to belittle the public record of a man who is trying to do his best, whom he cannot get anything on to date—and he has tried hard enough—and the Finance Commission cannot get anything on to date, although they have been instructed to follow me up and down the street for the past four years, with two investigators. Mr. Goodwin is his partner in crime. But I have just come to the time where I am getting sick of being followed around the streets of Boston by the investigators paid by the taxpayers of Boston, in an attempt to get something on me. The Mayor is not going to get away with repaving my street and having the work done right at election time. I understand the job of the reconstruction of the street is going to take two and a half months, just so opponents of mine in a state-wide or local fight can point and say, "All Kelly can do is to have his own street paved. He did not have anything done to the other streets in the other sections of the ward." It is very embarrassing, and many things the Mayor has done he thought were embarrassing to the respectable people of Ward 15, but they always got over them, and about all he could rally to his support in Ward 15 in Dorchester, or any part of Dorchester, in fact, is a bunch of thugs, thieves and burglars. And so I say, Mr. Chairman, I wish this order passed under suspension of the rules, and I want to know what the Mayor has to say when this order is passed under suspension of the rules, calling for the repaving of approximately one hundred and twenty streets in my district, which need repaving just as well as Topliff street, the street where I reside.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

EMPLOYEES OF CONTRACTOR, CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:
Ordered, That the City Hospital Trustees be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to submit to the City Council each week the names and addresses of all men who are employed by the contractor who is erecting the new kitchen and remodeling the old laundry.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I regret very much to have to be compelled to introduce an order of that type. For years it has been the same old battle up here, with nobody paying any attention to it whatsoever—spending millions of the taxpayers' money, and men from every other town and hamlet in the Commonwealth being placed to work except Boston men, the Boston men walking the streets and being forced to go to the employment office or to the welfare. I am referring to this order, and I do not desire to mince any words on it, Mr. President. It was only a short time ago when we checked up on the contract which this same man had for work on the City Hospital—a man who never should have a city contract, a man by the name of Bowen—and we found that of eighty-five men employed in the erection of that building sixty-two of them came from every other section of Massachusetts except Boston. As a matter of fact, Boston men were fired, and fifteen minutes later a man from Methuen or Lynn was placed to work, because of the fact that that man might work 5 or 10 cents cheaper an hour than the Boston man. We have heard Mr. Manning, the chairman of the trustees, say to us time and time again, "I am in sympathy with you, I agree with you that only Boston men should be placed to work, but when they get the opportunity, when this Council gives them the money, then they ignore us entirely." Now, Mr. Bowen is handed a contract for almost half a million dollars, which should place some men to work, but I am very fearful, as he is very unscrupulous, that he will not live up to his specifications. He was more than $30,000 lower on this job than the next lowest bidder, so I fear he cannot live up to his specifications, and that he is going to do the same thing in the erection of this building that he has done in the past. If the trustees are on the level, and they should be, then they will submit to this Council every week a list of the names and addresses of the men that are employed on that building. I say to you, Mr. President and members of this Council, that it is about time, regardless of who is Mayor of this city, regardless of whatever might enter into it, that we absolutely refuse under the present circumstances and situation, to vote a 5-cent piece to any of these contractors who have done what they have done in the past.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CHECK-UP ON EMPLOYEES OF CITY CONTRACTORS.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to check up on all contractors who are doing work on contracts with the City of Boston for the purpose of determining whether or not all their employees are citizens and residents of Boston.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, this is another old story. I don't know how we are going to remedy it. It certainly should be taken care of. I don't care what street you go into, in the City of Boston, where a contractor has a job, the situation is the same. For example, on Hemman street there are nineteen men employed, and not over two can speak the English language, and the same situation exists all over the City of Boston. For the benefit of the Public Works Commission I desire to name a man by the name of Coughlin, who has a contract with the Sewer Department. He has twenty-one men working, sixteen of them living outside of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CLOSING OF CITY AND COUNTY DEPARTMENTS AT FOUR O'CLOCK.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor consider the advisability of closing all city and county departments at four o'clock daily instead of five o'clock as at present.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, in conformity with the policy being pursued by our national administration, and because of the fact that it is almost impossible to grant any more pay to any city, county or even state employees, I am respectfully requesting the Mayor to consider the advisability of closing all county and city departments at four o'clock in the afternoon, instead of five.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

APPOINTMENT OF PERMANENT CLERKS, WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:
Ordered, That the Overseers of Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appoint twelve permanent clerks to take the places of temporary ones now employed in said department.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LEGISLATION FOR QUARTERLY PAYMENTS OF TAXES.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Committee on Legislative Matters of the City Council be requested to petition for legislation making taxes payable in quarterly installments instead of annually, as at present.

Coun. BRACKMAN—My reason for offering this order is our recent experience, where we were called upon to pass upon the expenditure of $3,000,000 for interest indebtedness on anticipation warrants. I believe that if the City of Boston were authorized to collect its taxes quarterly rather than annually, as it now does, it would be unnecessary for the city to borrow in anticipation of its collection of taxes in September. In that way we would eliminate a great deal of expenditure in the way of interest, and I respectfully hope this order will pass.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I might remark that the councilor has introduced an order which should have been law in this city four years ago. The Mayor of Boston does not want such a law. The Mayor of Boston knows that that takes away his graft with the banks of the City of Boston. As the councilor well stated, if taxes were payable quarterly there would be no occasion to pay the First National Bank the enormous amounts in interest for amounts that we are forced to borrow in anticipation of incoming taxes. The Mayor of Boston has had four years to do this—paying a corporation counsel out of the coffers of the city $10,000 a year, paying it to that slippery Sam Silverman, a man that is worth about 15 cents—

Coun. RUBY—I rise to a point of order. The gentleman should confine himself to the order before us and not enter into personalities.

President McGRATH—The point of order is well taken.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I am referring to the $10,000 that is being paid by the City of Boston. Perhaps it is of no interest to my colleague from Ward 14, but it is of interest to the councilor from Ward 15, whose constituents contribute to slippery Sam's salary of $10,000 per year. I say these are some of the things that Mr. Silverman should be interesting himself in. They have a legislative counsel up there, paid $5,000 a year, not by the Mayor of Boston, not by the councilor on my left, not by myself, but by the City of Boston. Those are the things they should be interesting themselves in, instead of how they can maneuver through legislation that will cause the expenditure perhaps of millions of dollars in land grafts. That is the only kind of legislation the present administration is interested in. For four long years they have had that opportunity, and all I can say is that during the coming year perhaps the next Mayor of Boston will go to the Legislature and get the rights that the people of Boston are entitled to, which will necessitate their saving close to $3,000,000 a year that is paid in interest.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT FOR TREATMENT AT CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to enforce the payment of bills for treatment at the hospital in cases where patients are able to pay.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, we have seen our hospital grow to the extent where there are practically fifteen thousand cases treated in the Out-Patient Department a day. Those are the official statistics. I have not these statistics on the patients who are confined in the hospital, but we know, as a matter of fact, that we have been called upon to appropriate considerable sums of money from time to time for the construction of new buildings that are being built there from year to year. I believe that the taxpayers of Boston could be saved considerable sums of money if the Social Service Department of the Boston City Hospital could check up on a great many of these cases that can well afford to pay for the treatment they receive there. A great number of people receive free treatment who own property and could well afford to pay for this treatment, and their treatment affects the treatment given to those who cannot pay. In other words, they cannot give the service that they ought to give, because of the great numbers that daily congest the City Hospital. I believe it would be in the interest of the City of Boston if the Social Service Department there could be enlarged, if necessary and this matter gone into at some length, to make those who can well afford to bear the burden pay their proportionate share of the cost of upkeep of the City Hospital.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I desire to disagree in part with the previous councilor. Any one that is familiar with our social service at the City Hospital can well understand that every individual that is able to pay for it is compelled to pay for treatment at the present time. I have known of cases, and so have you, where the Law Department of the City of Boston has entered suit, and for that reason, Mr. President, I cannot allow myself at this time to vote for it, and I accordingly move that it be referred to the Committee on Hospitals.

Referred to the Committee on Hospitals.

BOSTON ELEVATED TRANSPORTATION STUDY.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor request the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway to make a study of the transportation problem in Boston, with the end in view of providing proper transportation and to change the equipment now used, to modern equipment.

Coun. MURRAY—I would like to offer an amendment to that, that it take in the whole of the city, if acceptable to the councilor.

Coun. BURKE—All right.

President McGRATH—Councilor Burke accepts the amendment.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I submitted this order because of the fact that I have studied to some extent the transportation problem in the part of Dorchester that I represent as City Councilor. During the past two months twenty public improvement associations and civic improvement bodies have contacted me and asked me what could be done in order to make the necessary changes in the transportation system, and to secure, if possible, some modern buses, instead of the antiquated ones they now have in use in Dorchester. I understand that the buses now being used on the Dorchester avenue line, going up to Mattapan Hospital, were purchased by the Boston Elevated as far back as 1921. These buses are the old Mack type, similar in construction to a tank that they have in the army, and similar in their movement along the street. The other day, just to make certain as to the complaints that I received regarding the ride that the people have in those buses, I got on a bus at the Mattapan Hospital and rode to the Ashmont Station, and it reminded me of a time when I was at a carnival and they had an Irish jaunting cart that you could ride on around a route for 10 cents, and it is the greatest ride that anybody ever received. I have ridden down through some of the side streets in Maine, and also some of the side streets in some of the smaller towns of Massachusetts, and without any exaggeration at all the ride you receive here in Boston on the Boston Elevated 1921 Mack trucks has all the rides that you receive on the side streets of those small towns stopped. We all know from a medical standpoint that those people suffering from tuberculosis must have comfort in riding. There is nothing worse for their physical welfare than having them shaken up and tossed around. By the time they get off the car their condition is much worse than when they started. I am asking the Mayor of Boston to take a personal interest in this matter, as it is something that is very important to the City of Boston. I am asking him to order the Trustees of the Boston Elevated to make a study of the transportation problem, and as soon as possible to place on the various bus routes in Dorchester buses that are of modern type, and buses that are fit to be used and fit to be driven upon the streets of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ORDERS.

Coun. GALLAGHER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along North Harvard street, on west side, at Nos. 97, 99, 143, 153, 171, 175, 187 Western avenue; on east side, at Nos. 120, 124, Ward 22, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Coun. POWER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Calumet street, from Tremont street to Hillside street, Ward 10, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Winthrop street, Warren street to Blue Hill avenue, south side, Ward 12, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT TO WAYLAND F. TRIPP.

Coun. RUBY—May I ask that the order for a payment to Wayland F. Tripp be taken from Executive, so that it may be acted on here this afternoon? That is on the petition of Mr. Tripp for reimbursement. It was referred originally to the Executive Committee. I ask now that it be taken from the Executive Committee.

President McGRATH—The question comes upon the suspension of the rules.

The rules were suspended, and the order was recalled from the Executive Committee.

Coun. RUBY—Might I suggest, in answer to the councilor from Ward 4, who a few weeks ago asked whether the petition had received the approval of the Corporation Counsel, that it is in the record at this time that the suggestion of the Assistant Corporation Counsel received the approval of the Corporation Counsel.

Passed under suspension of the rule.
